BRUSH
GYMNASIUM - AUDITORIUM

The Brush High
Journalism Department
Presents—
THE 1963 SAGEBRUSH

From the fun and excitement of the Homecoming bonfire, to the hushed stillness of winter's first snow fall, and finally to the silliness of Sadie Hawkin's Day, Brush High students have been continually on the go.

Reminiscing over the past school year one thinks of the fun and excitement that pervaded throughout the year: the first football game, decorating the school Christmas tree, and the State Tournament. All share first place among the memories of the students.

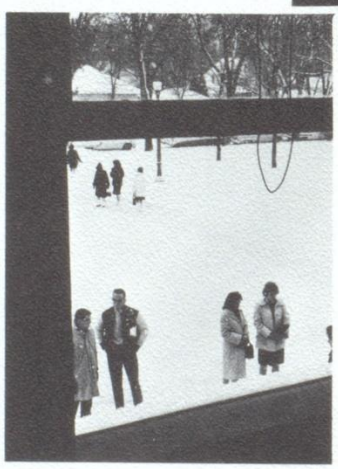

A little bit further back in the mind is the memory of those surprise American History tests, and the time the fumes from the Chemistry lab circulated about the rooms of the school.

The dances, the classes, the work, and the play--all of these are very much a part of the past school year, and all will be equally remembered.

Office help was plentiful this year.

Students wait for friends in light snow fall. One of things that we didn't have many of was snow storms.

YOUR SCHOOL: Brush High

The first major celebration of the year is Homecoming. The wood for the bonfire is gathered by the Freshmen.

Also, the football season comes first in the year. Here Bob Van Dyke goes for yardage in the first home game of the year with Wray.

Class work was and is still the most important object of going to school.

Bob Smith was crowned Mr. Beetdigger at the annual Sweetheart Dance by head cheerleader, Karen Howlett.

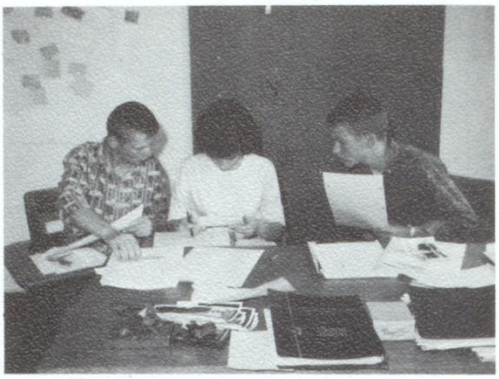

Paul Hulkovich tries his luck at an experiment in Mr. Mercer's chemistry class.

Administration

SCHOOL BOARD
Sets Pace for Academic Year

Mr. John Howlett

Members of the Board of Education try to give the students of the Brush School System a high scholastic standing. Their main purpose is to enforce rules, make regulations, approve a course of study and handle all financial matters. The members meet on the first Monday of every month to discuss the business of the school. Each member of the Board has a six year term.

Mr. Harvey Bolinger is the President and is in his eighth year as a member of the Board. Mr. John Lindell is the Vice-President. Mr. Ray Fries and Mrs. Grace Jeffers are Treasurer and Secretary respectively. Mr. John Howlett and Mr. Don Mitchell are both Trustees.

E.W. THOMSON
Guides System

To Students of Brush High School:

We in America have the world's best machines but America is great, and will remain great, because of its people rather than because of its machines. You are greater than any machine because you have and, we hope may always have, the liberty of thinking and acting for yourselves.

I hope your experiences in the Brush schools will aid you to be loyal to principles, to work for the common good, and to accept responsibilities. These privileges and responsibilities a machine does not have.

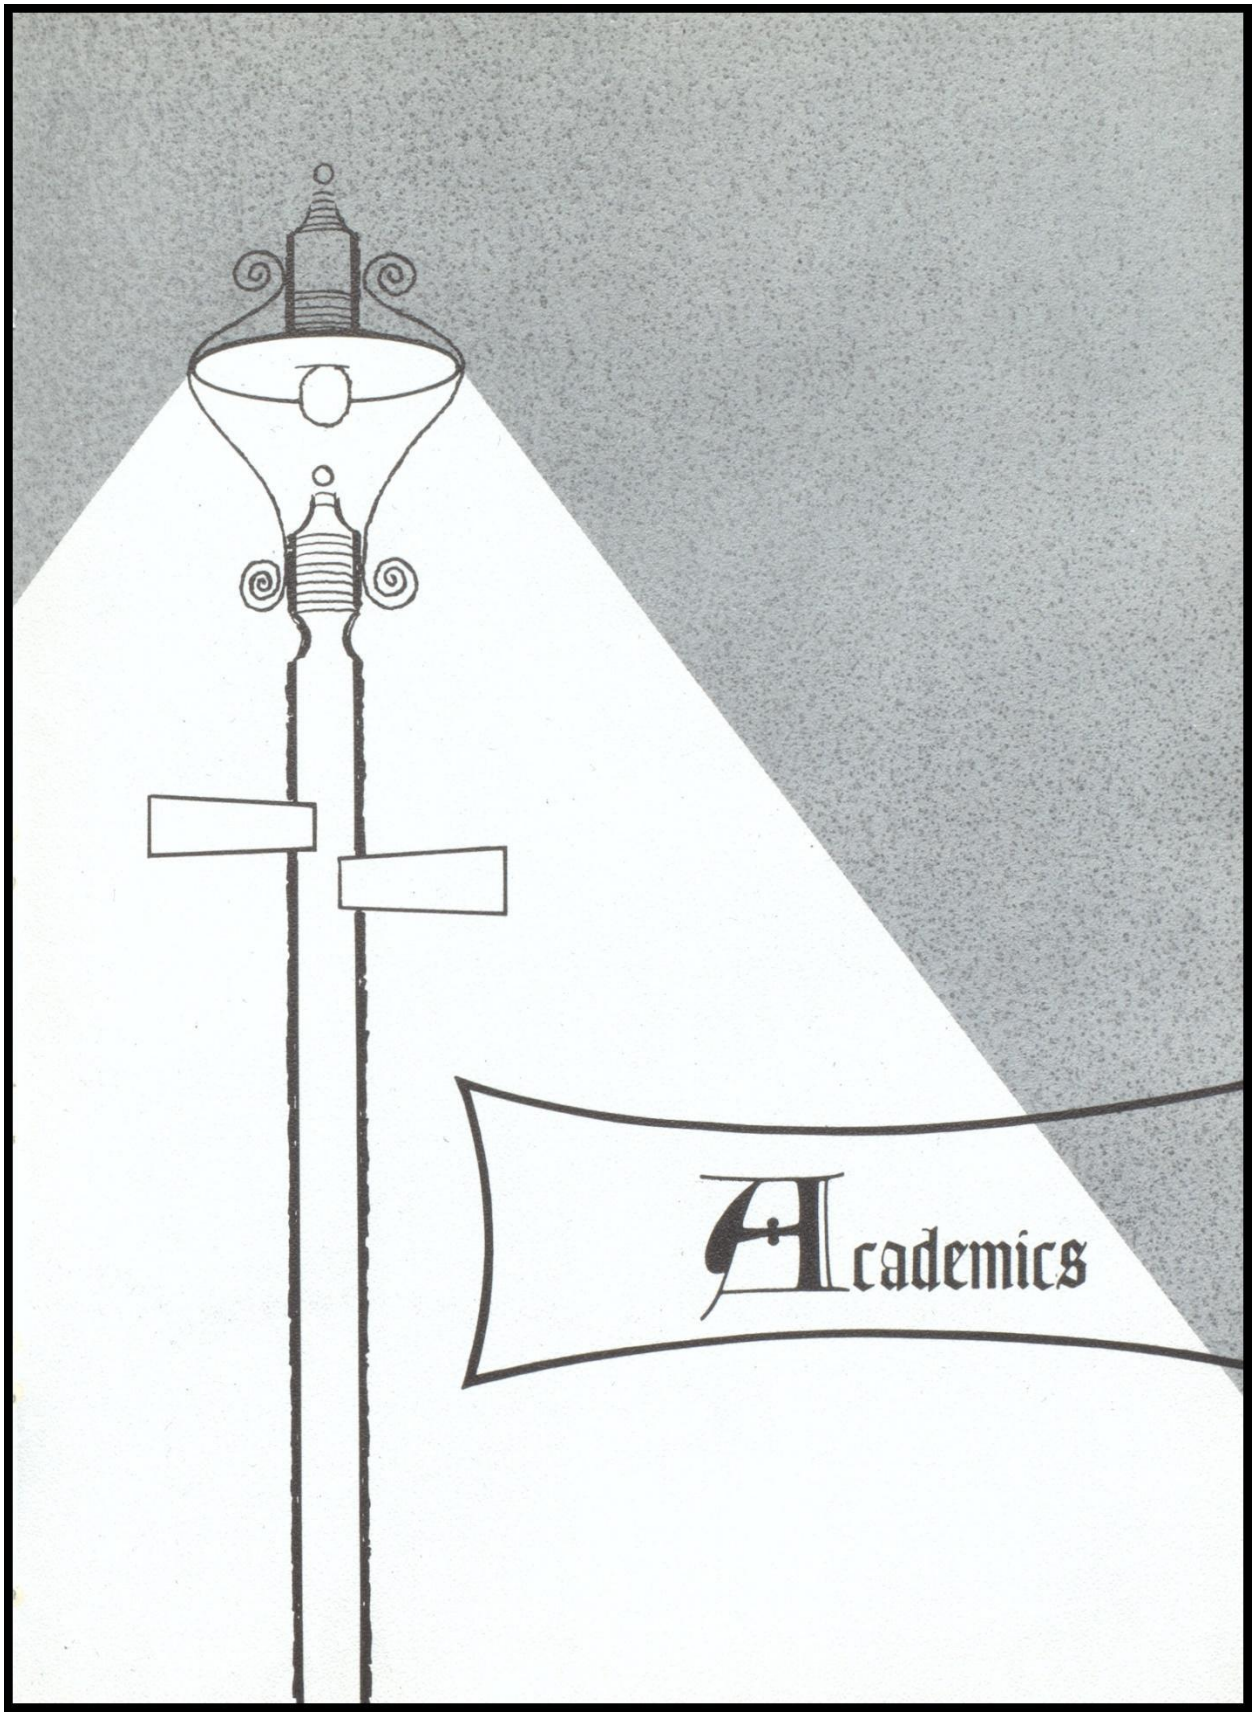

E. W. Thomson, Superintendent

Our heritage from our country, state, and community has given us the right to public education.

