AUGUST

Another school year is upon us as we enter the month of August. The first day of school and the first practices for fall sports are just some of the important events that take place in August. There are many changes we see in Brush High School from the new vice-principal to the new freshman class. Also during the hot blistering month of August you will find several families taking their yearly vacations. Some people are finishing up summer recreational activites, while others are just beginning. Several high school students are just getting ready for the fall season to open. So while many things are ending there are a multitude of events starting.

Lisa Kendrick and Todd Draegert prepare their hogs shortly before the Thursday night livestock sale.

Mrs. Kraich is dressed in her summer morning atire and is not looking forward to the first day of school.

In the month of August, Colorado was noted for holding World Youth Day. Hundreds of thousands of people flocked to Colorado hoping to catch a glimpse of Pope John Paul II, who was the "highlight" of World Youth Day.

Aug. 1-The annual Morgan County Fair involves several students who are members of either a 4-H club or school FFA chapter.

Aug. 6-Morgan County Fair ends and BHS sends its "best" to the State Fair.

Aug. 8- Colorado became the center of attention as the Pope arrived for World Youth Day.

Aug. 15-World Youth Day ends and the population of Colorado drops drastically.

Aug. 16-Mrs. Hofmeister went to Akron along with 12 other district sponsors to plan the FHA activities for the year.

Mrs. Hofmeister serves up some lunch during the FHA Boces luncheon. This was the first year the luncheon had been held as it was a Future Homemakers of America chapter fundraiser.

Brush's Catholic priest, Father Michael, from St. Mary's church, was one of the few who were able to perform during the visit of the Pope at World Youth Day.

Lisa Kendrick, a member of the Valley View Ag. 4-H chapter, slaps the soon to be sausage during the swine division at the Morgan County Fair.

Aug. 20-V Golf placed 4th out of 8 teams here at Bunker Hill Country Club.

Aug. 21-The Colorado State Fair begins. Those who placed highly in County Fair anxiously prepare for another hopeful placing.

Aug. 24-FHA assisted in preparing a Boces sponsored luncheon.

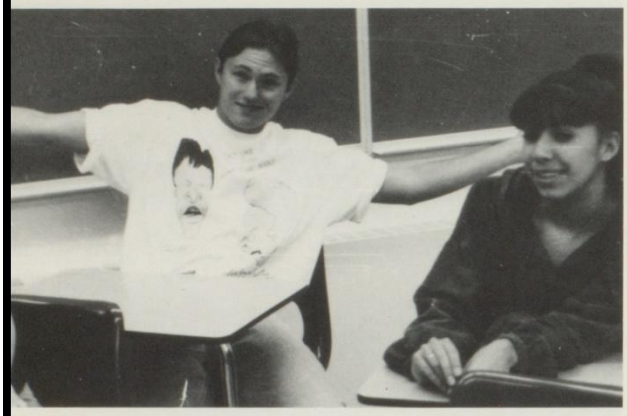

Aug. 25-V Golf traveled to Estes Park where they placed 17th out of 30.

Sean Kelly sports his recently-banned Beavis and Butthead t-shirt in class. Beavis and Butthead were very popular until they were no longer welcome on the attire of students which was a highly talked about and controversial topic.

Students work hard in Mr. Gabriel's physical science class. They are trying to concentrate on school while memories of a great summer are still fresh in their minds. They know it will be many school days and many science lessons until the next summer break.

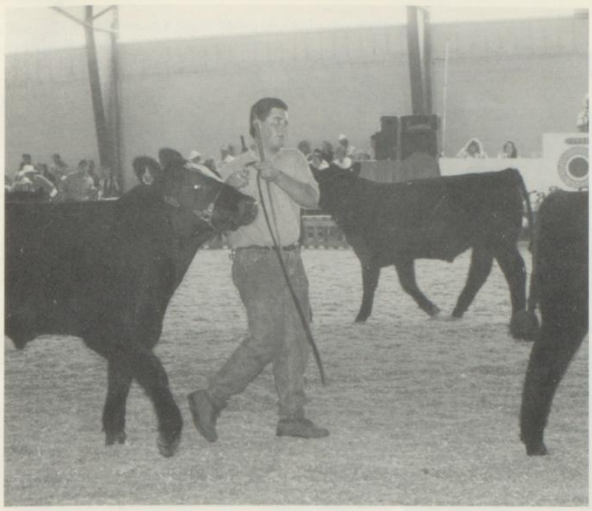

Senior Kim Gotto tries to get assistance from the talented Brush High secretarial staff. She, like most seniors, would like this year to end soon so she can begin her leisurely days at college.

Aug. 27-V Golf traveled to Ft. Morgan were they placed 17th.

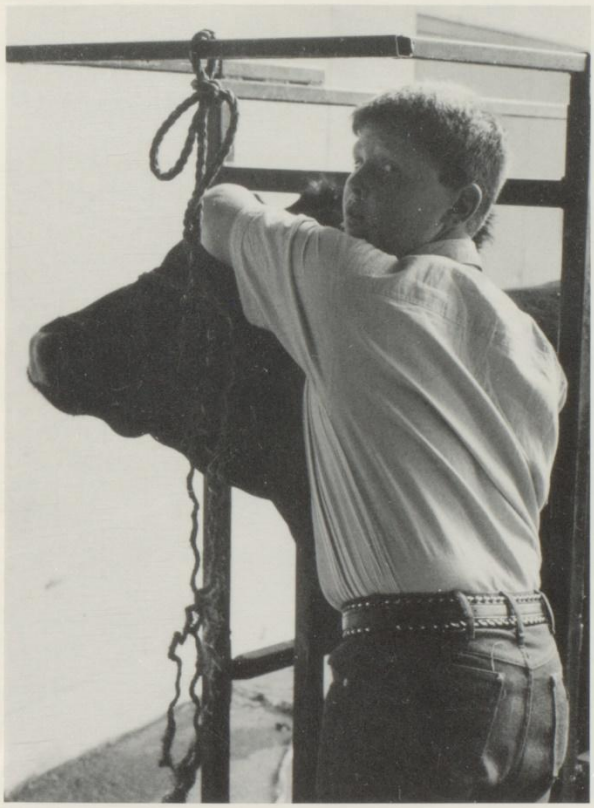

Memorial services were held for Brush High School alumni Alicia Gish.

