Sleepy freshmen boys raised the flag every morning; while on the inside of the building students said the pledge of allegience.

BRUSH HIGH MEMORABLE

A school is not a school without people, and during the 1963-64 school year, Brush High School had more than it could hold. The first day enrollment at BHS totaled 357, one of the largest on record.

Students were everywhere. They filled the halls, classrooms, and lockers to over-capacity. The old building groaned and strained under the load as students did everything they had done in the past, but in a better way.

New records were set; both scholastic and athletic. Among the proudest were the girls of the class of '66, who boasted seven 4.00's on the semester honor roll.

Below, Mike Lally and Tom Harbert utilize time in a biology class.

Freshmen were more plentiful than ever at BHS.

Physics class proved intriguing to two senior girls.

Sophomores, as well as others, became easily distracted.

SAGEBRUSH PRESENTS EVENTS OF '63-64 YEAR

Dances, such as the Sadie Hawkins event, were attended by eager Brush High students.

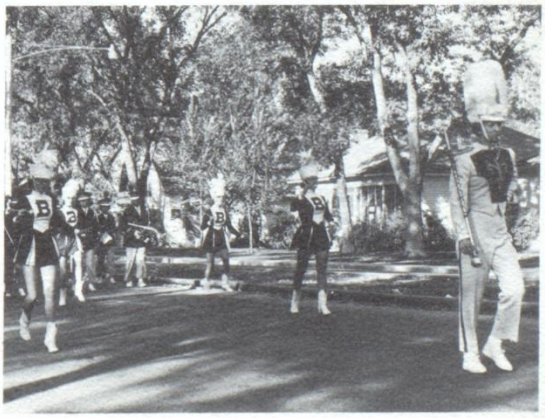

Faculty members, such as Mr. Price and Mrs. Van Dyke, displayed an avid interest in Brush High School and its students.

Office provided many opportunities to gain practical experience for future years.

Memories that remain from this year will be of people; students and teachers alike: the work they accomplished, the fun they had, and the trouble they devised. All who came to Brush High School contributed their share to a more-than-successful year. Faculty, freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors were all a little sad to see the end come.

The high school's marching band, composed of ambitious students, excelled in various contests.

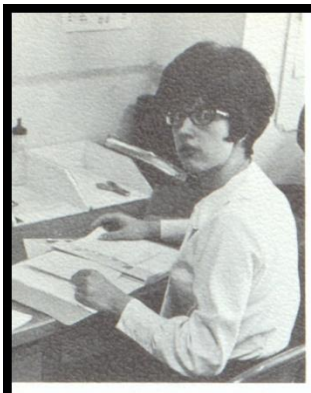

J-STAFF PRODUCES PAPER, YEARBOOK

Headed by Rosie Schomerus and Paul Hulkovich, the BHS Sagebrush Reporter staff of 17 worked under faculty advisor, Mr. Thomas Woolley during the 63-64 school year.

Paul edited the yearbook of 136 pages while Rosie was in charge of the paper for her second year.

Confined to the journalism room because of the larger school-wide enrollment, the staff managed to function in the small amount of space. Often, they overflowed into the auditorium.

Cynthia von Riesen will head next year's staff.

Rosie Schomerus, editor, assigns stories for the paper.

Paul Hulkovich checks yearbook assignments.

Cynthia von Riesen, copy editor, reads copy.

Staff members fold ROTO's, the national scholastic magazine available to BHS students.

Eddie Loose, Ad Manager, assigns the ads for the Sagebrush.

Mike Mitchell, John Bloom, and Barb Foos struggle to meet deadline.

Judy Scott was Exchange Manager for the paper.