We in America receive as part of our heritage the tradition of public education. Our country, our state, and our community each has given us customs, rights, and practices in education. Each generation accepts, uses, and makes additions to this heritage.

The Sagebrush for 1969 is a continuation of the tradition that is part of Brush High School's heritage. May it be a worthy record and an accepted contribution to this heritage.

Academics

ENGLISH

During the 1962-'63 school year, the English students at B.H.S. have had many interesting assignments. Freshmen classes were faced with the further knowledge of grammar and

Mr. Schantz's class above is going over their compositions.

Mr. Neill explains the day's assignment.

Mr. Schantz

Mr. Neill surveys his speech class.

Mr. Neill looks on as Audrey Carlson gives her speech.

For the sophomore class it was a bit different. They started out with literature and grammar. Every sophomore was faced with the two books, TALE OF TWO CITIES and RED BADGE OF COURAGE. As for the juniors in Mr. Woolley's English III class things were new. The year began with Literature and short story material. During the middle part of the year, each student experienced speech work. For some it was frightening to think about it but as time went on everyone enjoyed it. Mrs. Queen's class did some speech work and also worked on grammar and literature. Her class had to read MY ANTONIA, and MOBY DICK. Each junior in these classes had a research paper that had to be done sometime during the year.

Patty Friehauf, in the front row, seems very interested in Karen Howlett's speech on the use of safety belts, pictured above.

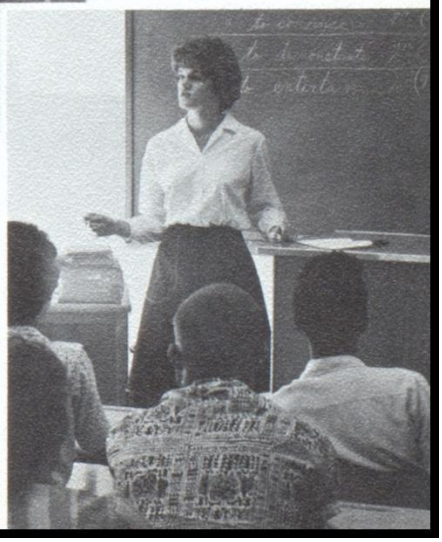

The English II class listens tentatively to Mr. Schantz as he gives instructions.

Sharon Christensen is pictured below giving her speech on baby-sitting.

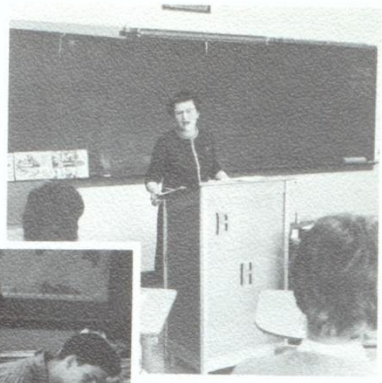

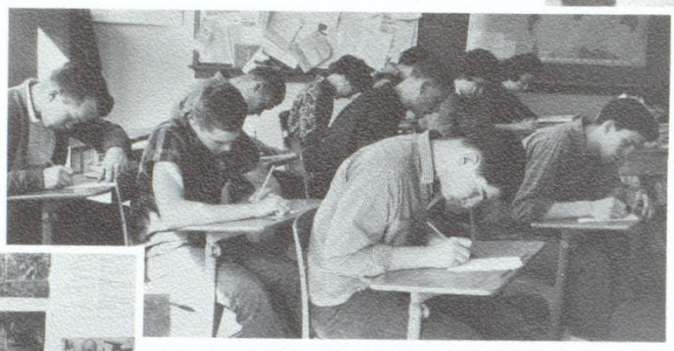

Miss Walter's English IV class began the year with readings of Hamlet. They also read Guliver's Travels and War and Peace. The end of the year was spent in speech work.

STUDENTS Study

For the juniors, American History can be interesting. Each week they look forward to reading their Newsweek Magazines and writing reports. This year while studying the Civil War, each person had to give a speech on a famous battle. They were thankful, though, for not having to do research themes.

Mrs. VanDyke lectures the class on crimes and juvenile delinquency.

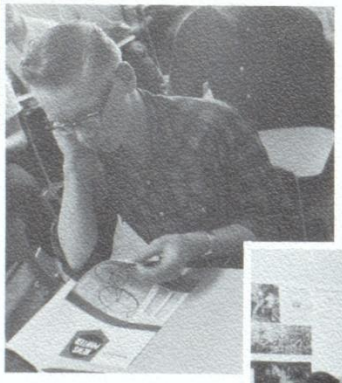

Everyone enjoys Modern Problems. Each student receives the American Observer every week, which keeps them up on daily events. Most of the year is spent in lectures and panel discussions on topics facing the society today.

Harley Sullivan makes use of his time by reading his monthly News Pointer.

Mr. Mills, American History and Social Studies Instructor

The World

During the year the World History classes find themselves very busy. Doing book reports every three weeks and a research theme every six weeks, the pupils don't find themselves without anything to do. The problem, though, is finding enough books for everyone. Very frequently they held discussion groups on the chapters they were studying at the time.

For the new freshmen, Social Studies is based on their previous learnings, only adding the study of social behavior and history of the community.

MATH Develops

When a freshman enters BHS he is introduced to the math department by having a choice of Algebra I or related mathematics under the direction of Miss Lorraine Young. Although this is the only required year of math, many of the students continue in the study of higher math courses.

SCIENCE Courses

Science in the Brush High School is made up in four departments. These are General Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics. A Freshman can take General Science his first year, but it is not required. A Sophomore can take Biology or Chemistry. Juniors can take Physics or Chemistry. Seniors can also take Physics or Chemistry.

LANGUAGES Increase Students' Culture

Emmett Miller

Lynn Reynolds

During the 1962-63 school year, Latin, Spanish, and German were the foreign languages offered at Brush High School. The curriculum included one Spanish I class, one Spanish II class, two Latin I classes, one Latin II class, and one German I class.

Mrs. Eleise Bloom was the language instructor for all of these classes.

Tom Linker

The Spanish classes had their annual Pinata Party and the Latin II class held a hamburger fry with the participating members dressed in the traditional Roman dress.

Besides the usual textbooks, the language educational aids included tapes and records. The tapes included various subjects or conversations and drills in the foreign languages.

At right is the German I class in session.

The classroom is equipped with earphones for individual listening. Another break in the monotony of a normal day was offered at frequent intervals when the school was serenaded with Christmas carols sung in foreign languages.

130 Are Enrolled in

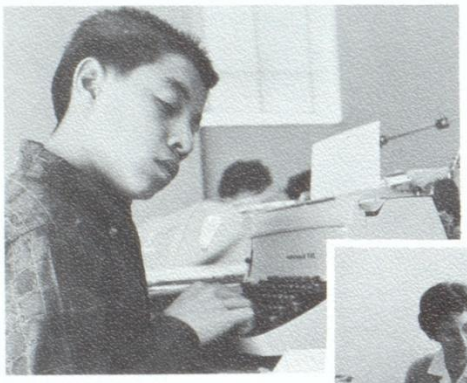

Mr. Robert Mitchell and Miss Patsy Gertge were this year's business instructors. They offered the courses of typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping. The total enrollment for the year was one hundred and thirty.

Bonnie Bassett studies latest shorthand methods.

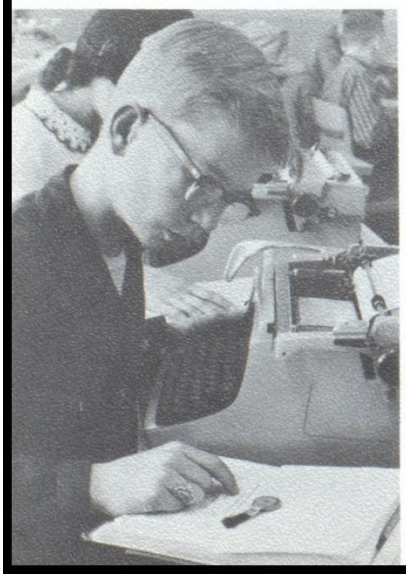

Miss Gertge

Class discussions and practice aids students in developing best form in typing and bookkeeping.

The goals of the shorthand classes are to learn to take dictation, and to put dictation to work for them.

In bookkeeping the students learned to transfer materials from ledgers to journals, to distinguish the difference between different types of ledgers, and to use the fundamentals of bookkeeping.

They also learned basic filing rules, and the proper methods of setting up new files.

BUSINESS Courses

The typing course had a two fold purpose this year, first, to develop typing ability for personal use, and second, the transfer of learning to a machine.

There was no homework with the course. Emphasis was put on the student's ability to find his errors, and the last weeks the course had the requirement that all papers were to be handed in with no errors. The last few weeks were also spent working on manuscripts and business letters.

Miss Gertge helps students when they run into difficulties.

Class discussions are part of the bookkeeping curriculum.

Mr. Mitchell

Most of the students in the business department find jobs in Brush or the surrounding area, or they go on to better business schools.

Below, Jim Newlin, Stan Grippin, and Don Osborn practice proper typing posture and technique.