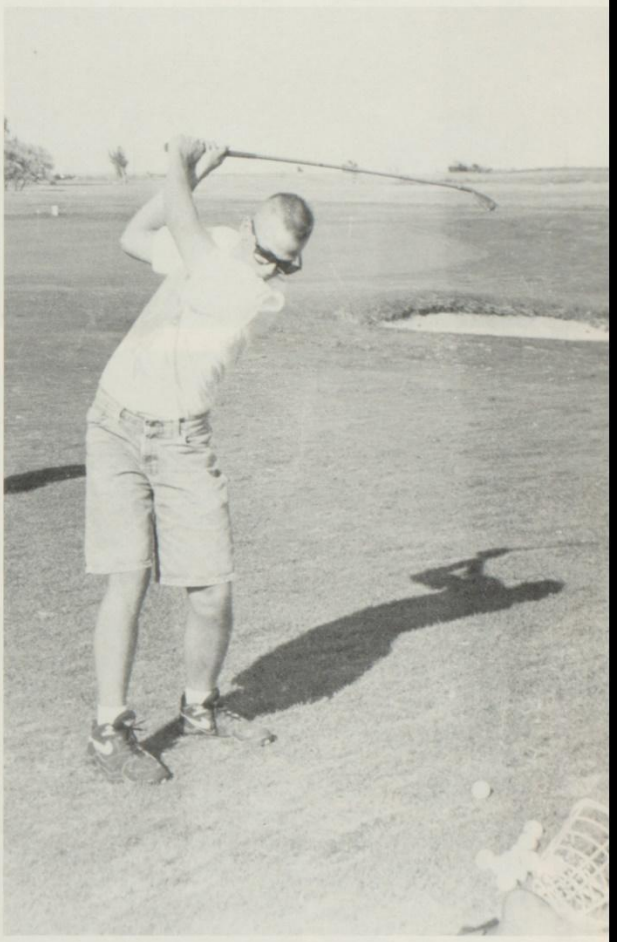

Aug. 28-V Golf Beetdiggers scored 393 points to place 11th out of 13 teams at the Sterling Invitational.

JV Golf placed sixth at the Brush meet.

Ryan Ley displays his steer at the Colorado State Fair in Pueblo. He received Reserve Grand Champion in his division. The State Fair lasted through August 30, and was a big success with Garth Brooks, George Strait and Suzy Boguss performing. There were several Brush citizens who went to the fair to exhibit their talents. Todd Draegert was also a success at the fair. Below, he grooms his Grand Champion Angus steer to perfection.

Brad Bever takes a mighty swing at a golf tournament in Brighton. The entire Brush Golf team did very well considering this is only the second year for the newly formed team and that their competition consisted of mostly 4A schools.

As the halls filled with people and the sounds of slamming lockers, the 1993-94 school year began. The first day of school was filled with nervousness, dread, and excitement.

Aug. 30-Students were exposed to the new rules at a special assembly. The new rules included no hats and no t-shirts endorsing drugs or alcohol.

A few Brush students were lucky enough to miss the first days of school while at the State Fair. The fair continued through the end of August.

September

The Diggers push their way through a rocky season with some help from fullback Bert Garza who rushed for over 1,000 yards during the season and was named All-Conference along with teammates Gene Roberts, John Brill, Joel Hergenreter, Ben Schreiner, Bart Erosky, Robert Gonzales, Ryan Roark, and Chase Felzein. Travis Ocanas received honorable mention.

On the morning of the 14th everyone woke up to the first snow fall of the winter. It reminds some of swishing down the snowy hilltops but for others it means find the shovels, clear the walks and scrape your windshield.

September is a busy month for returning BHS students, and an often scary time for freshmen. "Where do I go? What books do I need? Will any seniors see me? If they do, should I run?"

Lockers are slamming, people are hustling along, voices are echoing down the hall; as a few curious teachers peek out of their rooms.

Unfamiliar faces can be seen bobbing in and out of the crowd as students scramble for their classrooms.

Out on the field, pads are cracking, whistles are blowing, and more than a few athletes can be seen hands on knees fighting for one last gasp of air before the next round of conditioning begins.

Inside the gym, balls are flying , people are yelling , and more than one fundamental drill can be observed. The competition is fierce, but the fun is always there. Old friends are reuniting, and new friendships are being made.

September is a month filled with action, as students, and teachers alike adjust to a new schedule. Some are waking up earlier, while others get to sleep longer. No matter what lifestyle the students and faculty are used to, one thing for sure is, they are in for a lot of excitement.

JV had an exciting win 15-8, and 15-5.

The Soph./Fresh. team was defeated in two games, 11-15, and 13-15.

October was a hectic month. There was something for everyone to do. Fall sports kept athletes busy and working hard as their seasons came to a conclusion. The end of the month brought tension to most students as we ended the first quarter. Other students displayed their "gruesome" side as we had a full moon for Halloween. The second season of Golf ended, and Homecoming festivities brought both school spirit, and excitement to the school. The Forensics team went to a number of meets. Concerning world news: October was filled with unforeseen events. The Nobel Prize was awarded to author Toni Morrison in Literature, the first woman African-American to receive this award. The animated movie Aladdin sold $10.5 million in its first three days. Due to the many wars in Somalia, President Clinton sent more than 5,000 American troops overseas as once again the U.S. intervenes in military "events."

