Bitter Sweet Memories

"...We've got the style, the smile, the winning way and everywhere you go you'll recognize our ways..."

Brush High School

Home of the Beetdiggers

Brush High School
400 West Street, PO Box 585
Brush, Colorado 80723
(970)842-5171

In the early days, beets were plowed out of the ground, picked up with the hook of a beet knife and topped with the blade of the knife. During most of the time the Brush plant was in operation, approximately 80-90 percent of the land in the area grew beets. There are over 17,000 acres in the Brush, Fort Morgan area committed to the growing of beets. The people of Brush think the mascot of a Beetdigger is unique and appropriate.

Hot Tamales

Fashion at BHS is as diverse as the people who wear it! Here are just a few samples of this year's styles.

Sophomore Cecy Cruz looks beautiful in her Quincenera gown. Can this be the same girl who wears a catcher's mask and plays in the dirt??

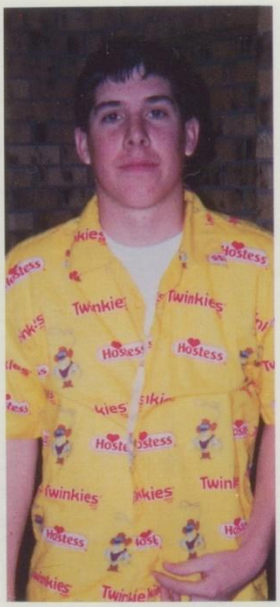

Left:
Beetdigger sportswear is always a popular fashion statement here at BHS. Nicole Garfield, Ashley Stevens, and Suni Grooms are sporting some stunning maroon and gold jackets - a testimony to all their hard work as B-Ball managers.

Junior Mandy Faye Chavez models her "Rock Star" look. Work that boa, babe!

Left:
You look shocked Ms. Loften...did someone just tell you that you have blue hair?! We were pretty surprised, too, but it does make an interesting fashion statement!

Right:
Mrs. Grippin is a vision with her denim jacket, accented by an oh-so-fashionable scarf. No wonder the computer lab is the place to go when you need fashion advice. Hey Grip, did you really get that at a thrift store??

The Class of 2002 enjoys their senior ski trip to El Dora ski area February 4, 2002.

This much-loved tradition started at Brush High School as an alternative to "senior ditch day." According to long-time school counselor Dorothy Thruston, many seniors would ditch a day of school and go out partying. Sadly, several lives were lost as a result of drinking and driving on those days. An alternative "ditch day" was proposed in 1987, and the senior ski trip was born.

Every class in the fifteen years since then has enjoyed this tradition of getting away from school to have fun with friends.

You'll Be There

If one day I wake up in heaven
will you still be holding my hand?
If one day I wake up and cannot see your smile
will you still guide my way?
If one day I wake up and cannot hear your voice
Will you still sing for me?
Because I know if one day I wake up in heaven
you'll be there.
If one day I wake up in heaven
Will you still remember me?
If one day I wake up and cannot hear your voice
Will you still talk to me?
If one day I wake up and cannot see your smile
Will you still be smiling?
'Cause, if one day I wake up in heaven, you'll be there.