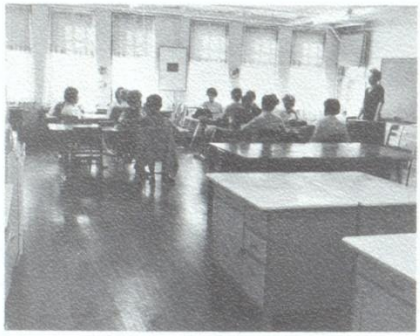

HOME ECONOMICS Trains Future Homemakers

Students listen attentively as the subject at hand is explained.

Homemaking I class, second period

Under the direction of Mrs. Staby, the Home Ec. classes learn home management skills such as sewing, cooking, table-setting, and housekeeping. In addition, they discuss social problems and etiquette.

Child care and household etiquette are also very important in preparing for future homemaking.

AG Works for Future

Many feed troughs are made during the shop periods. These feed troughs will be used to feed and water animal projects.

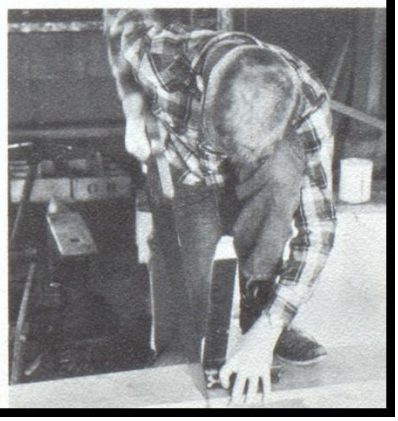

Don Osborn is painting a saw horse in shop for a project.

The first project in the shop is to make a nail box. This project is to help a new member with hammering nails and sawing boards.

Using a square is a good way to learn how to saw a board straight.

Students Learn TECHNICAL DRAWING and Applications

Mr. Eric Wendt

Classes in industrial arts consist of two main subject areas. The students spend part of the time in the drawing room making various pictures of certain objects and spend the rest of the time constructing various projects in the shop.

In the classroom the students learn how to draw certain objects to scale or in perspective. In drawing the pictures the students use such tools as drawing boards, T-squares, 30-60 right triangles, equilateral triangles, and compasses and rulers which are contained in drawing sets.

When the students are in the classroom they make plans for what they are going to build in the shop when the time comes. The Industrial Arts Classes and Ag Classes alternate every three weeks so that both groups of students have access to the shop and power tools.

Each year more and more girls are becoming interested in Industrial Arts Class. If a student wishes to advance in this field he or she may take the subject for four years. This is a fine subject if one plans to go into a field of engineering or drafting. Besides these main fields the course prepares one for reading blueprints, simple drawing and aids in woodwork repairs around the house.

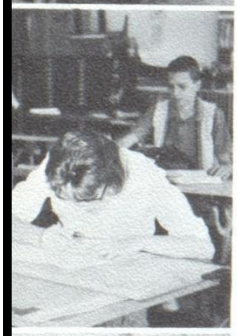

Students demonstrate wood finishing.

ART Classes Complete Mural for Gymnasium

Mrs. Bass, Instructor

Many things the art students have learned to do include watercolor painting, oil painting, textile designing and ceramic work. The students not only learn how to paint, but before they start they are taught what makes a good picture, such as subordination, balance, and color.

If you looked around B.H.S., you could not help noticing many of the murals the art department has painted for the decoration and attractiveness for the school.

The exhibits in the showcase windows have added interest and culture and admiration from the students.

This year the art classes contributed a large mural for the gym. The mural features indoor sports.

Under the direction of Mr. Don Hinton and Mr. Don Price the Brush High Band and Orchestra put on a number of concerts. The highlight of the year was mass band concert which was held May sixteenth. This concert was put on for the public.

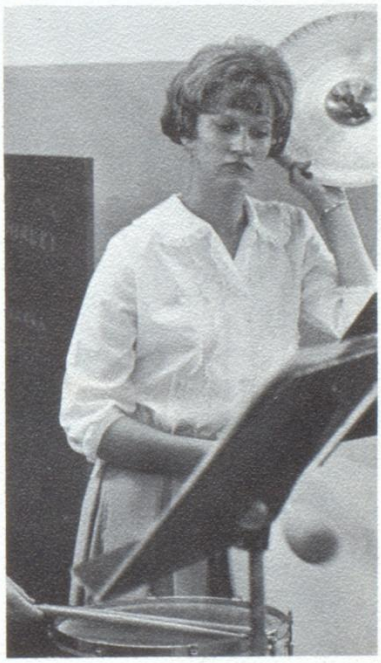

High School Dance Band was on hand to entertain for various school activities.

Eunice Kolman shows proper form in serving in tennis.

Girl's P.E. is instructed by Mrs. Queen. The girls participate in volleyball, soccer, softball, basketball, archery, tumbling, tennis, and other minor sports. The girls take tests in physical fitness and over the rules of the various sports. They have a volleyball tournament during the year and a party at the end of the year with the money earned from fines. Every girl is required to take at least one year of physical education.