Choir member Stacy Alexander practices diligently to help prepare for their upcoming concert.

Natosha Balderston contributes her skill to the varsity volleyball team as teammate Lisa Kendrick backs her up. Natosha continued on to receive All-State honors along with All-Conference. Kari Carlson was also named All-Conference, and Kelly Pribble received honorable mention.

We've Finally Made It!

Jacob Morland and Jeremiah Miles are thoroughly cofused by the commotion of High School life.

"Looking forward to what?"

It's new, it's different, it's fun, it's big, it's scarry, it's High School. Ninety-six freshmen walked through the front doors on the first day of school probably thinking most of those things. Everyone looks forward to High School until that first day really comes, but after a month they look back and realize just how much fun it really is.

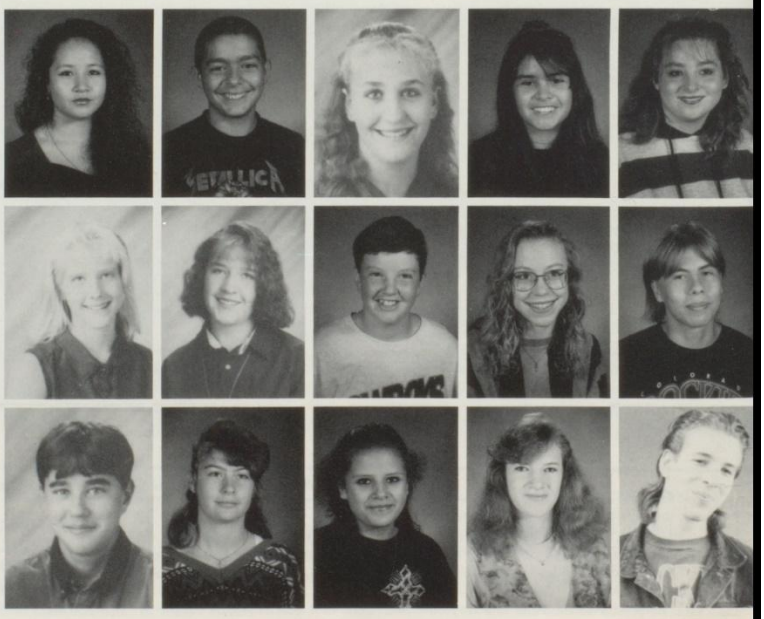

So now that they have made that big step from Middle School to High School and they survived initiation they can start looking forward to their drivers liscense. In the mean time some have older brothers and sisters in the school whom they relie on for transportation. Others still have to use their own two feet and even worse yet some of them are still stuck riding that terrible yellow dog, the bus.

During the first week of school the class officers were voted on. Aspen Kauffman was elected president, Randy Carlson vice-president, April Murrow secretary, and April Friehauf as treasurer.

NOVEMBER

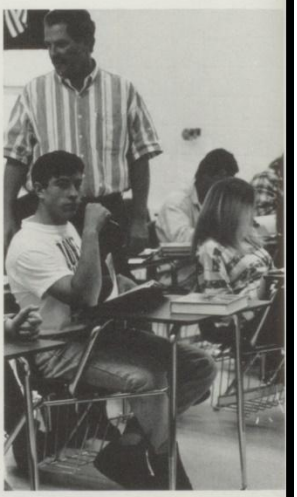

Todd Schreiner takes a quick break while stretching his fingers before getting back to work in the IBM lab.

Cheerleader Amanda Smith demonstrates the cheers to the new members of the cheerleading squad at the first practice of the season for the winter sports.

The weather has changed. School is in full schwing, and students have buckled down. Football players said their farewells, and turned in their beloved pads. The season ended on a winning note, with a chance to make the play-offs. Volleyball ended with an unexpected turn of events at districts. The team had only one loss going into the tournament, but came home with a disappointing end to the season. It is of course the month of November, and stranger things have happened.

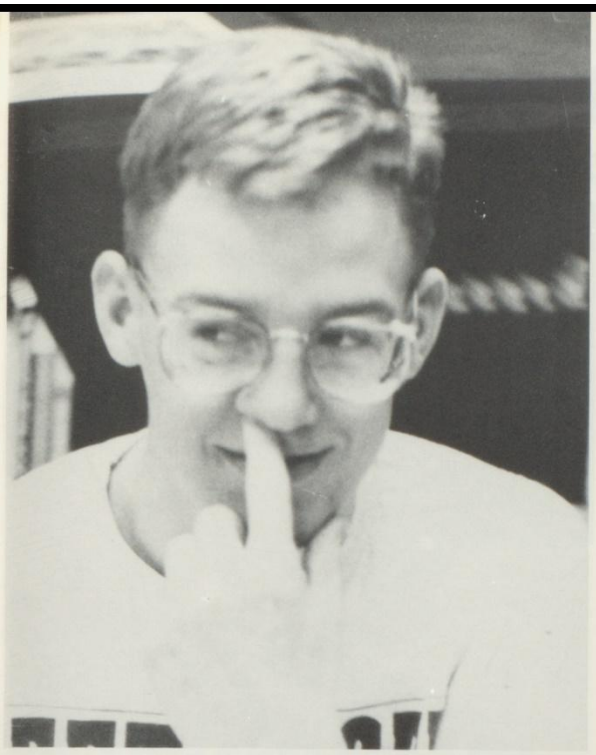

Excelling students stuffed their faces at the first quarter honor roll breakfast. The seniors are beginning their elusive search for scholarships and colleges they would like to attend. Basketball is in action, with the respected teams practicing hard, even over Thanksgiving vacation. This is, as everybody knows, the prime time for face feeding. Families have gathered for the festive meal. The men are huddling around the T.V. watching football as the women talk about the latest gossip. The kids are just happy there is no school, or homework. Oh, it is a happy month.