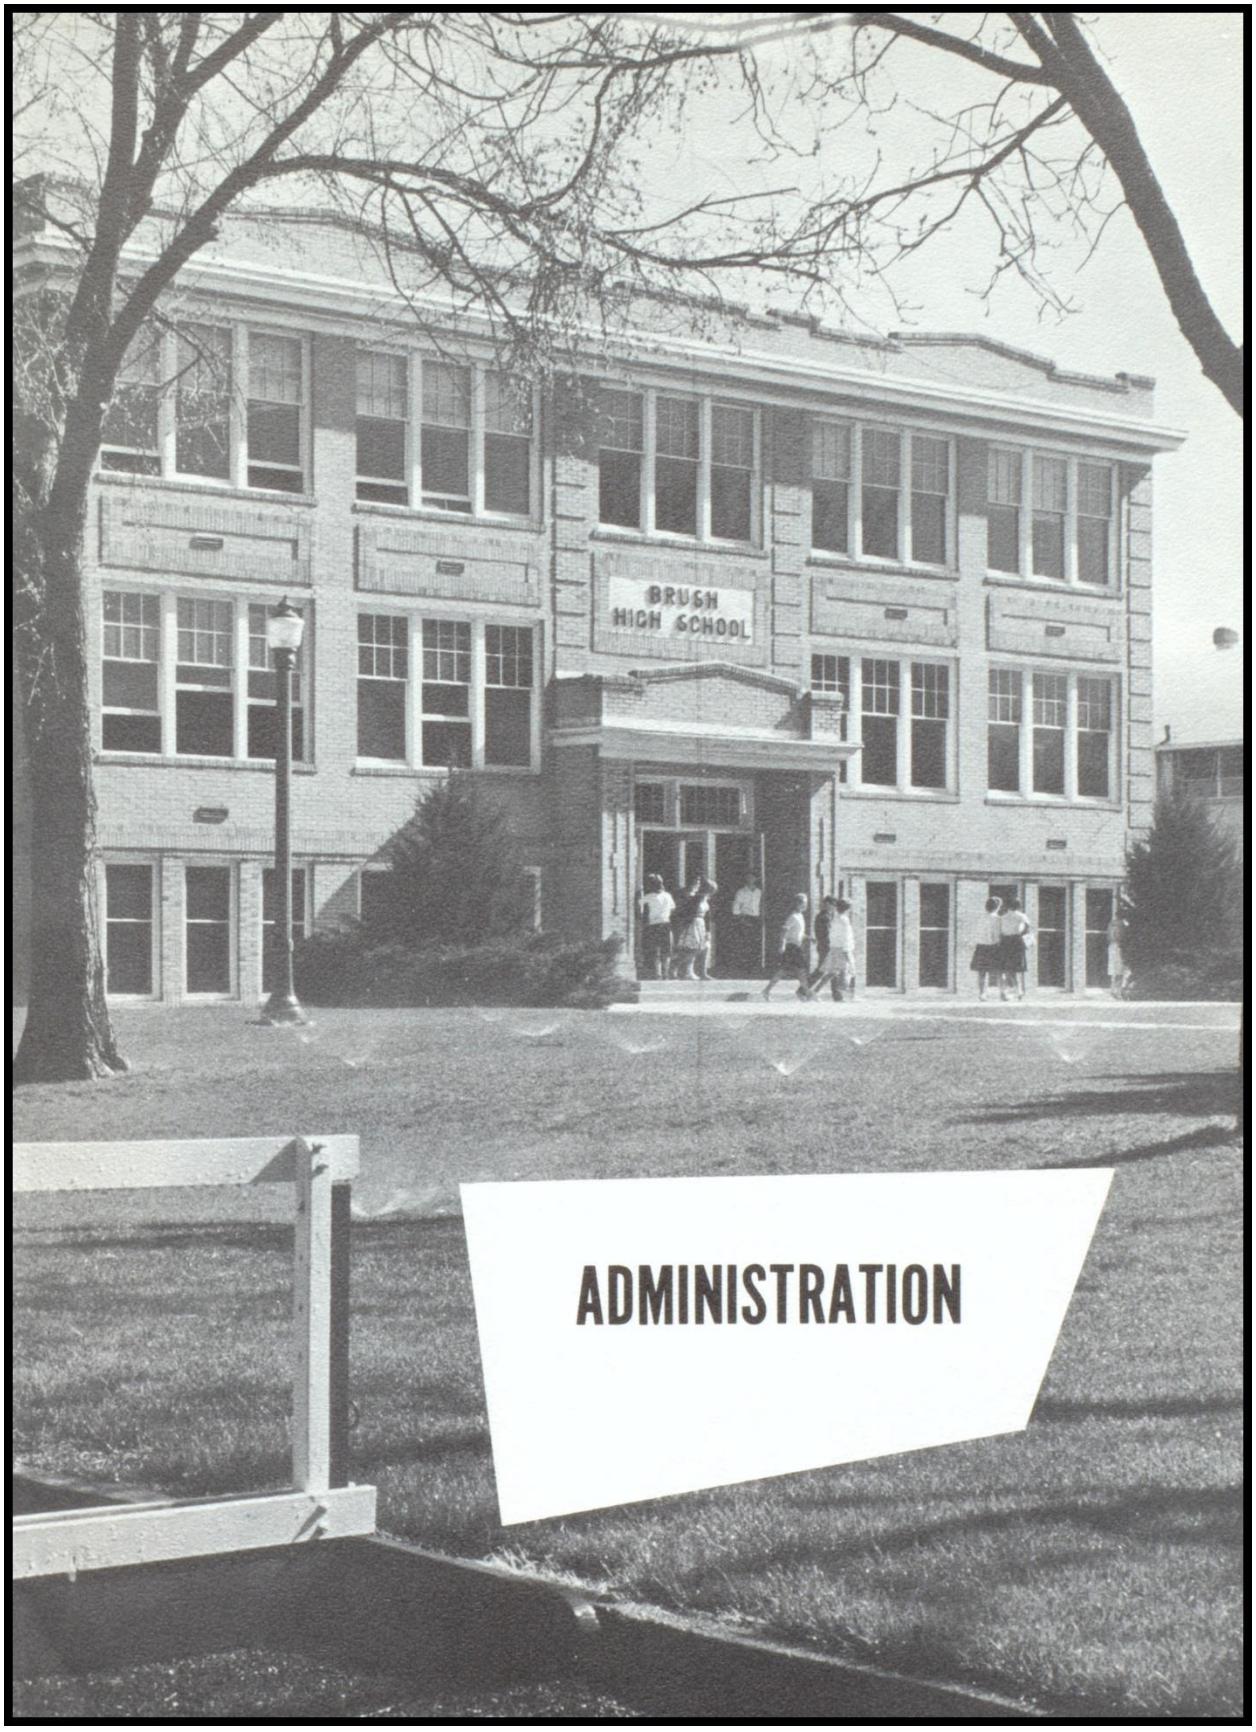

Phyllis Vodehnal, Lynn Reynolds, and Mary Ann Callen work on yearbook assignments.

Mr. Thomas C. Woolley was faculty advisor and photographer.

Diana Nickum, Carolyn Brown, and Rosie Schomerus consult dummy to resolve point of conflict.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

LINKS SCHOOL, COMMUNITY.

John Lindell presided over each meeting as President of the Board of Education.

Meeting on the first Monday of each month, the members of the Board of Education discuss different bills and procedures which might benefit the schools in District Two.

At the first of the year, the board figures out a fiscal budget for the schools in the district to follow.

There are five members on the board. Each member, not including the secretary, is elected for a six-year term.

Heading the board this year was the newly elected president, John Lindell. Vice-president and former trustee on the board was Don Mitchell. Grace Jeffers served as secretary and Raymond Fries took care of the financial matters as treasurer for the Board. This year's trustees were Robert Wagers and George White.

E. W. THOMSON
SUPERVISES DISTRICT TWO

To SENIOR CLASS OF 1964

Each individual is blessed with the power of making choices. You have chosen well so far in remaining in school to complete this chapter in your lives.

I hope the school has done as well its part in your program of life. I wish for each of you, that by intelligent and responsible actions, you will write many successful chapters to your future endeavors.

MR. LALLY COMPLETES DECADE AS PRINCIPAL

Dear Students,

This past school year has been one of challenges and great events for our country and the world. History will record the assassination of President Kennedy and the war in Viet Nam for posterity.

This annual will record the important events of your school year for your future. We hope it recalls more victories than defeats, more joys than sorrows, more achievements than disappointments.