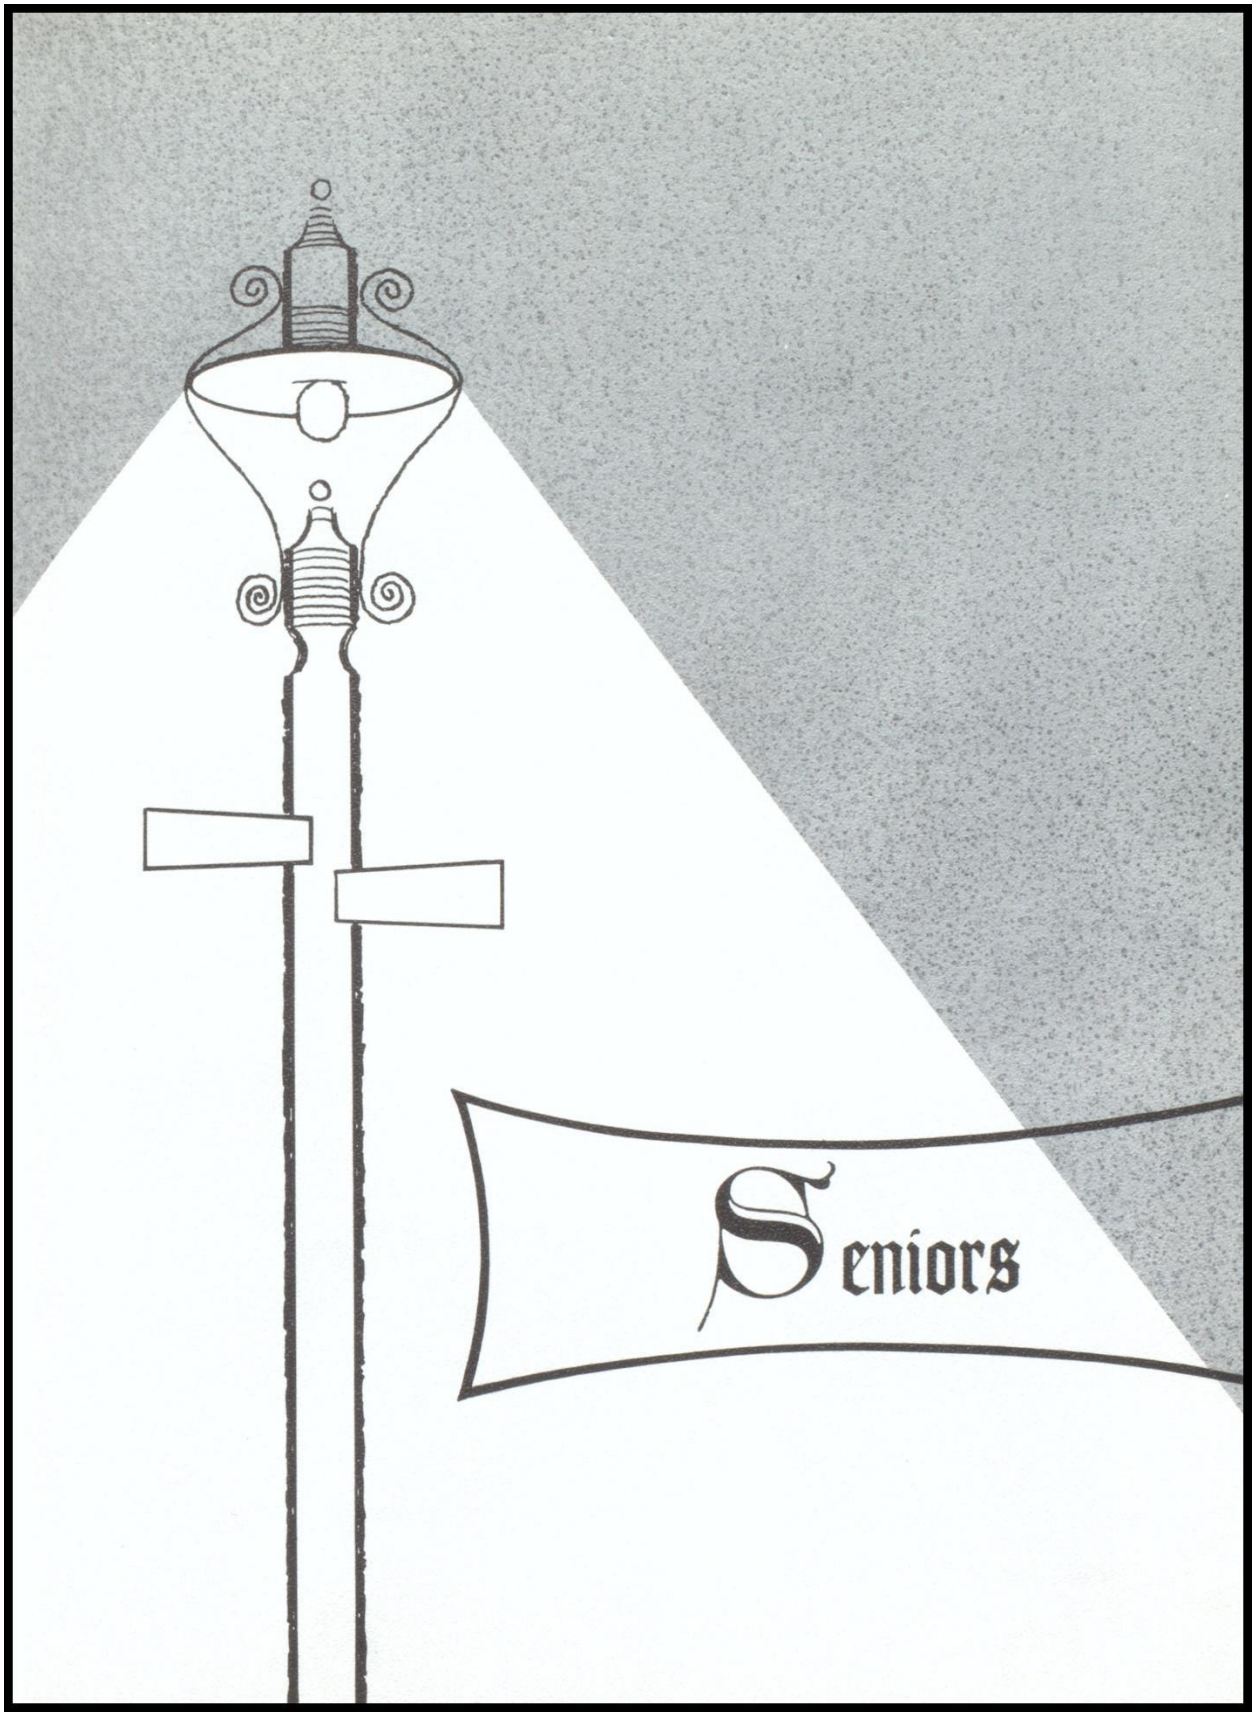

Boy's P.E. is instructed by Coach LeeRoy Needens. The main sports the boys participate in are flag football, softball, basketball, volleyball, soccer, track, tennis, and leadup games to the major sports. Tests for the boys come every six weeks, in the form of written exams and physical fitness tests. These tests include sit-ups, push-ups, softball throw, 50 yard dash, standing broad jump, pull-ups, and block transfer. For extra-curricular activities, the boys have Pepsi parties after every six weeks period. The losing team pays for the food and drink at the party.

Class officers for the year 1959-1960 were President, Bob Smith; Vice-President, Judy Olson; Secretary-Treasurer, Bonnie Sandoz. The sponsors for their first year in high school were Miss Walters and Coach Autry. Their class started with 84 students. The job of these new freshmen was to build the bonfire for Homecoming, snake dance and respect their upperclassmen. Brush lost their game to Windsor 21-14.

Mr. Wendt and Mr. Woolley were the sponsors of their sophomore class. The officers for their second year included Bonnie Sandoz, President; Karen Howlett, Vice-President; and John Sears, Secretary-Treasurer.

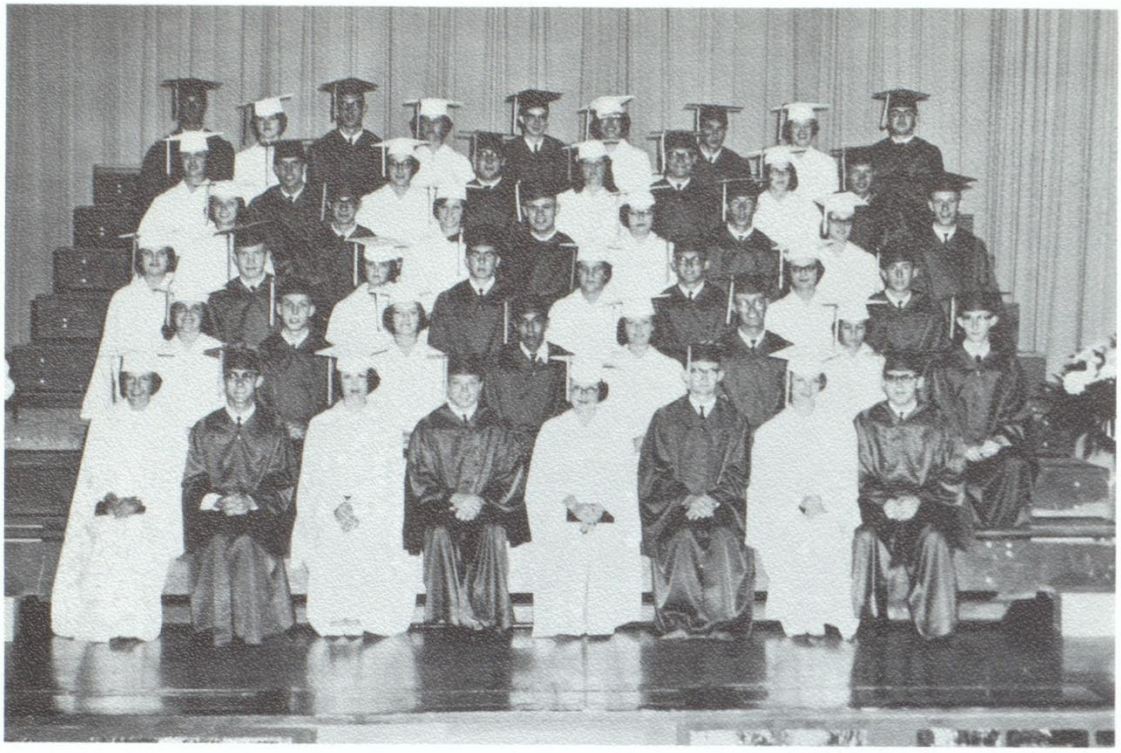

At the beginning of their junior year Mark Kastler headed the class as President with Sue Osborn, Vice-President; and Jan Bostrom, Secretary-Treasurer. This junior class had various projects to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom. Some of these projects were concessions at the football and basketball games and selling candy during noon hour and after school.

Class of '63 chose Lilas Opp, Lynn Reynolds, Eddie Loose and Mike Swinson to escort the class during commencement and baccalaureate exercises. Also chosen were Robin Wankleman, Nancy Stephen, Diana Fries, Kathy Von Riesen, Mike Mitchell, John Boyles, Vic Fiscus and David Wagers to usher the guests.

Class colors were purple and white. Their motto was "Life is a picture so paint it well." Purple and white completed the flower arrangement.

Highlights of their senior year included going to state for the third time and placing second in track at state. Officers for this year included Larry Mills, President; John Sears, Vice-President; Bob VanDyke, Secretary; and Dayton Middlemist, Treasurer.

At the second meeting of the Junior Class, the following officers were elected: President, Mike Tomasini; Vice President, Chuck Gale; Treasurer, Lynn Reynolds; and Secretary, Nancy Stephen.

As usual, the Junior Class had to face a grave problem--raising money to sponsor the Prom. Their money-making projects included the Junior Class play, selling candy during the noon hour, and managing the concession stand at football and basketball games.

"Meet Me At My Locker" was the title of the play, put on November 16, 1962. Twelve members of the class were included in this three-act comedy.

The class decided not to sponsor a Junior-Senior Banquet due to the cost. The queen and her attendants were selected by the juniors. It was also decided to make the rule that one person of the couple would have to be a member of the Junior or Senior class, unless they received invitations.

The committees for the Prom and their chairmen were as follows: Joel Sears, Chairman of the Prom; Terry Waitman, Chairman of the Theme Selection and Decoration Committee; Nancy Stephen, Chairman of the Orchestra Committee; Diana Nickum, Chairman of the Queen Coronation Committee; Kathy Von Riesen, Chairman of the Invitations Committee; Mike Mitchell, Chairman of the Punch Committee; Stanley Grippin, Chairman of the Miscellaneous Committee.

Sophomores elected officers for the 1962-63 school year at their first meeting. They were: Terry Scoby, president; Terry Drahota, vice-president; Tim Chandler, secretary; Jean Watrous, treasurer.

A committee was appointed to plan the class Homecoming float. The float consisted of a Beetdigger holding a gun aimed at a Bobcat. The cab, back and sides were covered with twisted crepe paper of fall colors, also featured on either side was the float theme "Hunt Em Down." The float took the first place ribbon.

During the second meeting class dues were set at $1.00 and a committee was appointed to think of money-making projects.

President, Tom Harbert; Vice-President, Linda Schilling; Secretary-Treasurer, Shirley Gibson.

September 21, 1962, the class of '66 held their first class meeting. The freshman class, which is the largest in BHS for the school year 1962-'63, consists of 48 boys and 45 girls. The ninety-three members of the class elected Tom Harbert to the office of president, Linda Schilling as vice-president, and Shirley Gibson was chosen to perform the duties of secretary-treasurer.

Dues were set at $1.00, and the activities for the coming year were discussed. The freshmen are traditionally in charge of gathering wood and building the bonfire for the snake dance and pep rally on Homecoming night, and the class of '66 was no exception. The class won third place for their float in the Homecoming Parade.

Sponsors for the freshman class are Miss Walters and Mr. Woolley.

DIGGERS Complete Winning Season 6-3

Beetdigger's First Winning Season Since 1956

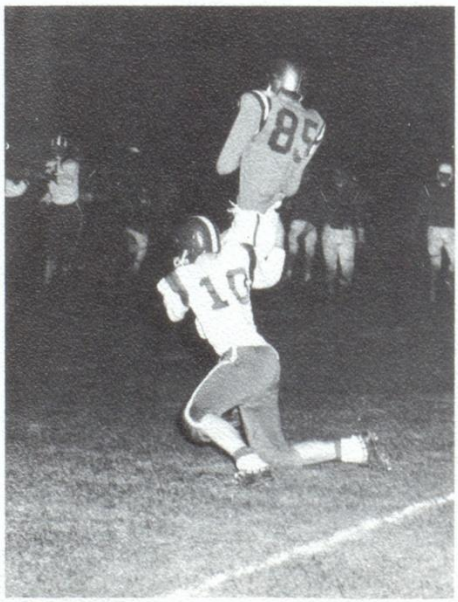

Coach Bob Hayes, who is now the head football coach for Brush, has been coaching for Brush for four years. When Coach Hayes is not coaching football, he is the assistant coach for basketball, and the head coach for track.