John Brill seems to be more interested in the commotion going on out in the hall than the Literature lecture Mr. Krob is giving.

December

Now that the school year is in full "swing "and winter weather is upon us, we move into December. December is the time of year for several exciting things: the first basketball games for both the boys and girls were played, wrestlers competed at their first meet of the season, and the holiday season was beginning to make itself known. Decorations and Christmas trees are seen in store windows and on people's houses. Other families are coming into town, and some are going to see their families in other places. We remember the month of December as a busy month in which we celebrated the holidays and escorted out a year gone-by.

Mr. Thornton congratulates BHS genius Chase Felzein during the academic awards where students received awards such as T-shirts, water bottles, and academic letters.

Stuart Cox goes up for two. Stu was one of the four sophomores who helped lead the C team boys throughout the season. They had a rocky start to the 1993-94 season despite a large turnout of freshmen.

Dec. 24-Have you been naughty or have you been nice? Christmas Eve was the night that question was answered for all.

Dec. 25-The long awaited day had finally arrived. It was Christmas Day and the sound of wrapping paper ripping was heard all over the town. Did you get what you wanted?

Dec. 31-New Year's resolutions were far from most students' minds as everyone was out counting down the last few minutes of 1993.

Looking Forward To Respect . . .

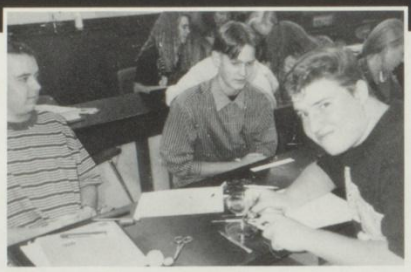

1994, a good year to be a sophomore. The sophomore year is one of transition and radical, sweeping, change.

Forgotten are the days of name calling, senseless violence, and humiliating initiations, and in their place the days of respect, courtesy, and increased responsibility follow.

As the progression is made to the sophomore year, more and more of the class members have attained an elevated status. Sophomores became varsity team members, leaders of student government, pillars of the community, and role models for the new freshmen.

This year's sophomores were no different, and they made the most of the year.

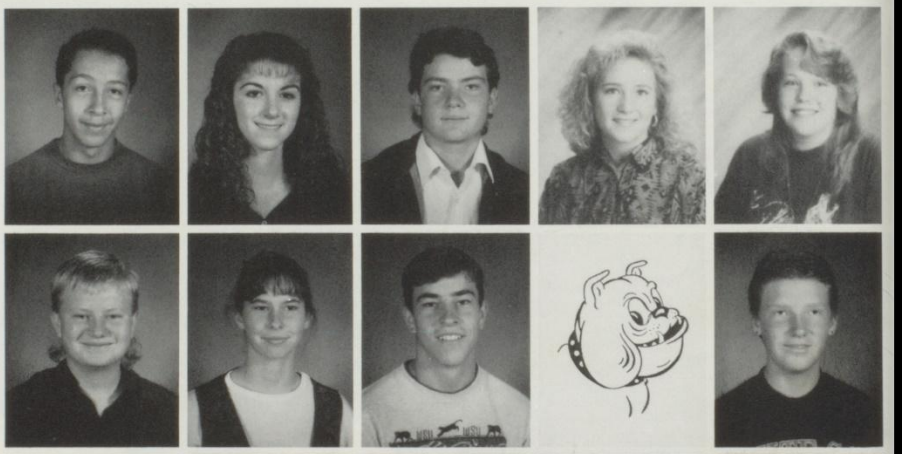

1993-94 sophomore class officers were: Brian Budde (President), Lyndie Bradshaw (VP), and Gregg Roberts (Secretary/Treasurer).

C was defeated by one devastating point 28-29.

Love is in the air! While February was a time for flowers and candy, the students were still hard at work. Basketball players and wrestlers were working hard toward state competition and many of the students were working hard to be sure and get a good report on mid-terms. However, February was not a month of all work and no play. There were plenty of activities going on to occupy our free time. STAND held its annual drive-in. In the past years the drive-in has been a big success, but due to numerous other activities, the attendance rate was down this year. Student Council sponsored the second spirit week of the year which included crazy dress up days and fun noontime activities.

On the 14th, all the girls awaited 3:17 to race down to the cafeteria to see who got the most flowers. Some went home carring a dozen roses, and others went after the bow and arrow, but not the one Cupid uses! Several students enjoyed dancing cheek to cheek with their sweetheart at the Valentine's dance sponsered by the Student Council. To wrap up the Vanentine's spirit, Mr. Lowndes imitated Bob Eubanks as the host of The Dating Game where "dream dates" became a reality.

February brought the high school several days off due to an in-service, Presidents Day, and a day canceled due to the sudden death of Brush School district teacher of 37 years, Mr. Jack Schlueter. The month of February drew a quick close leaving many memories, but short patients as spring break seemed so far away.

Juniors

Looking back to "the first times"...

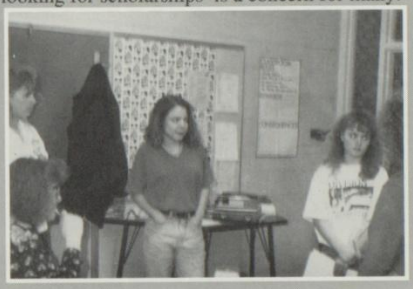

yan Ley threatens the camera man with e tongs of his fork before chowing down n his pancake and sausage, during the econd quarter honor roll breakfast.

The Junior class took an active roll in preparing for various activities to make the year one to look back at and remember the good times. Junior officers inlcluded, President, Lisa Kendrick; Vice President, Marci Johnson; and Sec./Tres., Charity Thompson. Preparing for prom, looking for colleges, and working hard for a varsity position in athletics are just some of the the things juniors are involved in.

