Mr. Don Dillehay

After 35 years, our school is losing one of our greatest assets. A person who has made history come to life and has put smiles on our faces. He always has a great attitude and is elated to be in class with us. "Mr. D" is a great motivational speaker who has a unique style that cannot be compared to any other. He has helped to shape generations of Beetdiggers and simply cannot be replaced. Thank you so much, Mr. Dillehay. You will be missed!

The 2005 BHS Sagebrush is dedicated to Mr. Don Dillehay

Traditions

Here at BHS some things never change. We value traditions that set us apart.

The first Friday of each month brings this cherished BHS tradition: Cookie Break! Students are dismissed 5 minutes early from 2nd hour to enjoy a cookie and some juice. Rt: Jared Spooner, Chris Cook, Cole Bostrom. Below: Kevin Walker.

Happy Halloween

Another fun tradition at BHS is the Halloween costume contest, which culminates with an assembly/costume parade at the end of the day. Billie Chavez (12) and Chelsea Korbitz (11) were bunnies to Brian Bothwell's (12) Heff. Heidi Brandenburg (11) came as a broken up hospital patient.

Austin (10) and Leisel (12) Balken did a bit of gender bending to win this year's costume contest! Jason Waters (12) came as a scarier, hairier version of Ms. Miller.

Amanda Goss (9), Crystal Meza (12), Brittany Vasquez, (11), Lauren Pulley (9), Reesa Larsen (10), Coree Linker (9), Jamie Christensen (9), Chanelle Samples (12) and Kelsey Dunn (12) enjoy their cookies.

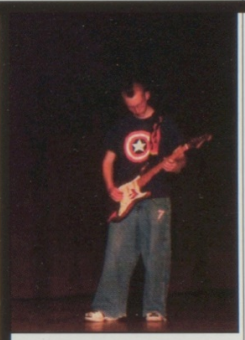

2005 was the year that Cookie Monster went on a diet, in order to set a better example of nutrition for children. The Beetdiggers, however, felt no such obligation.

One new but popular tradition is the Talent Show, sponsored by Student Council. This year's show featured 12 talented acts, including the band Pi Aren't Square - Sturgis Grayson (12), Tiffany Rosengrant (12), Zach Tedford (11), John Sampsel (12) and rock star Mr. Miller. Michael Collins (12) played the national anthem Hendrix-style to open the show.

Out in the Real World

Abby Love(12)found a job that includes two of our favorite things: talking on the phone and pizza!

Ka-Ching!>>

T.J Alvard(12)also found something she likes doing - taking people's money.

<<Biggie Sized Fun>>

Sheryl Robbins(11) and Daniel Lapp (12) enjoy serving up those "Eat Great Even Late" snacks we all love at Wendy's.

BHS students will do everything from serving food to stuffing envelopes to earn some money. Sometimes it's hard, but they come out on top in the end.

<<Ronald's Little Helpers>>

Cora Dunn (11), Raul Sanchez (10), Monica Ordonez (10), Jeannette Aguilar (11) and Amy Bilbey (11) display their excellent customer service skills at Mickey D's.

What would you do with an entire weekend free of parents and rules?

Aaron Bornhoft (12): "I'd leave town myself and make sure to take the phone off of the hook so nobody would know I wasn't home."

Kyle DeHerrera (12): "I'd throw a huge party that would be open to anybody. And just for the occasion, I'd hire a professional DJ and keep the house stocked up on tons of food."

Sometimes it just doesn't go as planned...

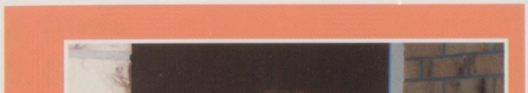

Justin Heistermann (11): " My dad was actually out of town for a whole week once, and I took his '03 Porsche for a little joy ride. I ended up scratching the side pretty badly against the garage. I don't recommend doing anything like that."

Q&A

This year's juniors are the last students required to take Health for graduation. Do you think it should have remained a required course?

"I don't think it should be required because it won't get you any further in life." Simon Binnendyk (12)

"Yes, it should be required because a lot of people are unaware of what's around us. If they know more, they can help prevent bad things from happening." Christina Woodson (11)