Coach Robert Hayes led the Brush Beetdiggers to a winning season of 6 wins and 3 losses. Brush lost three well-played ball games to the Lafayette Bobcats, the Eaton Reds, and the Windsor Wizards. The Beetdiggers beat all the other conference teams. They included: the Weld Central Rebels, the Valley-High Vikings, the College High Bulldogs, and the Fort Lupton Bluedevils. Brush also beat two non-conference teams. They were the Akron Ramblers and the Wray Eagles.

The Brush Diggers started practice on Saturday, the 25th of August, and turned in their gear on the 26th day of November.

Coach LeeRoy Needens led the Brush Beetdiggers to their second consecutive undefeated season in Tri-Valley conference play, and an 18-0 all season record. At the end of conference play the Diggers held the record in Colorado for the most consecutive wins with 39 straight. The team will lose six seniors because of graduation: B. Smith, J. Armstrong, L. Mills, B. VanDyke, F. D. Stoops, and G. Wofford. L. Skinner and M. Swinson will be the only returning starters from last year's team. With six returning boys from last year's team and a fine "B" Squad the Diggers' hopes of having another fine season in 1963-64 are very probable.

WRESTLERS Place Third at District

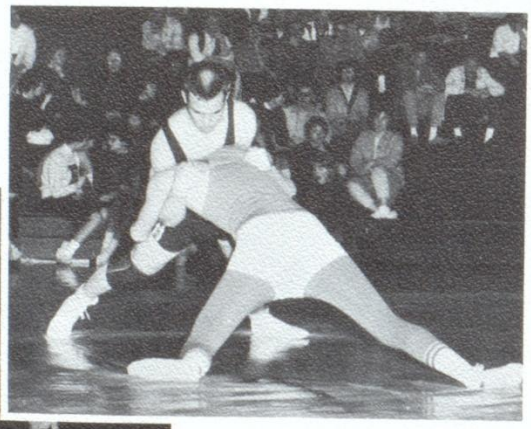

Brush's wrestling squad came through the 62-63 season with a record of four wins, eight losses and one tie.

Brush had four returning lettermen and lettered several others: Larry Hall, Fred Mercer, Mike Mitchell, Denny Bostron, and Butch Awmiller. Brush's returning lettermen for next year are Vic Fiscus, Mike Mitchell, Larry Hall, Fred Mercer, Mike Tomasini, Stan Grippin, and Denny Bostron.

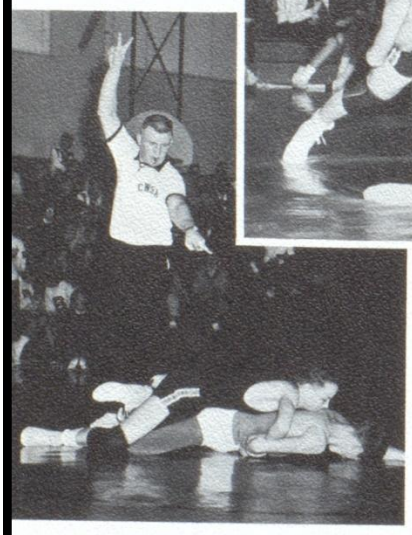

District was held at Holyoke with seven teams participating; they were Brush, Wray, Yuma, Holyoke, Arickeree, Burlington, and Akron. Wray placed first with 99 points, Yuma was second with 70 points and Brush was third with 64 points.

Brush was represented at the state wrestling tournaments by three wrestlers, (L. to R.) Butch Awmiller, Mike Tomasini and Stan Grippin. Butch wrestled in the 165 lb. class, Mike wrestled Hvy. and Stan Grippin wrestled in the 154 lb. class. Mike and Stan will be seniors for the 1963-64 wrestling season. The wrestling squad will have a very experienced team next year.

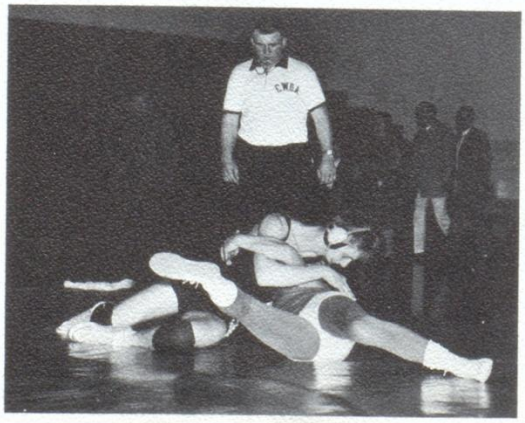

Denny Bostron blocks takedown attempt of Hackelman of La Porte. Denny won 9-8.

Jerry Butz, Brush's 103 pounder, is breaking down L. Conklin, who Jerry decisioned 6-0.

Take Sixth Straight Conference Meet

Gary Wofford finishes well ahead of the rest of the pack, as he hits the tape to win the 880 yard dash.

Mike Tomasini puts everything into the discus to set a new record. Mike also won the shot put.

Brush retained its conference championship, defeating its nearest opponent Windsor, 59 to 50 in the district track meet held in Greeley on the 6th day of May. This was the sixth straight championship for the Beetdiggers. Coach Hays, who has coached the Diggers to the last four championships, made this year a success with this victory.

Activities

HOMECOMING Celebrated

The bonfire, a parade, and a downtown assembly were first on the agenda for the Homecoming.

Wood for the fire was gathered by the class of 1966, and Reubenetta Ickes made the dummy.

The parade consisted of floats from the classes and clubs, the pep club, and both the high school and grade school bands. Arriving downtown, cheerleaders led the pep club in some cheers, 1962 Homecoming began with the bonfire which was held on October 4, at the fairgrounds.

Homecoming 1962 appeared to be a large success. The snake-dance and bonfire had a major turnout, and so did the game. After the annual parade, winning floats were announced.

After the game, celebrations were saddened by a defeat for Brush, but all were revived by the time the dance started. During the intermission, Queen Sue Osborn was officially crowned, and the Queen Attendants were introduced. They were Karen Howlett, Sharon Taylor, and Bonnie Sandoz.

Queen candidates were introduced, and the winning float announced.

Brush Beetdiggers played host to the Lafayette Bobcats that evening, and during intermission Captain Butch Awmiller crowned Sue Osborn Homecoming Queen.

At the after-game dance, Mark Kastler crowned Sue with the traditional kiss.

Bob Smith Crowned MR. BEETDIGGER

"Mr. Beetdigger" receives the traditional kiss.

Bob Smith, Mr. Beetdigger for the 1962-63 school year, was crowned by head cheerleader, Karen Howlett at the annual Sweetheart Dance, held February 2. Bob Van Dyke and F. D. Stoops were honored as the rest of the King's court.

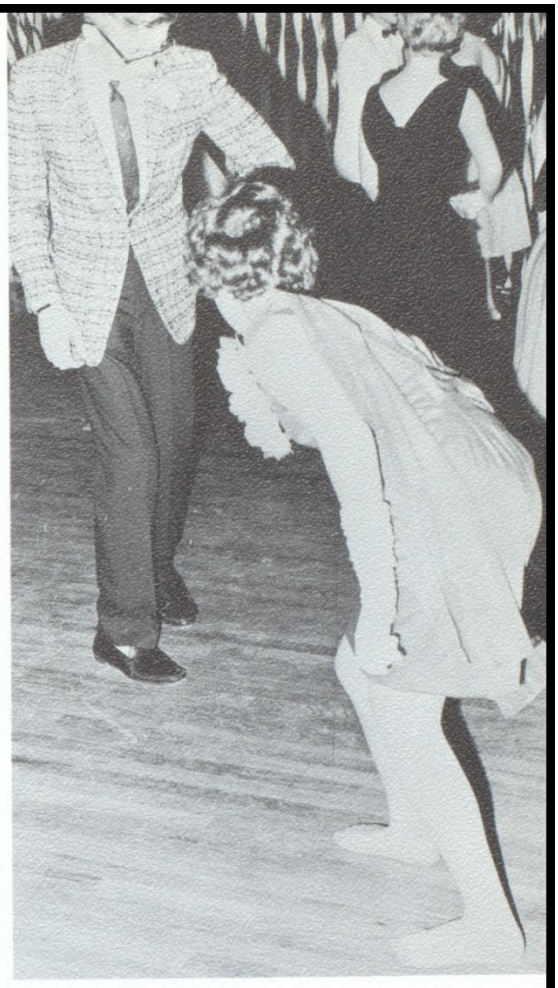

The decorations committee was headed by Sharon Shawcross. The theme, "Moonlight and Roses" was carried out in the decorations.

Mr. Beetdigger's throne and the band, the Chessmen from Denver, filled the west end of the dance floor, and a garden scene with a fountain decorated the gym's east end. A false wall of streamers and rose trellises, adorned with pink, white, and red roses, enclosed the dance area.

Refreshments were furnished by the sponsors of the dance, the members of the B.H.S. Pep Club. Members of the Mother's Council chaperoned the dance.

Football player, baseball player, track man, and basketball player Bob Smith, was chosen "Mr. Beetdigger" by the Pep Club. He was chosen on the basis of athletic participation, good sportsmanship, and general character.

Seniors were honored at the 1962-63 Junior-Senior Prom on May 11. No banquet was held this year, in order to focus more attention on the dance.

Music for the Prom was provided by a seven-piece band, The Lamplighters.

Juniors decorated the recreation room using Camelot as their theme. Decorations were mostly blue; a mural picturing a castle was at one end of the room, and the thrones were at the opposite end. Coats of Arms were placed on the walls.

Tommy Linker and Barbara Steen were among those having fun at the Prom.