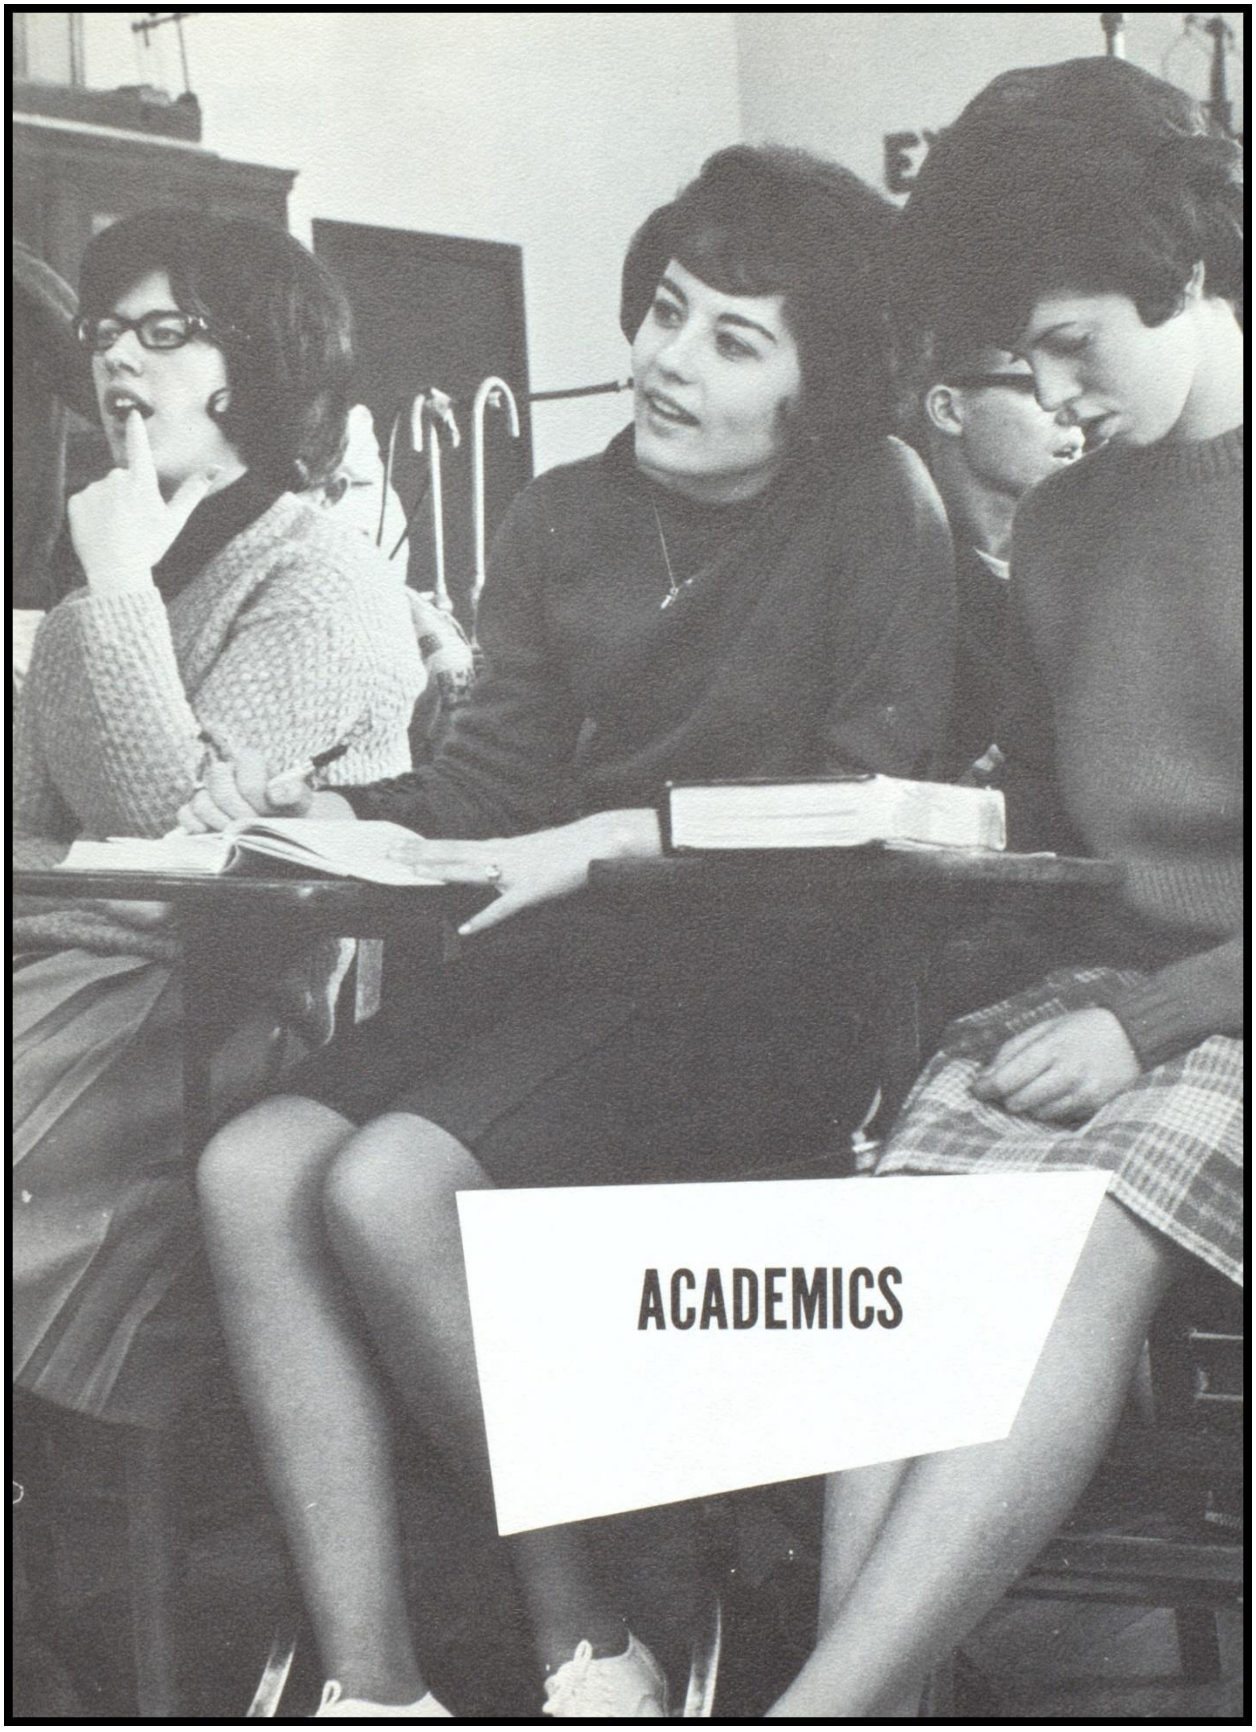

Sincerely,
Thomas Lally

Ten years ago, Mr. Thomas Lally moved into the office he now occupies. Since then, his ability to handle the problems of Brush High School and its students has put his past knowledge to a test.

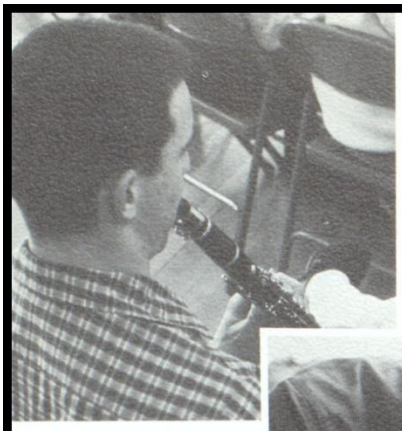

Mr. Lally finished his secondary education at Central High School in Pueblo, Colorado. He then attended the University of Oklahoma and the University of South California, where he recieved his Bachelor of Science in education and his Master's Degree in education.

After completing college, Mr. Lally taught freshmen math and coached basketball and baseball at Brush. He then assumed the position of principal, which he still holds.

ACADEMICS

INTERESTS VARY

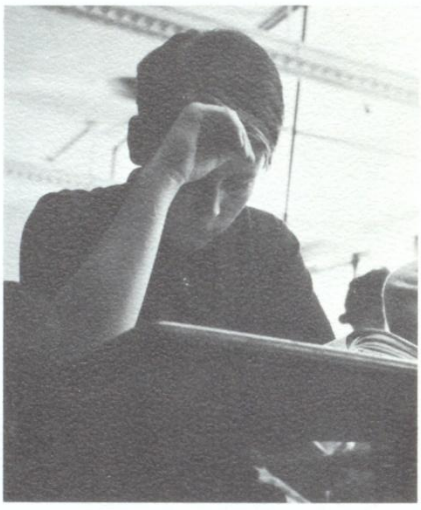

Mike Meier practices on his clarinet.

Due to the rather pleasing results of last year's academic section, the publications staff decided to run to section again this year. It is designed to give an idea of the daily schedules of the students of Brush High School.

Ron Miller strives for perfection.

Concentration is the key to success for Mike Stimson.

Top: Reubenetta Ickes, Larry Eskew, bottom; Bob Blackburn, and Sherrill Bostron find individual study to be an important part of daily class work.

AT B.H.S.

Pictured throughout the section are students who are listening to lecture, participating in class discussion, or studying individually. Instructors, too, are shown executing their daily activities.

Dian Olson and Paulette McCracken register concentration during classroom demonstration.

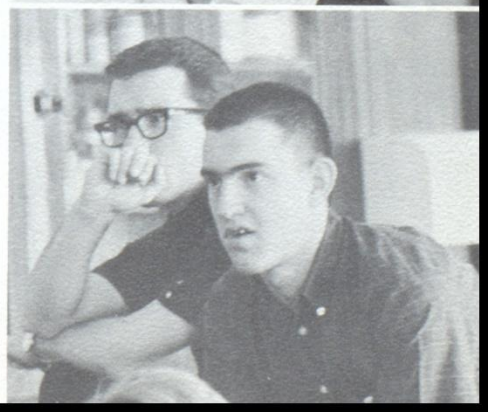

Clifford Pabst ponders on dissection of his frog.