The prom committee was made up of several devoted juniors who worked hard to make prom a success. While everyone looks forward to the annual dance, it's also one that everyone remembers when they look back.

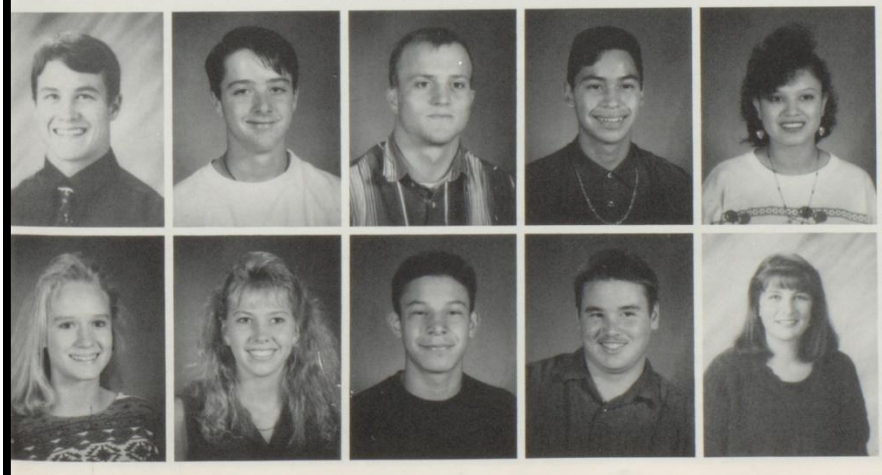

Preparing for the future seems to hit juniors in the face when they realize that next year they're going to be big seniors. Spending a lot of time visiting colleges, and looking for scholarships is a concern for many.

Prom committee members, Lisa Kendrick, Adrienne Derry, Charity Thompson, and sponsor Ms. Michie discuss plans for prom during one of their meetings held every Wednesday after school.

Athletics occupy several juniors free time, while all have the same destination in mind, making the varsity team and winning a state title. Juniors are often looked upon as school leaders, yet they still have another year to meet those destinations.

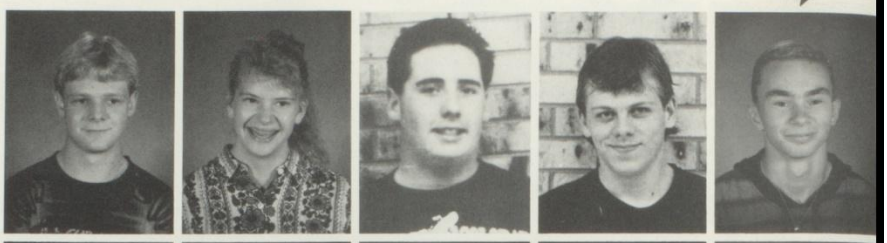

Juniors have been accounted with the most participants when it comes to athletic teams and clubs, which means, "We'll be back!"

March

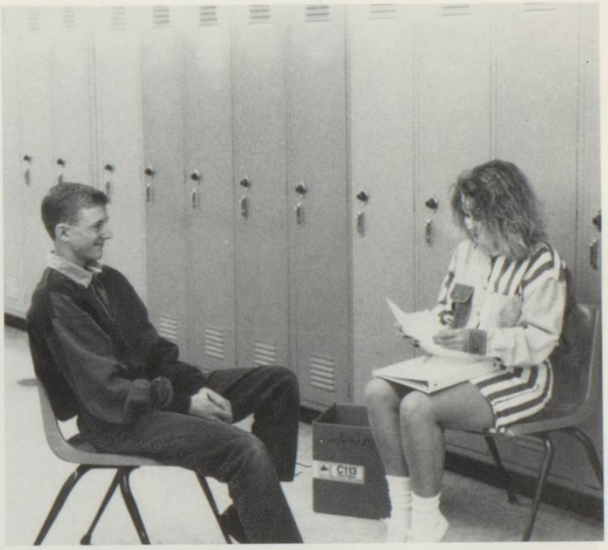

The month of March fell upon us once again and is the time of year that tells us that spring is on the way with summer not far behind. Third quarter coming to an end reminded us that the school year is still going full speed ahead. Of course with the changing of the seasons comes the changing of sports. Track and Baseball teams began practices on the frigid pre-thawed fields of Brush High School. Students also prepared to embark on the nine day party that is better known as Spring Break. With a whole week to waste, some students had a rough time keeping themselves busy and had to get jobs. March is also a month in which many clubs go on their annual field trips. The senior ski trip to Eldora ski area was a big hit. FHA and DECA both competed in their state competitions. March was a month for looking back on the year and preparing for another great summer without school!

April 3- Hickory Dickory Dock, we set ahead our clocks. Daylight savings begins.

Becky Baker shows us her stuff through "walleye" vision.

Once again April fell upon us with the thoughts of school, prom, and the final weeks for the seniors. As we look back on April we see that it was a historical month with the death of Kurt Cobain, the lead singer of Nirvan;former U.S. President, Richard Nixon, and the 26 U.S. troops flying in the two helicopters that were shot down and killed by allied war planes in the "no fly zone" over Iraq. April was also the time for celebration for the actors that won the Oscars. Best Actor was won by Tom Hanks for his performance in Philadelphia and the Best Picture was Schindler's List. But closer to home, the prom, State Science Fair, State FHA Conference, State FBLA, State FFA Judging , and the UNC Jazz Festival all went on. Track and Baseball were in the full swing of things with meets and ballgames going on just about every week. The month of April was the last full month for the seniors while the under classmen still have the full month of May. The month of April was a month to look back on and remember.