Bonnie Sandoz Chosen QUEEN

Mike Tomasini, Junior Class President, lead the grand march (right). He then opened a sealed envelope containing the names of the junior attendant, Robin Wankelman, the senior attendant, Karen Howlett, and the Prom Queen, Bonnie Sandoz.

After escorting the girls to their thrones, Mike officially honored them by tapping each one on the shoulder with a sword, and crowning them.

Following the traditional kiss, Mike and Bonnie danced together in the spotlight dance; the attendants and their escorts joined them.

Annual ST. PATRICK'S DANCE Celebrated at B.H.S.

Lilas Opp and Bob VanDyke were crowned queen and king at the third annual St. Patrick's Day Dance.

Each class selected one boy and one girl, making eight candidates. A week before the dance the candidates were limited to one boy and one girl by paying a penny for each vote casted. All votes were donated to UNICEF.

Other candidates were Patricia Lebsock, Tom Harbert, Marianne Palmer, Bryan Howlett, Mike Swinson and Bonnie Sandoz.

Voting was held during noon hour and after school. Those in charge were Mary Ann Callen and Carolyn Brown.

Victor Garber was in charge of the decorations and Pam Fawcett the food.

"Erin Go Braugh" meaning "Ireland Forever" was a suitable theme.

CLASS OF '64 Presents

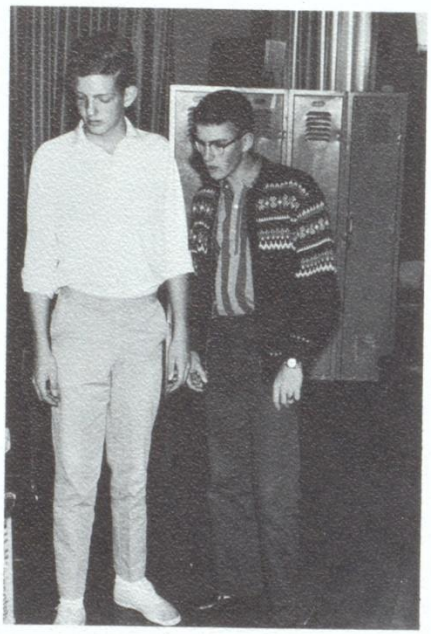

This years' Junior class presented "Meet Me At My Locker," by Hal O. Kesler, on November 16.

The story takes place in an old abandoned storage room where twelve students, six boys and six girls, had been assigned lockers.

The girls, after finding out how many boys there were, decided to make the room into a club, the Hammermocker Hammerlockers, for steady couples who had lockers there.

Above, Grainger Kantwell denies stealing Ida Shirk's ticket money while Ida Shirk, Connie James, and Stretch Vanoosey look on.

Gary Kaplan explains to Mooch Mathis that he lent Grainger Kantwell five dollars, which was from the Science Club Treasurer, and that Kant had given him a watch for interest.

Cast and crew for "Meet Me at My Locker" are (back row, left to right) M. Mitchell, L. Baade, K. Von Riesen, J. Staby, D. Wagers, C. Brown, J. Graves, D. Fries, K. Reynolds, D. Nickum, J. Scott, J. Sears, (on floor); R. Morse, E. Loose, and J. Duckworth.

Mrs. Bloom directed it, and Miss Young acted as prompter. R. Schomerus handled props, and E. Miller was Business Manager.

"Meet Me at My Locker"

Trouble developed when Roger Ives, Lyle Baade, made it known that he never would go steady.

After a time, Roger and Peggy Landes, Lynn Reynolds, started going steady and all was well for the club for a time.

Then Ida Shirk, Diana Fries, came up missing five dollars, which Grainger Kantwell, Jerry Graves, was accused of stealing.

The play finally ended when Jerry was proven not guilty, and he and Phylis Hughes, Carolyn Brown, started going steady.

Before the play started, Lilas Opp and Cheryl Grose sang "Meet Me At My Locker."

Tryouts for the play were held on October eighth and ninth, and the cast was announced on the tenth.

During intermission, Judy Scott and Mike Mitchell gave Mrs. Bloom and Miss Young gifts of appreciation which the cast had bought.

Music between the acts was furnished by the Brush High swing band under the direction of Mr. Hinton and Mr. Price. The group also entertained between acts.

Others in the play included Judy Scott as Blanche Malooley, Kathy Von Riesen and Norma Hendricks, Diana Nickum as Connie James, Mike Mitchell as Rush Noonin, Joel Sears as Strecth Vanoosey, and John Staby as Mooch Mathis.

The entire cast expressed joy in working on the play, and with Mrs. Bloom.

Mrs. Bloom also stated that she enjoyed working with the cast, and that it was the best cast she had ever worked with.

The students were played by (L. to R.) Gary Wofford, Patricia Lebsock, Larry Skinner, Lilas Opp, Bonnie Sandoz, Helen Gill and Tom Linker.

The teachers were played by (L. to R.) Sharon Shawcross, Mike Mitchell, Terry Scoby, Carolyn Brown, Diana Nickum, Sharon Christensen and Joel Sears.

"No More Homework" was put on by a cast of 17, two stage crew, three property managers, one sound effects man, two prompters, Miss Young and Diana Fries and Mrs. Bloom, director.

Tom Linker explains how the money from the play was stolen.

David Wagers and Lyle Baade (seated) were the stage crew, Kathy Von Riesen and Diana Fries were property mistresses and Lyle Scott was sound effects manager.

Seniors Present CHRISTMAS PLAY

Under the direction of Mrs. Eleise Bloom and Miss Lorraine Young, the Christmas play was presented by a cast composed entirely of Seniors. It was entitled, "The Shepherds' Star" and was written by Janet Katherine Smith. The presentation told the story of the birth of Christ and had a tape recorded musical background.

Officers and senior cheerleaders for the 1962-63 school year were elected in the spring. They were announced at the annual banquet on May 15, 1962.

This year's Pep Club numbered 114 as compared to 100 the previous year.

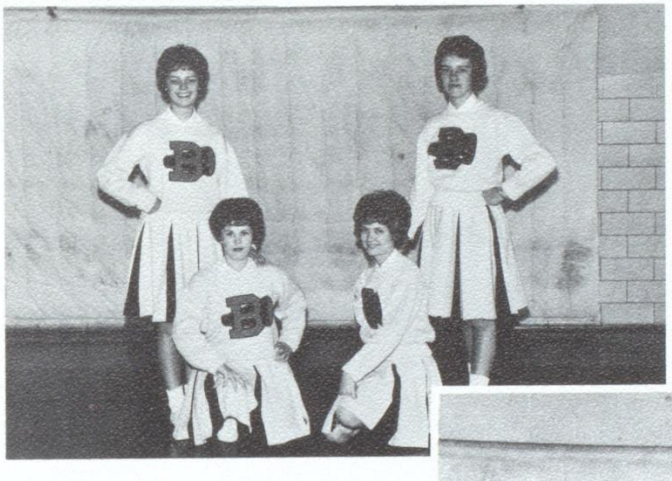

February 2, the Pep Club sponsored the annual Sweetheart Dance with "Moonlight and Roses" as the theme. Head Cheerleader, Karen Howlett, crowned Bob Smith Mr. Beetdigger. He was presented a trophy cup and his name was engraved on the Mr. Beetdigger plaque, which is on display outside the door of the main office.

The Pep Club also sold Brush banners, pep club pins and ribbons, and megaphones as a money making project.

As a group the club did its part to boost the BHS teams during the athletic seasons.

B-CLUB Forms Con
Eliminates Initia

Members of B-Club have been very active this year. They have done such things as sold advertisements for programs, sponsored dances and this year they sponsored the Harlem Clowns. The "Clowns" played the Jack Boxer and Son's team on February 7. An activity such as this usually brings in a great deal of money, so the B-Club benefited from this.

Some of the meetings held during the months of January and February dealt with such things as writing a constitution. The members felt that the club should have one written up since, up until now, they haven't had one. Another thing was that the members thought of dropping the annual initiation which has aroused some ctiticism. Instead of the initiation, the members of B-Club and the candidates would hold a formal banquet and dance.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS
Spend a Busy Year

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Andrew Staby the Future Homemakers of America, who numbered 17, spent another busy year.

To make money the girls sold meat cookbooks and candy.

On September 13, the members held a party where they had a scavenger hunt and played an assortment of games.

Many students who take vocational agriculture in high school benefit from the extra help in later years of life. During the year, members of the FFA take part in many varied activities. Through the summer students take part in exhibiting livestock and farm crop projects at local county fairs and the state fair held each year!

During the 1962-63 term, members of the Brush Chapter placed well in many fields at the state judging contest which is held at CSU in Fort Collins.

Again the students of the Chapter have bought feeder cattle for a Chapter project. Mr. Richards thinks that the boys will benefit from the experience in buying, feeding, and selling. Members keep accurate records on cost of gain per pound and figure an estimated profit.

When spring comes the members get their stock ready to show at the spring fairs. During the summer students attend summer shows and take care of their crops. If the students have good crops they may show them at county fairs. By this time fall shows are in full swing and the members enter many items. Soon winter arrives and the entire cycle is repeated with aims to improve the quality of livestock and crops.

Anna C. Petteys' division of the Future Teachers of America completed its second year during the 62-63 school term.

Sponsored by Mr. Neill, the club is for the benefit of students who are interested in teaching as a career.

Since its debut in 1961, the club has gained membership. It now has 19 members.

The members spent several days observing and teaching on the grade levels that interested them.

The F.T.A. sponsored a banquet at the end of the year at the Colonial Restaurant.

IR CLUB Spends

Twenty-one members of the International Relations Club spent a very busy year in 1962-63. They attended three major conferences, hosted two banquets, and held two dances.

At the International Banquet, members of the club brought dishes from the countries which they represented. The school board and faculty were invited to the banquet, and Mrs. Maria Parez gave a talk on her native country of Cuba.

Members of the club posed in their native costumes, in area blocs. At the banquet each member told what country he represented.

The meal was served in a cafeteria style so that all who attended could sample each of the foreign foods.