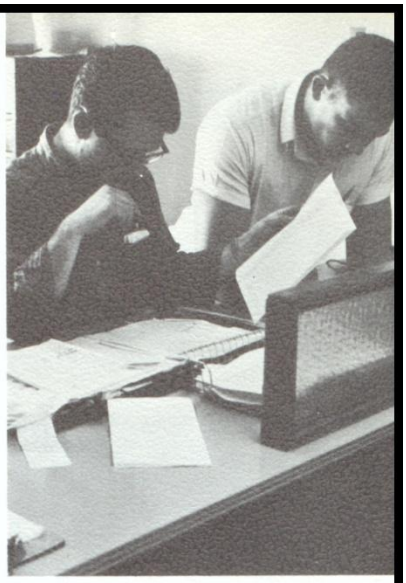

Alva Baldwin checks his typing paper with the manuscript.

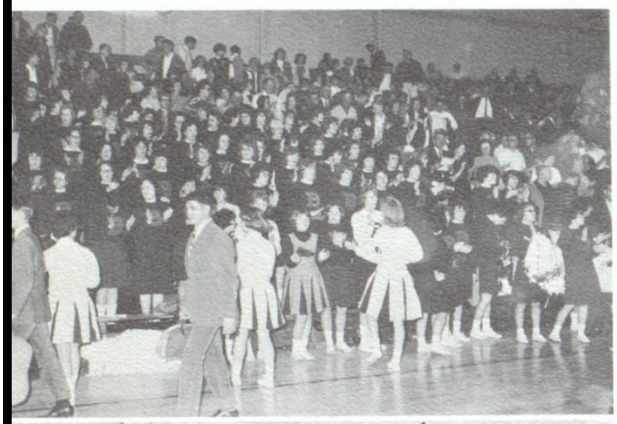

Joel Sears, Tom Wolfe, Lyle Baade, and Mike Meier show great interest in a demonstration of television operation.

Mike Tomasini and Lyle Baade check roll sheets in the office.

Brush High's massive Pep Club cheers the Beet-diggers on to victory at the state tournament.

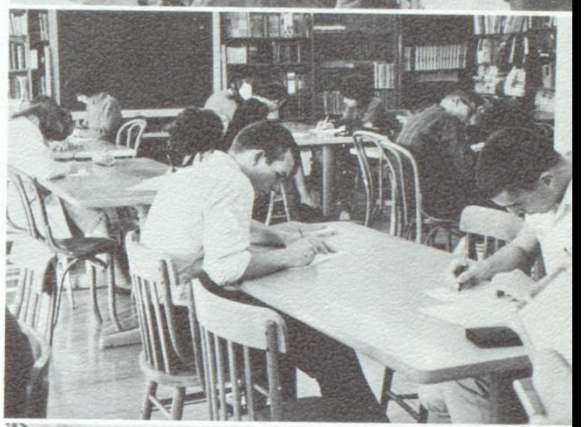

The students listen attentively to Mrs. Queen's instructions.

The competition in Mrs. Woolley's P.E. classes is very keen.

Band students practice diligently for next concert.

The senior English students, under the supervision of Miss Walters, work to complete their assignment.

Mr. Neill lectures to his freshmen English classes.

Mr. Mercer gives the Brush High School Band a helping hand on the drums at state.

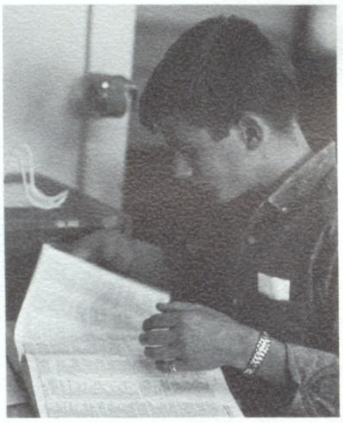

MRS. VAN DYKE HEADS COUNSELING

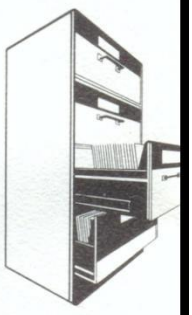

Much of her time was spent in individual counseling and guidance, and giving tests.

Mrs. Jane VanDyke became a full time counselor at B.H.S. this year, having served as teacher-counselor in former years. During her year as counselor, she taught units on careers and education to the seniors. Throughout the lessons, the students of the senior class broadened their knowledge of careers and the many opportunities for education beyond the high school.

Throughout the year, eight tests were given to the students of B.H.S. Starting in September, the Orientation Tests were given to the freshmen and, in October, the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests were given to the juniors. The PSAT is a fore-runner to the SAT, college entrance test. The California Mental Maturity Tests, given in December, were given in two steps; the intermediate form was given to the freshmen, and the advanced form to the seniors.

Early in the new year, the junior class took the Kuder Interest Inventory which helped them to know their own interests. Also in January, the sophomores took the Sequential Test of Educational Progress. The STEP and CMM tests were graded by the State Guidance Department. Mrs. VanDyke gave the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests to the juniors in March. College bound students in the senior class were given the Scholastic Aptitude Tests, which are required to be taken when applying to most colleges or universities in Colorado; or the American College Tests, which are required for applying to junior colleges.

SPEECH OFFERED FOR FIRST TIME

Speech, offered this year for the first time as a separate class, was taught by Mr. Thomas Woolley, and was opened to juniors and seniors only.

As the year started, the class was taught the basics of public speaking. Later, speech construction and presentation were studied.

During the last six weeks, members of the class divided into groups and presented parts of the better plays.

Those who attended The Speech Meet await the results of the first two rounds.

In April, sixteen members of the class attended their first and only speech meet. They returned with one first place pin and eleven excellent ratings.

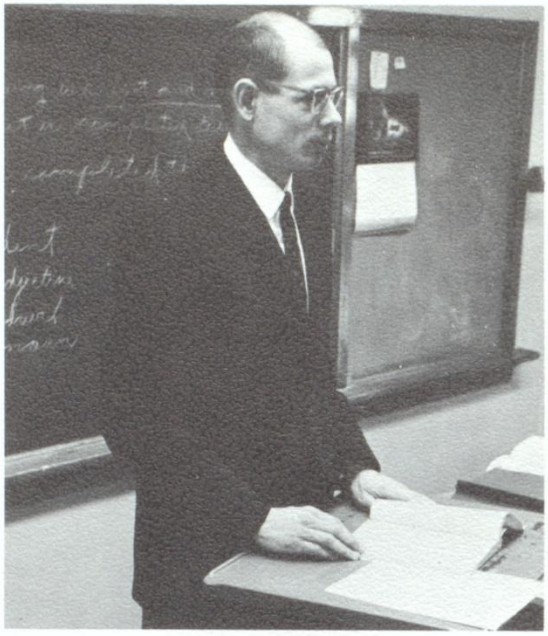

Mr. Woolley said that he worked on a small class basis in order to allow more individual participation.

During debate work, partners took notes on what was being said while spectators listened for a point to cross examine.

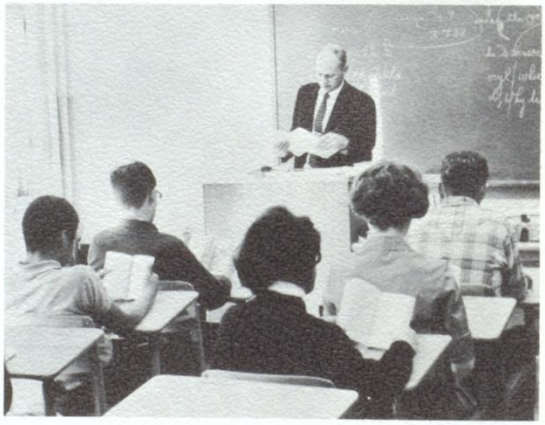

GRAMMAR, COMPOSITION, LITERATURE CONSTITUTE

Mr. Schantz completes one of his lectures on the composition of paragraphs.

Mr. Neill checks through some of his freshmen English papers during the day.