While graduation approached, old friends and peers thought back over the thirteen years of school they had spent together. Different vivid pictures come to everyone's mind, but together a picture of unity and friendship was painted through all of them. In years to come the Class of 1994 may drift their seperate ways, but will always be looking back to their years at Brush High School.

May 1-There were many reports of a strange and noisy group meeting together in a ceremonial-type animal roasting. By some strange coincedence, the DECA barbecue ocurred on the same day.

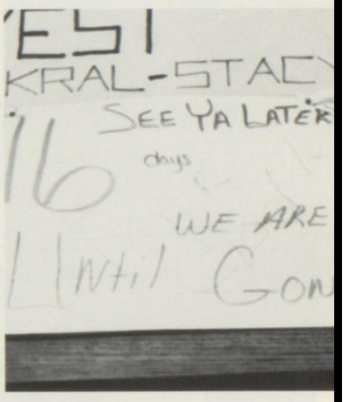

May 2-Honorable students were given their awards at the National Honor Society banquet.

MAY

As the school year draws to a close, and the temperatures start to rise, we are aware that spring is definitely here with summer not far behind. May 1994 was a month in which some of the activities begin to slow down. This decline of activeness indicates to us that our school year which has led us through so much is starting to end. The grass had turned a bright green as we watched the Digger baseball team play in their district tournament. Those who qualified for state in track practiced extra hard, and those who didn't quite make it to the state level made their final effort at the non-qualifiers meet. Most of the clubs at Brush High took days off from school to go on their field trips. Brush High clubs could be found anywhere from the zoo to Elitch Gardens. The end of the year also marks the end of the semester, and those horrible displays of knowledge (or lack of it) that are otherwise known as final tests. The seniors have their last days in the second week of May. For them it was a time of reflecting back on their high school careers, and looking forward to what lies ahead in their future. Be it college, or working, or watching game shows on their parents' TV, it doesn't really matter to most seniors as long as they're not in school anymore. For the rest of us we have many more days to look forward to at Brush High. More Homecomings, more weekends with friends, more proms, and more Mays spent looking back on the school year. May was also a month for looking forward to summer. Many students will spend the summer months doing nothing. Hey, isn't that what summer is for? But others will be just as busy, if not busier, than during the school year. Activities such as baseball, track, and fishing occupy some people's time. Others will be busy making a living (money to party with) by upholding a part-time job. May was a time to remember for the students at BHS, it was truly a time for looking forward to looking back.

The Seniors thought it would be nice for the rest of us to see how much more school we had to go to than them. Countdown posters could be found all around the school.

May 3-Brush tracksters who didn't quite make the cut at the regional meet got a chance to redeem themselves at the non-qualifiers meet on the BHS track.

May 4-Honor Society students went to the zoo, Imax, and the 16th street mall for their annual field trip.

May 20-Baccalaureate was held in the BHS gymnaism. Baccalaureate is a sermon to a graduating class. The sermon, by Pastor Dan Pierce, was intitled "You've Come a Long Way Baby!" The Copyright Choir members sang "We're the Future of Tomorrow" and then just the senior choir members sang "Friends."

MAY

The senior members of the choir sang a touching version of "Friends" during the baccalaureate ceremony.

Kim Gotto gave the members of her class a single puzzle piece and told them that they symbolized the memories they had shared together, and to hold on to them for life.

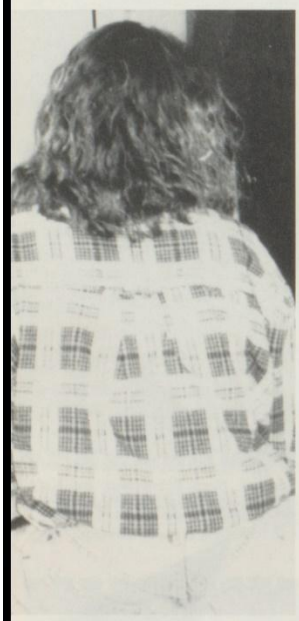

The new beginning for an old group of friends. Anne Gaspers, Norm Schneinder, and Katy Wagers share in the celebration of a completed twelve years.

May 21-When they entered kindergarden on the very first day of school, they had no idea that they would all grow and learn together for the next 12 years. They made many new friends along the way and became best friends for life. Graduation was the last time the class of '94 would be together as a whole until their ten year reunion. Eighty students graduated from BHS this year. The graduation speakers included Anne Gaspers and Kim Gotto. BHS wishes the best of luck to the graduated seniors. "You've come a long way baby!"

Junior, Adrienne Derry, began cleaning out her locker (looking for any left over lunch that could be stuck in a corner with unusual creatures growing and building a new home) before she left for the summer and the janitors had to discover it.

VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) members, Noah Roberts, Scott Schreiner, Tom Rivera, Advisor Mr. Craft, Justin Hefner, and Travis Ocanas. Not pictured, Ryan Piepho and Mike Brunkhardt. VICA attended a Fall Leadership Conference in Ft. Morgan at the Madison where they feasted upon chicken fried steak, lumpy mashed potatoes, and freshly picked green beans. After their scrumptious lunch they participated in leadership building activities. Both Scott Schreiner and Noah Roberts agree that the conference was a worth while learning experience. This is the last year for the VICA club at BHS, next year it will be held in Ft. Morgan through MCC.

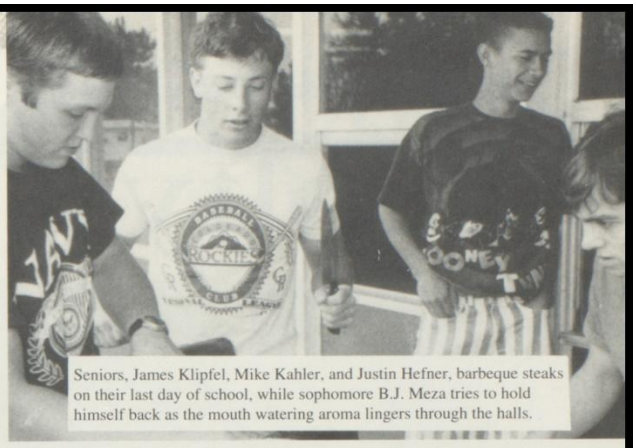

May 24-The first day of finals hit us straight in the face. The cramming for tests last night until 2:00 a.m. wasn't such a good idea, ay?