Mrs. Petteys and Mrs. Parez, guest speaker for the evening, start the food line into action.

Busy Year

New officers were announced at the all member banquet held in April. Chuck Gale gave a talk on the year's events.

The conferences were the DU World Affairs Conference in November, and the CSC Model UN and the CU World Affairs Conference in March.

The dances were an after-game dance and the annual St. Patrick's Day Dance.

Student Council had a busy year as their main projects were carried on.

The first project was the organization for Homecoming. The council members were given the task of organizing the parade and decorating for the dance. The theme of the dance was Indian Summer.

The second major project was preparing for Christmas. Some of the members helped the Ag department set up the nativity outside the Gymnasium-Auditorium. Also, the council members purchased the Christmas tree and decorated it. The members decorated the halls and put on a short skit before the Christmas vacation.

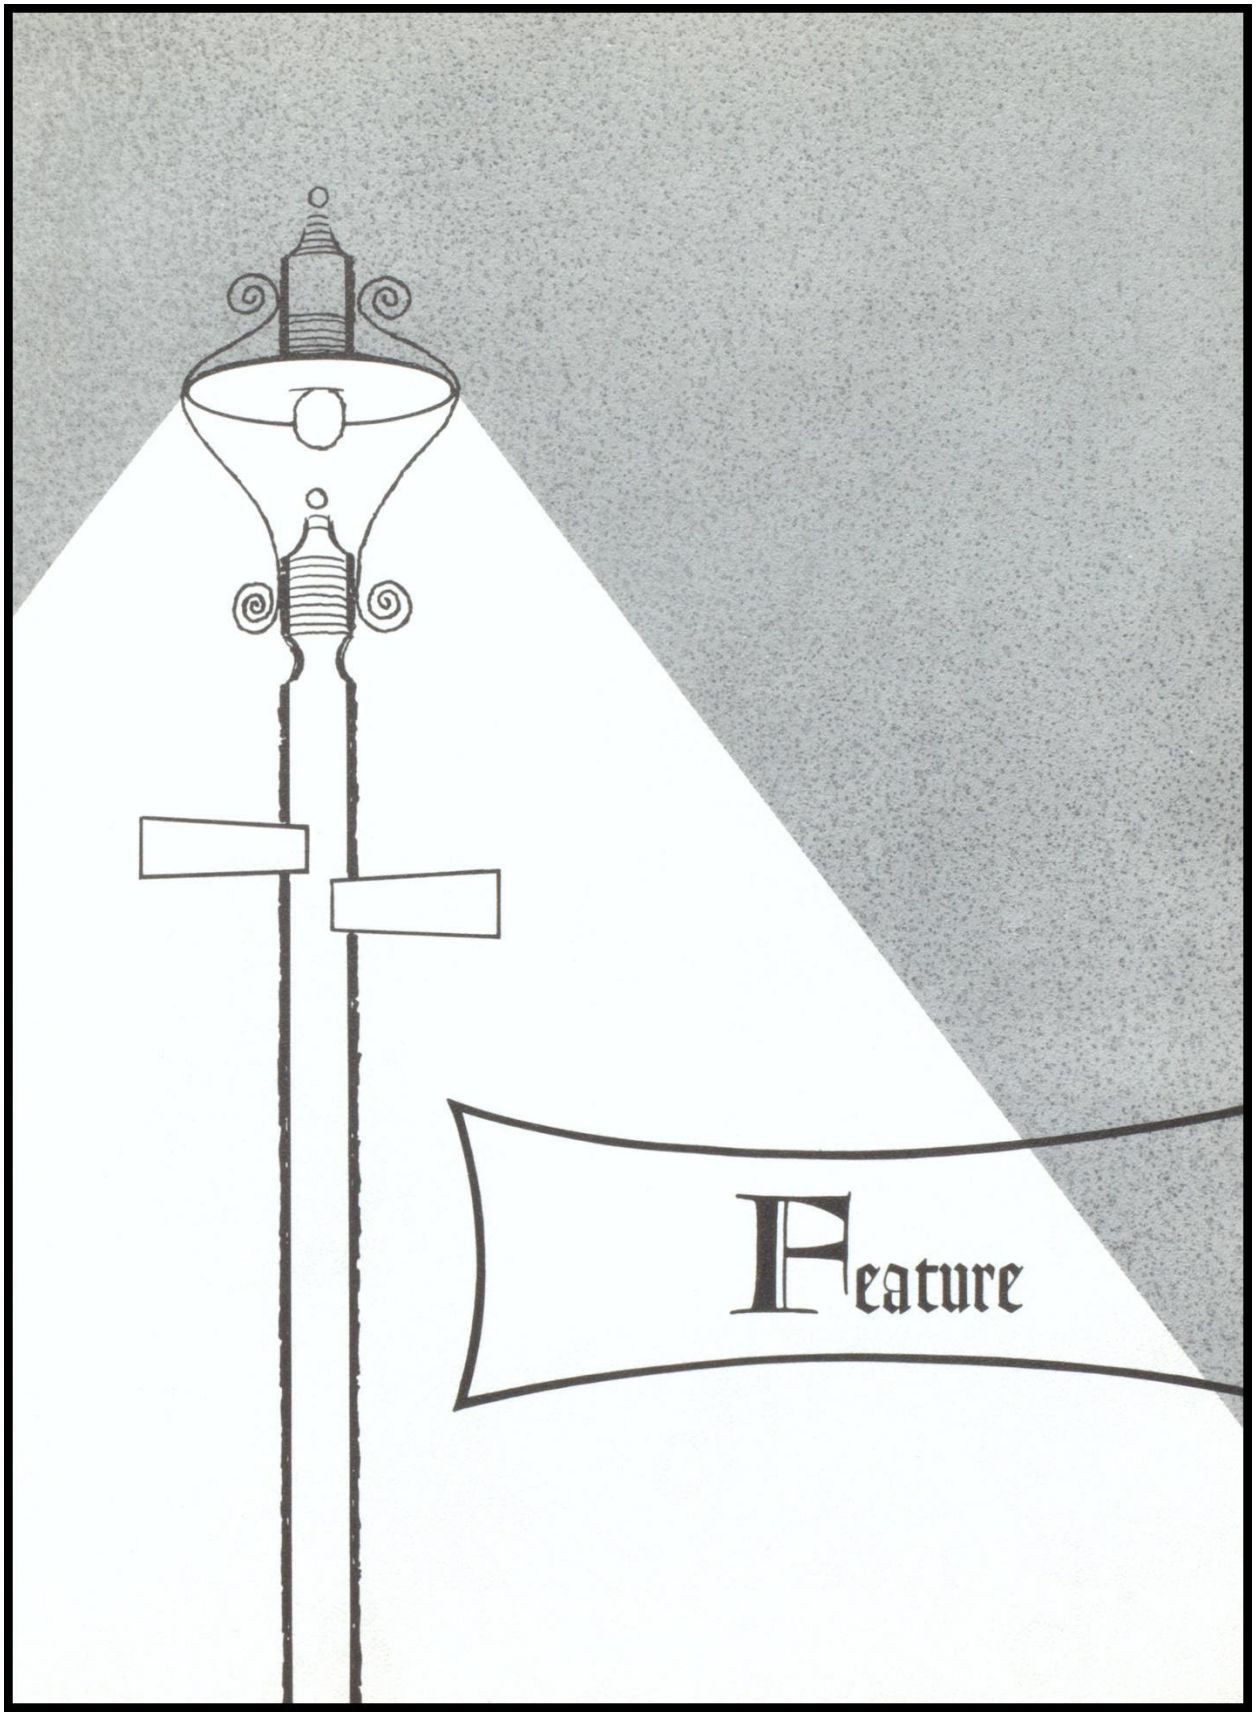

The last major chore for the council was to select students of the month and present them with their pins.

Participating in tree decorating are Larry Mills, Cheryl Madsen, Pam Fawcett and Dencia Pedersen.

SADIE HAWKINS WEEK
Is a Ragged Success

The Student Council of B.H.S. sponsored the 4th annual Sadie Hawkins Week.

The activities began Wednesday, March 24th with a slave auction. All girls were entitled to bid up to $.50 on a number and consequently the highest bidder received the boy who matched the number.

All slaves were volunteers from the class of "63" and were auctioned off by Mr. Mitchell.

Brush High band always performed at the football games.

The band also contributed very much to school spirit at the basketball games.

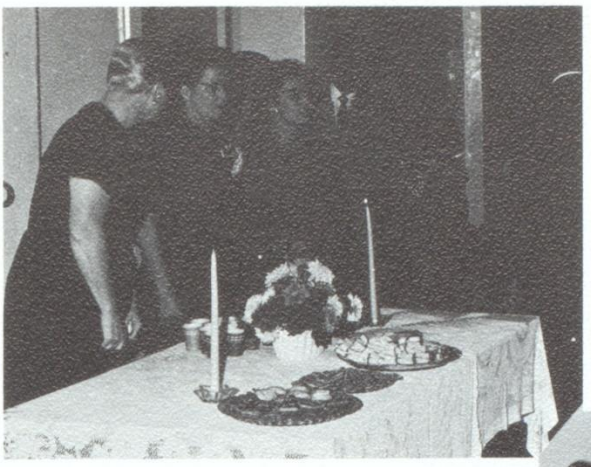

Mrs. Queen gave it all she had at the B.H.S. football contests.

Nancy Stephen, Judy Olson, and Patty Friehauf cheered the basketball team to a record 41 wins in a row.

Brush High principal, Mr. Lally, kept the correct score at the home football games.

The Mother's Council was always present and ready with refreshments at all B.H.S. dances.

Head cheerleader, Karen Howlett, had many anxious moments at B.H.S.