David Wagers works to complete an assignment during his sixth period English IV class.

FOUR YEAR PROGRAM

From the moment a student enters Brush High School, he begins his four year required study of English.

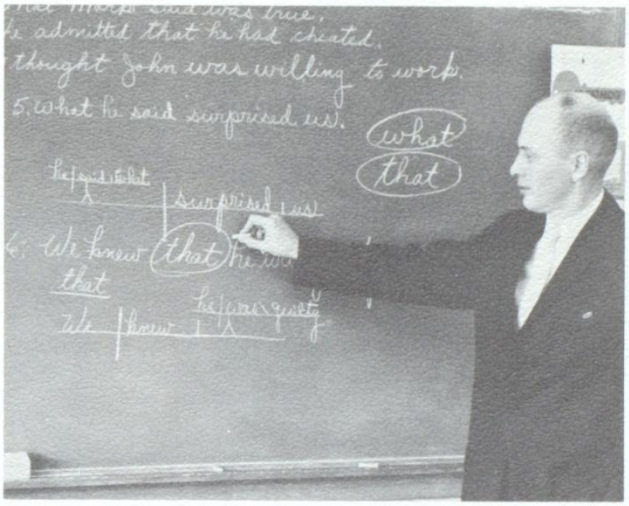

Freshmen, under the guidance of Mr. Neill, reviewed the fundamentals of grammar and composition and submitted book reports every six weeks. They also made a general study of literature, which included such works as David Copperfield and Treasure Island.

The sophomores made a more detailed study of grammar with a small amount of work on composition. They also went into a type of fundamental analysis of literature, which took in all types of stories by many noted authors. One of the novels, A Tale of Two Cities, told the story of the French Revolution and the fall of the government of France.

For the juniors, under Mrs. Queen, the work consisted of some grammar at the first of the year; speech around the beginning of the second semester; and spelling and literature near the end of the year. Mr. Schantz's class, for the most part, worked on the analysis of American literature. Some of the stories that were read were The Last of the Mohicans and Moby Dick.

Mr. Schantz's junior English class prepares the following day's assignment.

Mr. Neill demonstrates sentence diagramming to one of his freshmen English classes.

Checking over the seniors' assignments was one of the duties of Miss Walters.

Miss Walters instructed the seniors and enlarged their vocabularies by having them study the construction and formation of words. Her classes read some literature during the year; but also spent some of the time on composition. One of the books read was Nicholas Nickelby, by Charles Dickens.

HISTORY CONNECTS PAST WITH PRESENT

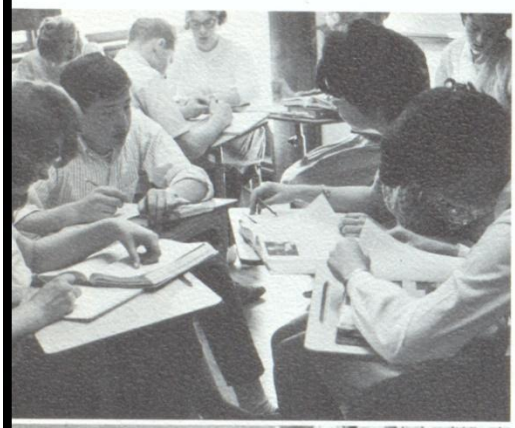

Brush High School's Social Science department includes the courses of social studies, world history, American History and American Problems. These courses of study are instructed by Mr. Larry Kahle, Mr. Thomas Woolley, and Mr. Paul Stimson. World history is the only social science subject that is not required for graduation.

Throughout the year, the freshmen spent six weeks on the teenagers book, learned many important facts about government, and were required to read a current events magazine each week.

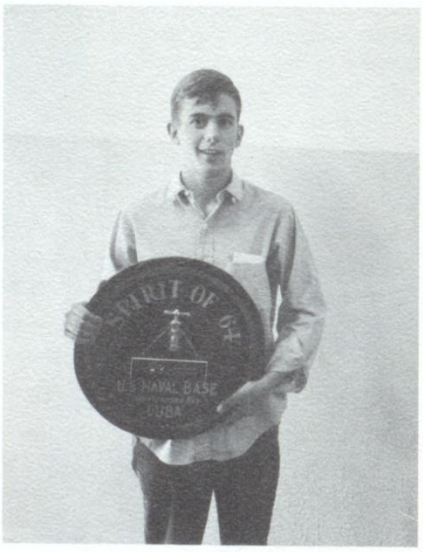

In World History, Mr. Woolley required his students to read a novel and write a short research paper each six weeks. At the end of the year they wrote a longer research paper.

Mr. Stimson oversees American History classes.

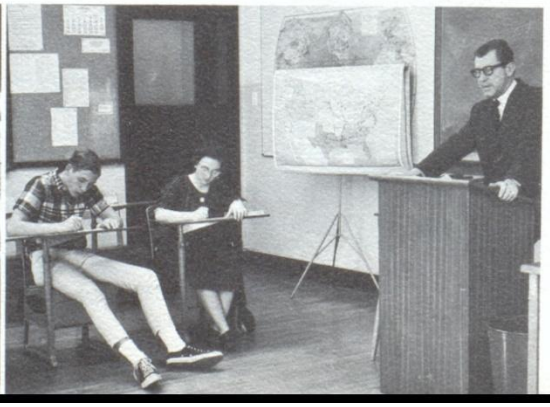

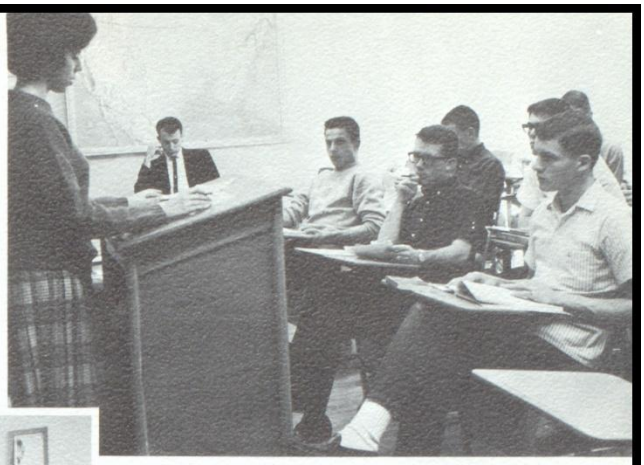

Mike Mitchell poses with the plaque.

Mr. Stimson spent most of the year giving lectures with the students taking notes. The juniors were also expected to keep American History notebooks. These notebooks contained names of famous people, dates, and answers to the questions given in the text book.

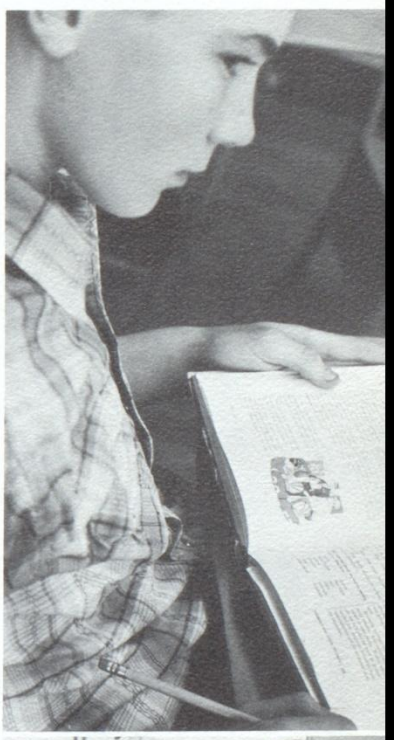

In American Problems the seniors read their Newsweeks every week and discussed the problems that concerned the citizens of the nation. The American Problems class was under the direction of Mr. Kahle.