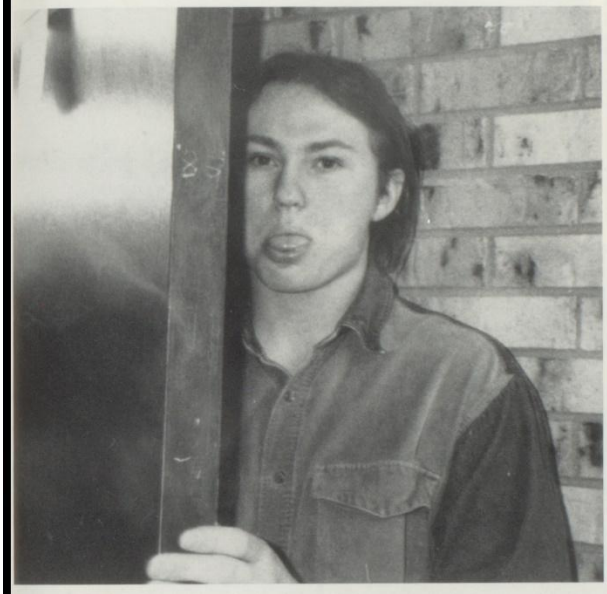

May 25-The second day of finals was underway. Some of you caught that Tuesday night $2.00 flick in Morgan to ease the stress from yesterday' s trials, but that was a big mistake. Not only were you tired, but that whole 2 bucks completely wiped you out!

May 26-The last day of school and no more circle filling until next year!

MAY

Seniors, James Klipfel, Mike Kahler, and Justin Hefner, barbeque steaks on their last day of school, while sophomore B.J. Meza tries to hold himself back as the mouth watering aroma lingers through the halls.

Above, Senior Sean Kelly tries to squeeze behind Mr. Lowndes's door in an attempt to ditch second hour. In disgust, he sticks his tongue out at the camera man who caught him in action.

Which way is up? Juniors Jaime Bostron and Beth Blake were just having one of those brain busting, totally confusing, tired of school days!

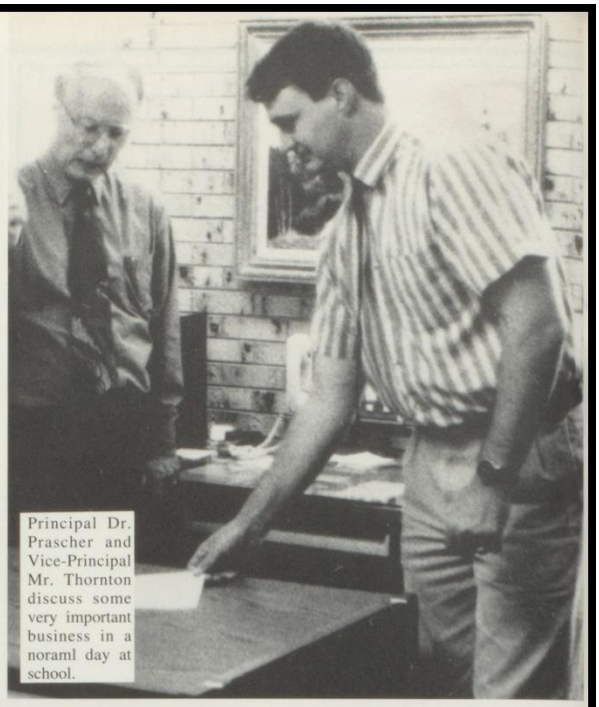

May 27-The teachers finally evacuated the school, but they'll be back.

May 31-Memorial Day. Finally, school was officially out for the summer. Everyone could relax and enjoy soaking up the sun.

A look at the Faculty

Mr. Worthley and Mrs. Thruston are veteran counselors at Brush High School. They pose beautifully for the only picture of them in the yearbook.

Principal Dr. Prascher and Vice-Principal Mr. Thornton discuss some very important business in a noraml day at school.

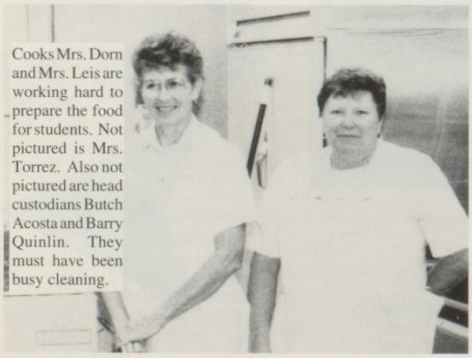

Science teachers Mrs. Florian, Mr. Miner, and Mr. Gabriel are ready to whip up another experiment for their classes.

Cooks Mrs. Dorn and Mrs. Leis are working hard to prepare the food for students. Not pictured is Mrs. Torrez. Also not pictured are head custodians Butch Acosta and Barry Quinlin. They must have been busy cleaning.

The Vocational Education staff Mr. Vinson, Mrs. Hofmeister, Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Craft teach such classes as Ag, Consumer Family Studies, Woods, Drafting, and Auto Mechanics at BHS.

Faculty at BHS

The tutorial and special ed teachers Mrs. Mesch, Mr. McGee, and Ms. Michie. Not pictured are Mr. Taylor and Mr. Vinson.