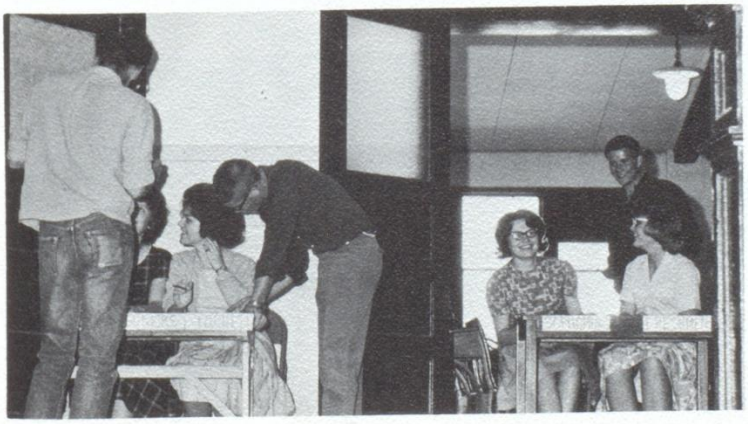

A new dance invaded B.H.S. Mary George and Marianne Palmer try it.

Rag Day was extra eventful this year.

Football players board a truck every year for the pep rally downtown before the Homecoming football game.

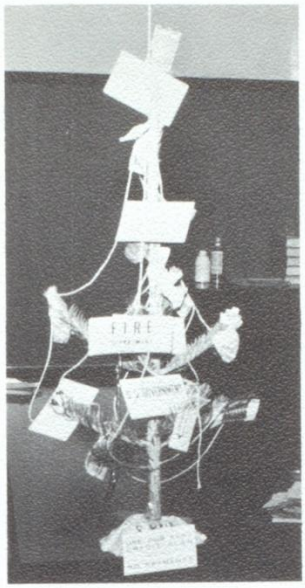

Band Day this year was at Ft. Collins. Many new things were learned, right Peg!

School spirit was never lacking at good ole B.H.S.

We had plenty of new trophies to fill the newly purchased trophy case.

STATE Comes

Cheerleaders start pep-rally down town before first game.

Brush High's team waits to warm up before the starting game of the tourney for Brush.

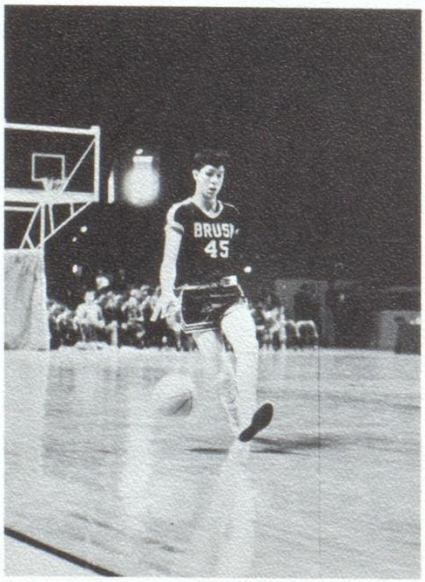

As in the past two years, March was the month for the Brush High School basketball team to travel to the Denver Coliseum for the school-boy classic, the State Basketball Tournament. Besides the usual excitement of going to the State play-offs, the fact that we were going into the tourney with the longest winning streak of 39 straight games, added it's share of pressure to the players and to the whole student body.

In the first game, Brush was faced with Paonia of the Southern Peaks League. It proved to be an easy victory for the overwhelming Diggers.

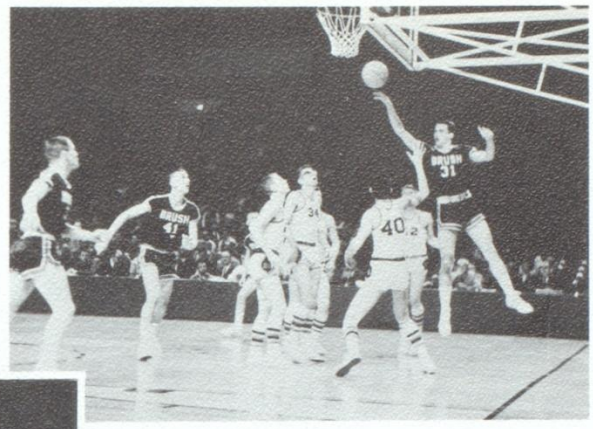

Brush Beetdigger's pep club shows enthusiasm which helped their team to win the first game with Paonia by a record setting score of 94 to 29.

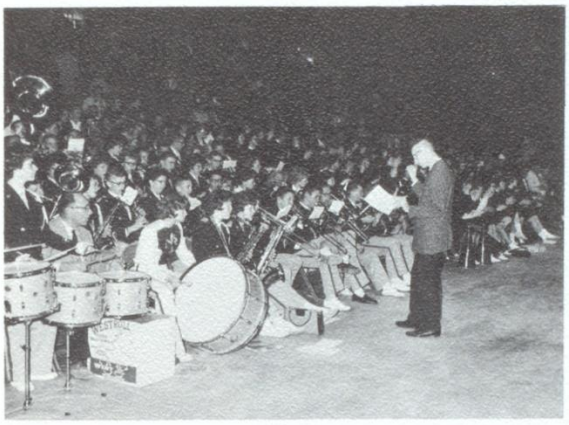

"Jungle Jim" Armstrong brings the ball down court in the first half of the game against Paonia.

TOURNEY Again

Larry Skinner passes the ball to Bob Smith under the basket against Paonia, while Bob Van Dyke looks on.

Brush High's band plays at intermission.

Gary Wofford and Tom Wolfe look at ball rebounding off the rim.

Coach LeeRoy Needens got to play all of his team in the game with Paonia. The game got interesting as the Beetdiggers neared the Class A state record as to the number of points scored in one game. The record was set by the Diggers when they reached the mark of 94 to crumble the hopes of the Paonia team.

At the end of the first day of tournament Brush had set one record and defeated their opponent by a score of 94 to 29. The Paonia Eagles were completely outclassed by the mighty Diggers.

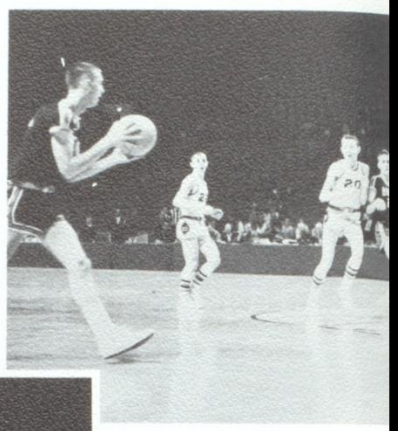

Brush reserves wait impatiently.

Brush Enters Second Day of Tournament

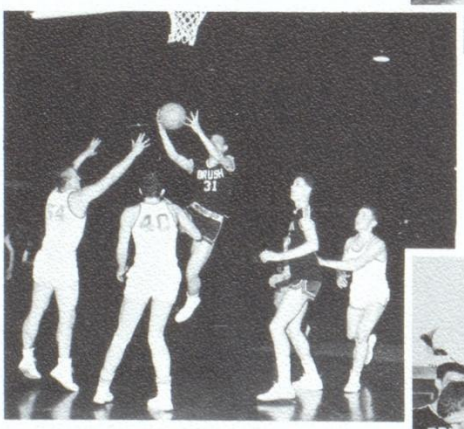

The dressing room was the scene of intense excitement before the second game of the tourney for Brush.

Bob Smith gets ready to pass the ball as Mike Swinson sets a screen for Bob.

Larry Skinner fights for the ball against two defending Wiggin's players.

Larry Skinner goes in for a lay-up while Larry Mills and F. D. Stoops watch for a possible rebound.

The scene changed in the dressing room as the Diggers were once again victorious as they beat the Wiggins Tigers soundly by the score of 64 to 48.

BRUSH FACES YUMA
in Final Contest

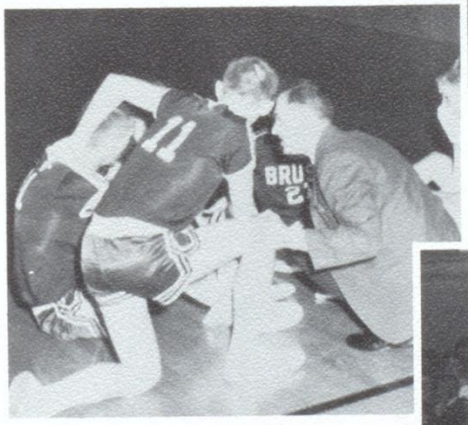

Brush's fabled basketball team faced the same team they beat last year in the last game of the 1962 Tournament for the championship game in the Class A contest.

Brush's coaches, John Smith and Robert Hays look over newspaper's accounts of previous games with Paonia and Wiggins before dressing for the championship game with Yuma.

Bob Smith and Mike Good struggle for a loose ball in the early minutes of the first period.

Brush Is Defeated

To the dismay of the town's people plus the student body and many other followers, the Brush High Beetdiggers were defeated in the final game of the Colorado State Basketball Tournament for Class A schools.

Although the team didn't come home with the first place trophy, the boys of the 1963 team gave the town, high school, and the state tourney crowd one of the finest exhibition of ball handling and shooting that has ever been exhibited at the school boy classic in years and won't be topped for many more.

Along the way leading to the tourney, the team set record after record and had all members of the varsity team play enough playing time to letter, which shows the power of the reserves and ability of the team to work together.

Bob Smith goes up for a jump shot while Larry Mills and Yuma's Bernie McCall look on.

Once again Bob Smith is captured as he is about to make two more points against Yuma by stuffing the ball. F. D. Stoops stands by to add insurance.

excitement and confusion at the tourney at the Denver Auditorium.

by Yuma Indians

The game was a closely fought game from the starting jump ball to the final second of play. Although Brush played a tough ball game, Yuma played an almost perfect game with few mistakes to beat Brush by a score of 57 to 54, the same big three points that Brush ended Yuma's hopes with, last year, in the final game of the 1962 tourney.

Bob Van Dyke and Mike Swinson enter dressing room after the championship game.

The team and coaches are interviewed by KFTM's Mac McGraw at the rally down town Sunday night after the tourney.