Pictured above is the fifth period American Problems class. Kathy Von Riesen speaks to the class on her topic in economics.

The fifth period American Problems class saw a Screen News Digest on the pipeline cutting of the water connection between Cuba and Guantanamo. After seeing the film, the class then decided to write and inquire about purchasing this pipe. Mike Mitchell volunteered to write the inquiry. On April the 27th, Mike received word from Rear Admiral John D. Bulkeley, Commander of Guantanamo Naval Base that, in response to their request, they were sending a memento of the cutting of the water pipeline. On May 8th, the plaque was received. Mike then presented the plaque to the high school on the 21st of May. The pipe will be displayed in the trophy case along with the letter from Admiral Bulkeley and the history of the plaque.

MATH DEPARTMENT

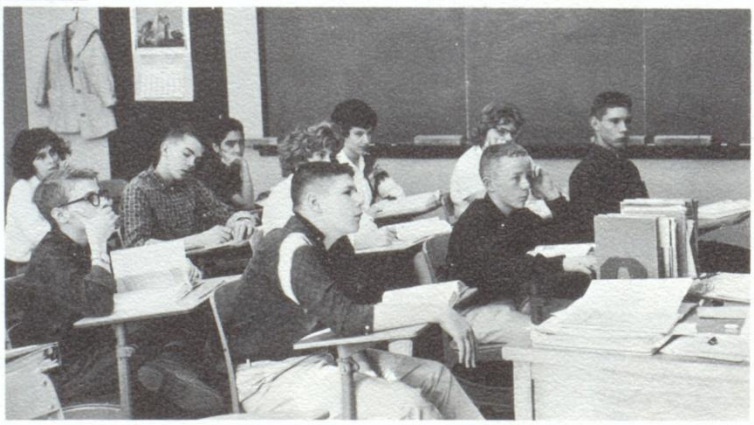

Laura Bolinger concentrates on her Algebra I.

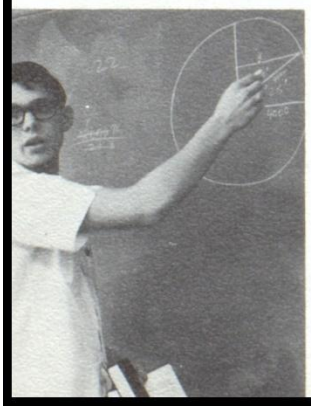

Upon entering B.H.S., the Freshmen Class is obligated to enroll in Algebra I or Related Math. Though this is the only year of required math, many students continue their study in this field.

Freshmen mathematics is under the direction of Miss Young while Mr. Schweers teaches the advanced classes which include Geometry, Algebra II, Solid Geometry, and Trigonometry.

In the picture at the left Lyle Baade, Mike Meier, Alden Amsberry, Glen Florian, Charles Gale, Mike Tomasini, and Roger Morse are among the students of the Solid and Trig. Class.

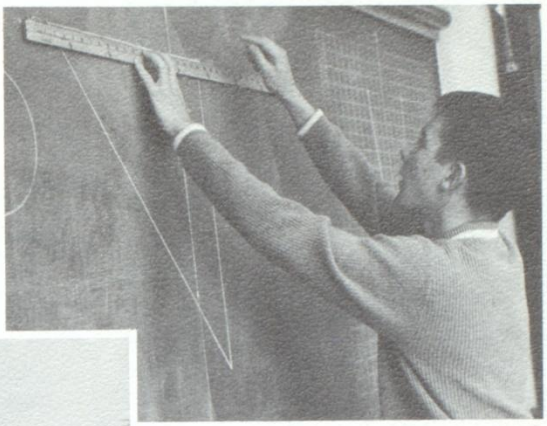

Students of the Related Math class listen attentively to Miss Young's instructions.

FEATURES NEW PROGRAM

Shown above, Mike Mitchell demonstrates accurate work on the board.

Miss Young, instructor of Algebra I and Related Math, plans her daily assignments.

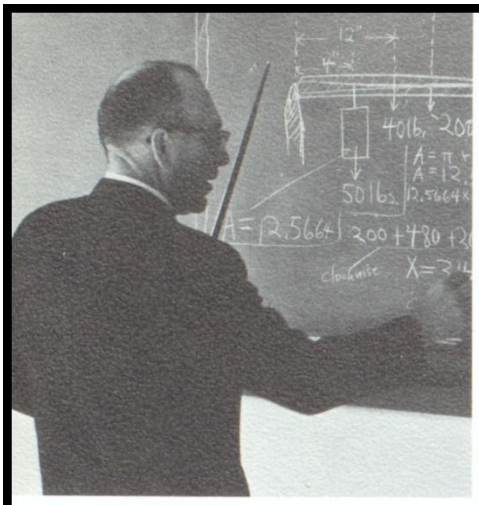

Mr. Schweers explains ways a cone may be cut.

FOUR SUBJECTS OFFERED

Mr. Mercer explains the theoretical and real mechanical advantages of the pulley and lever.

General Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics are taught in the Science department at Brush High School. Mr. Franklin Mercer teaches classes in all four fields. Mr. Mark Richards, Mr. Joe Edson, and Mr. Al Hawthorne complete the science department instructors.

Four science credits are required of all students in order to graduate. Freshmen are offered only General Science, but Sophomores can take either General Science or Biology.

Juniors and Seniors have their choice between Chemistry and Physics.

At left: Individual as well as group study is a daily part of science class work.

Above: Members of the physics class watch attentively as Mr. Mercer and Charles Gale demonstrate television operation.

BY SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Lectures, demonstrations, and diagrams prove to be an essential part of Mr. Edson's, Mr. Richards', and Mr. Hawthorne's classes.

Rosemary Schomerus and Marcia Maupin concentrate on the material being presented.

Marty Guzman, Barbara Foos, Sharon Hook, Dian Defenbaugh, Linda Christensen, and Hazel Northrup dissect frogs and other small animals in an attempt to understand circulation, digestion, and respiration. Members of the class also draw pictures of the phases of dissection.

LANGUAGE

Above, students in 5th period Latin I class are shown hard at work.

As interest in foreign languages increased, a new teacher was added to the Brush High School language staff. Mrs. Queen taught two classes of Spanish I while Mrs. Bloom was in charge of Spanish II and III and Latin I and II classes. Mrs. Staby instructed one class of German I.

In addition to teaching the languages, the instructors tried to acquaint the students with the people of the countries in which the languages were spoken. This was accomplished by teaching the native customs, history, and geography.

At right, 3rd period German class is in session.

Second period Spanish II students listen attentively to Mrs. Bloom.

INTEREST RISES

Aside from the regular books, tapes were used as a language lab, enabling the students to hear, as well as read, the language.

Mrs. Queen was added to the language staff and taught two classes of Spanish.

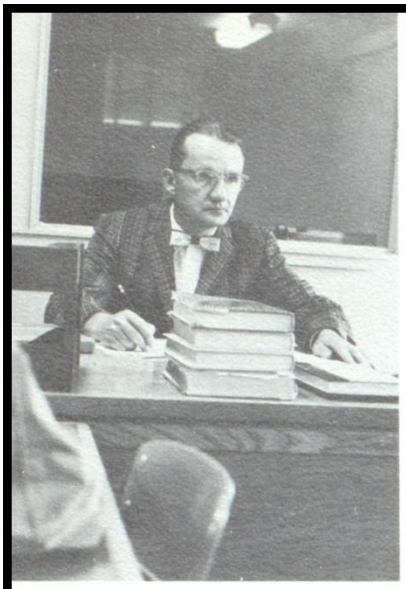

Mrs. Bloom taught five language classes during the 1963-64 school year.