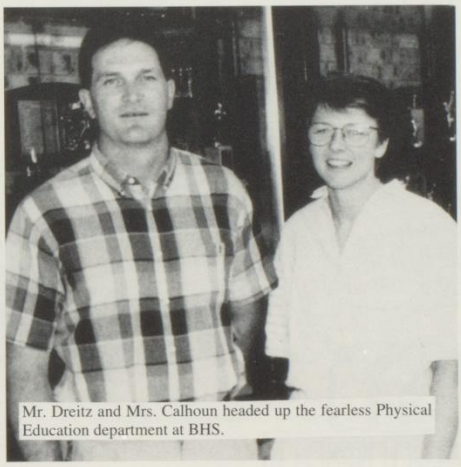

Ms. Romero was head of the music department and Mr. Sumner was the head of the art department.

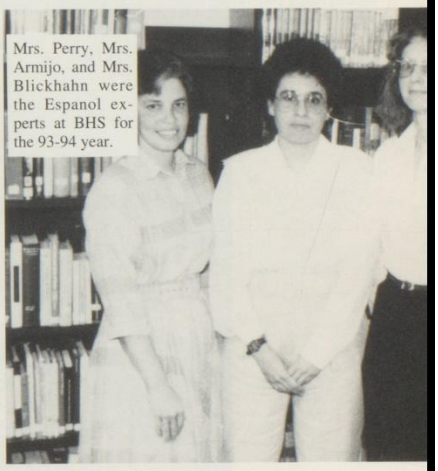

The secretaries Mrs. King, Mrs. Bitner, and Mrs. Kendrick are ready at the spur of the moment to help anyone that comes to the counter.

Mrs. Atkin and Mr. Thimmig were the head of the business department at BHS for the 93-94 year.

Mr. Dreitz and Mrs. Calhoun headed up the fearless Physical Education department at BHS.

Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Armijo, and Mrs. Blickhahn were the Espanol experts at BHS for the 93-94 year.

The almighty English Department for 93-94 was Mrs. Blickhahn, Mr. Krob, Mr. Lowndes, and Mr. Hess.

The Social Studies department consisted of Mr. Dillehay, Mrs. Florian, and Mr. Mills.

While the school year concluded, graduates looked forward to their departure to "the real world," while the rest of us had our eyes set on the simple things like late games at the ball park with a bag of sunflower seeds, blistering sunburns, cannonballs at the pool, picnics, barbeques, fireworks, and just cruising the streets. The one thing we all had in common though, was the fact that when we looked back over the year the memories were vivid and unforgetable.

The Brush High School athletes ended the year without a state title, yet their efforts and accomplishments were very impressive, and will only be built on in the years to come. The academics were the same as years gone by. We all took our Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic and crammed for those Hades-like finals.

As much as we would like to deny it, we will miss school. We will miss the classes, the teachers and the other friends that we get to see everyday at school. Maybe not right away, but they will be missed.

We can't spend all of our time reflecting on the past, though. We must be prepared for what lies ahead in each of our futures. Looking ahead to other things that we may be involved in in the future gives us more time to prepare today. It could be college or junior college or more high school and we must be prepared for the challenges that lie ahead of us. But we will always have the times that we spent during the 1993-94 school year at Brush High School.

Looking Forward to... 1994

1994 Colophon

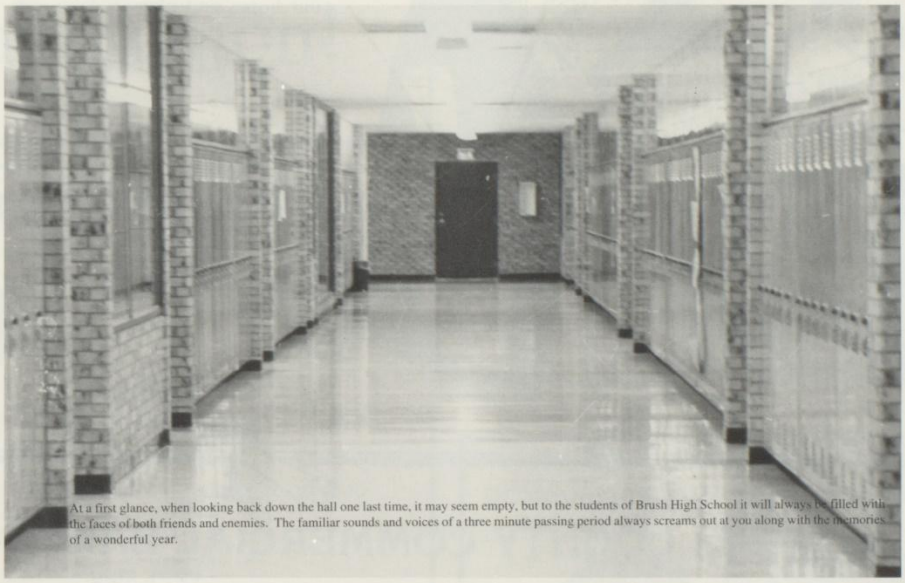

The 1994 Sagebrush was produced by the Brush High School journalism staff with technical assistance from Advisor Mr. Jay Lowndes and Walsworth Representative Mr. Greg Stimack. Professional group pictures were provided by Zemi Photography and Lasting Images.

The cover design was produced by Jay Lowndes, Jaime Bostron, Mr. Sumner, and Leighanna Grupp.

Two-hundred and twenty copies were sold.

At a first glance, when looking back down the hall one last time, it may seem empty, but to the students of Brush High School it will always be filled with the faces of both friends and enemies. The familiar sounds and voices of a three minute passing period always screams out at you along with the memories of a wonderful year.

Looking Back... 1993

Congratulations Grad

As you move ahead to meet new challenges and greater responsibilities, we'd like to add our own personal Good Wishes for the fulfillment of your hopes and plans.

GOOD LUCK!