At left, Clarice Herbst studies Spanish I.

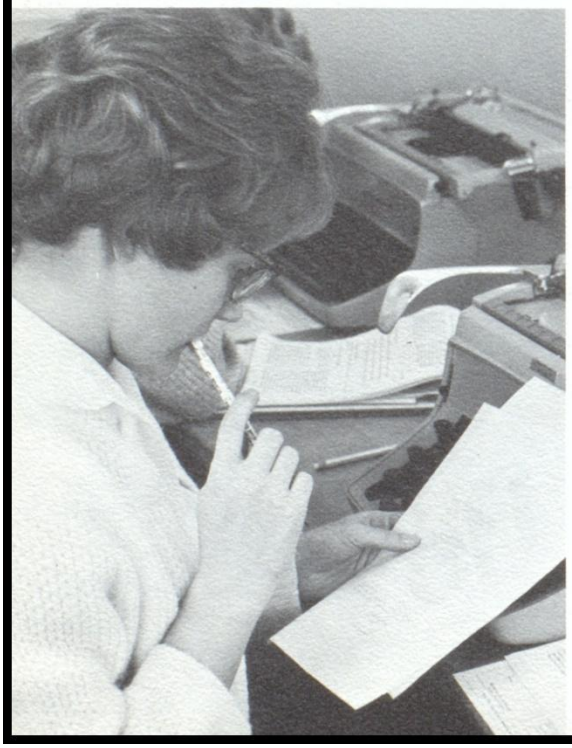

Mr. Mitchell teaches clerical practice, shorthand, bookkeeping, and typing.

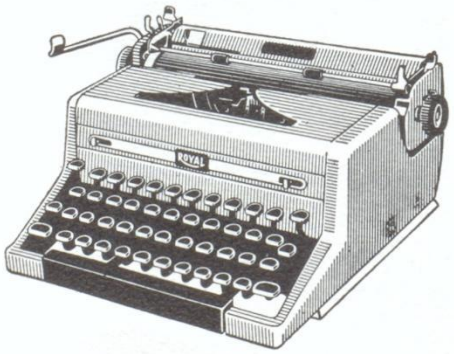

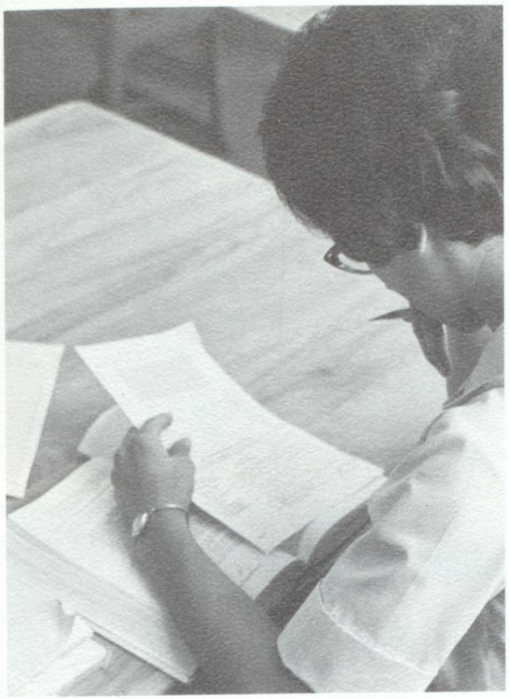

Mr. Mitchell instructs the third period bookkeeping class on interest and rate problems.

CLERICAL PRACTICE ADDED TO

Angelica Hansch proofreads a business letter which was given as one of the various typing assignments.

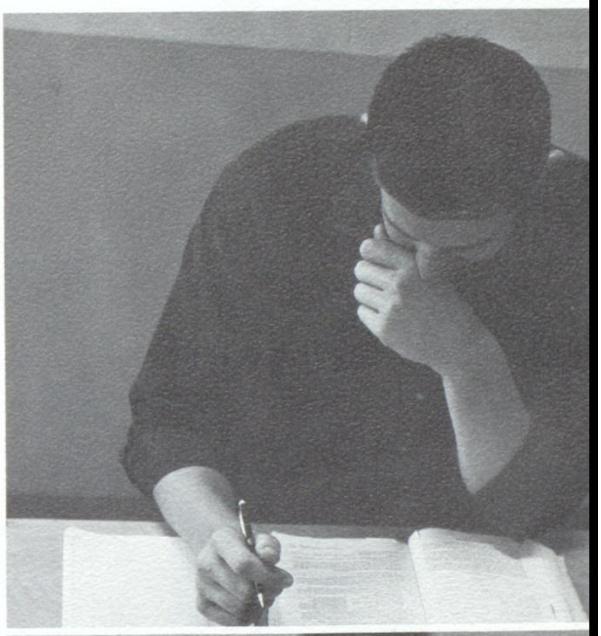

At left: Ruthie Bostrom checks her bookkeeping materials. They were part of a practice set of books.

Below: Tom Wolfe ponders over some bookkeeping problems. By working on practice problems, the students learn the principles of keeping ledgers.

Karen Opp corrects an error on her typing paper.

BUSINESS COURSE

Business courses in BHS included typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, and clerical practice.

Typing was divided into three classes. The students taking typing numbered seventy-seven. In typing, the students learned a valuable skill, as well as how to construct themes and manuscripts.

Bookkeeping was divided into two classes, with forty-six students in both classes. The students in bookkeeping learned how to keep a set of books and how to fill out financial reports.

Twenty students made up one class of shorthand, this year. Students in shorthand I learned the principles and fundamentals of shorthand.

Clerical practice was the new course which was introduced this year. Six students made up the class of clerical practice. In clerical practice, the students learned advanced typing, filing, calculating, how to use the adding machine, and office procedure.

Left: Linda King whips up a bowl of batter.

HOME ECONOMICS PREPARES HOMEMAKERS OF TOMORROW

Teaching home economics this year was Mrs. Martha Staby. In her classes, Mrs. Staby teaches the students in various fields. These different fields include: food and nutrition; clothing, which includes sewing, cutting out patterns, and studying materials; child care; home furnishings; home management; health and safety; and family relations.

Left: After the meal Marilyn Norwood washes the dishes.

Left: Ag II students and instructor, Mr. Mark Richards, work on a motor and learn how to set points properly.

Mr. Mark Richards, instructor for Ag I, II, and III, checks to see the livestock prices.

AG NUMBERS 35

Below: Don Osborn shows the proper techniques used when sawing a board.

Under the direction of Mr. Mark Richards, the Ag classes are taught by the motto, "Learning by Doing." The students learn in class and then apply this knowledge in farming experience.

In Ag I they learn about livestock, in Ag II the students learn about the different crops, and in Ag III they go into the actual farm management and apply what was learned in the previous classes.

SHOP CLASSES EMPHASIZE MECHANICAL DRAWING

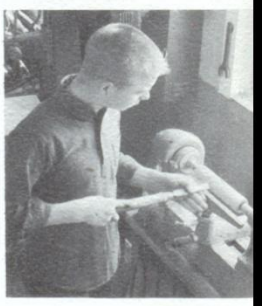

The industrial arts class, under the supervision of Mr. Eric Wendt, consists of two main areas: shop and mechanical drawing. The class starts out with three weeks in the drawing room. This is where the students learn the basic requirements in mechincal drawing. During the next three weeks, the time is devoted to the shop. Here the students learn woodworking. They get to choose a project and build it.

The class alternates every three weeks so the ag classes get to use the shop also.

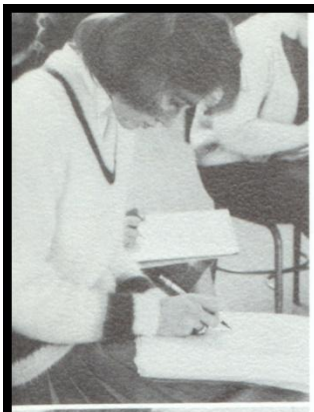

This class is open to all students, boys and girls. Each year more and more girls enroll.

If the student wishes to advance more in this field, he may take it for four years. This subject is required if a person were to enter the field of engineering.

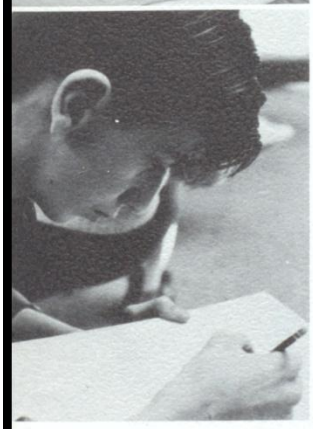

In addition to these main fields, they learn blueprint reading, woodworking, and household repairs.

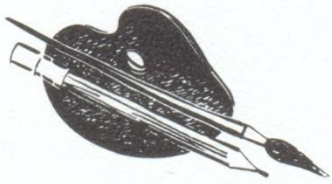

MRS. BASS HEADS 40TH. YEAR AT BHS

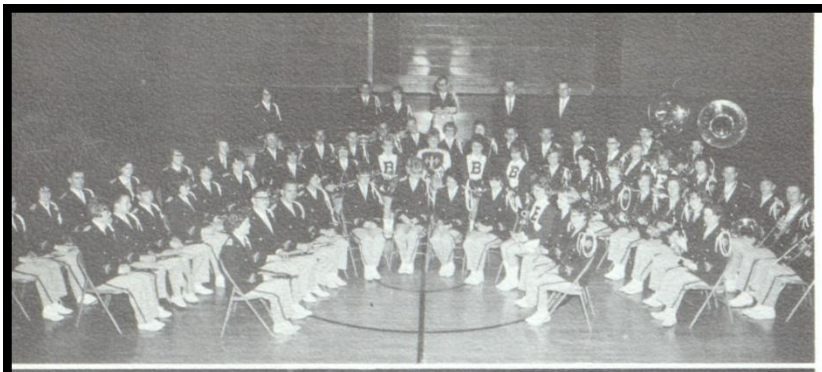

The art classes of 1963-64, under the supervision of Mrs. Bass, started out with texture, designing, landscape drawing, water color painting, leather crafts, life drawing, portrait drawing and pastels.

In addition to the different areas, the classes learn how to figure balance and color. They learn to find the right texture, dominant objects, and other important basic skills of art.

The band, shown at left, made approximately 35 to 40 public appearances during the school year of 1963-64. Among these were three concerts and halftime entertainment for all home football games. The band also performed at many pep rallies and basketball games.

Members of the band journeyed to Denver for the state basketball tournament in March and participated in Band Day at Colorado State University in October. The Brush band received a 1 (excellent) rating at Band Day.

Officers of the band were Nancy Stephen, president; Chuck Gale, vice-president; and Ellen Andersen, secretary-treasurer.

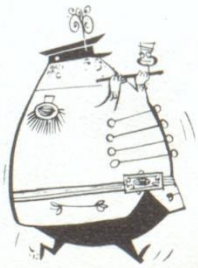

The orchestra, shown above, consisted of 35 musicians from the grade and high schools. It met extra-curricularly on Monday evenings throughout the school year and performed at the fall, winter, and spring concerts.

MUSIC DEPART OFFERS VARIED PRO

The swing band, shown above, was made up of fifteen members of the regular band.

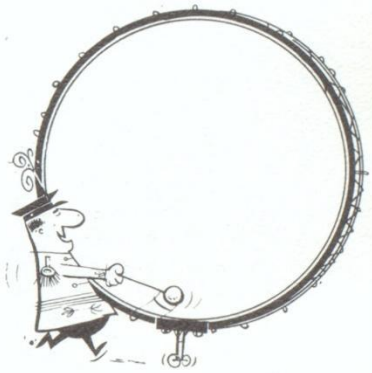

At left, Mr. Hinton directs the band during a practice session.

GRAM

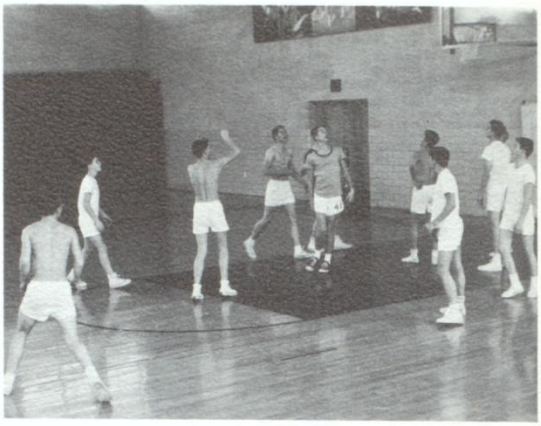

Vocal music, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Woolley, consisted of a class choir and a concert choir. The concert choir, shown at right, was composed of interested students from the class choir and from the student body at large.

P.E. OFFERS PHYSICAL FITNESS

David Johnson attempts to hit the volleyball over the net as Adam Blum watches.

Dean Giauque shoots while Sid Davis and Jerry Strauch go after the rebound.

Girls' and boys' P.E. classes were under the instruction of Mrs. Woolley and Coach Hawthorne.

Boys' classes have participated in many of the major and minor sports, football, basketball, track, tennis, and baseball. Physical education tests are given throughout the year.

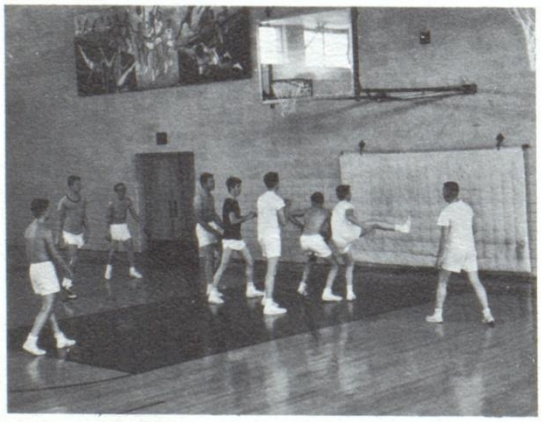

Sherrill Bostron helps Carol Miller off the floor.

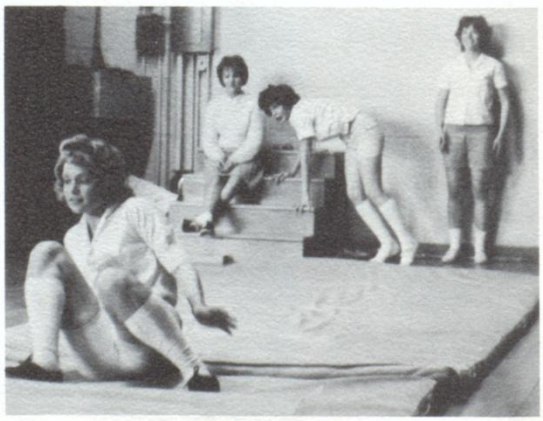

Girls' taking Physical Education this year took part in a volleyball tournament at the first of the year. They have also participated in basketball, tennis, softball, and Yoga exercises.

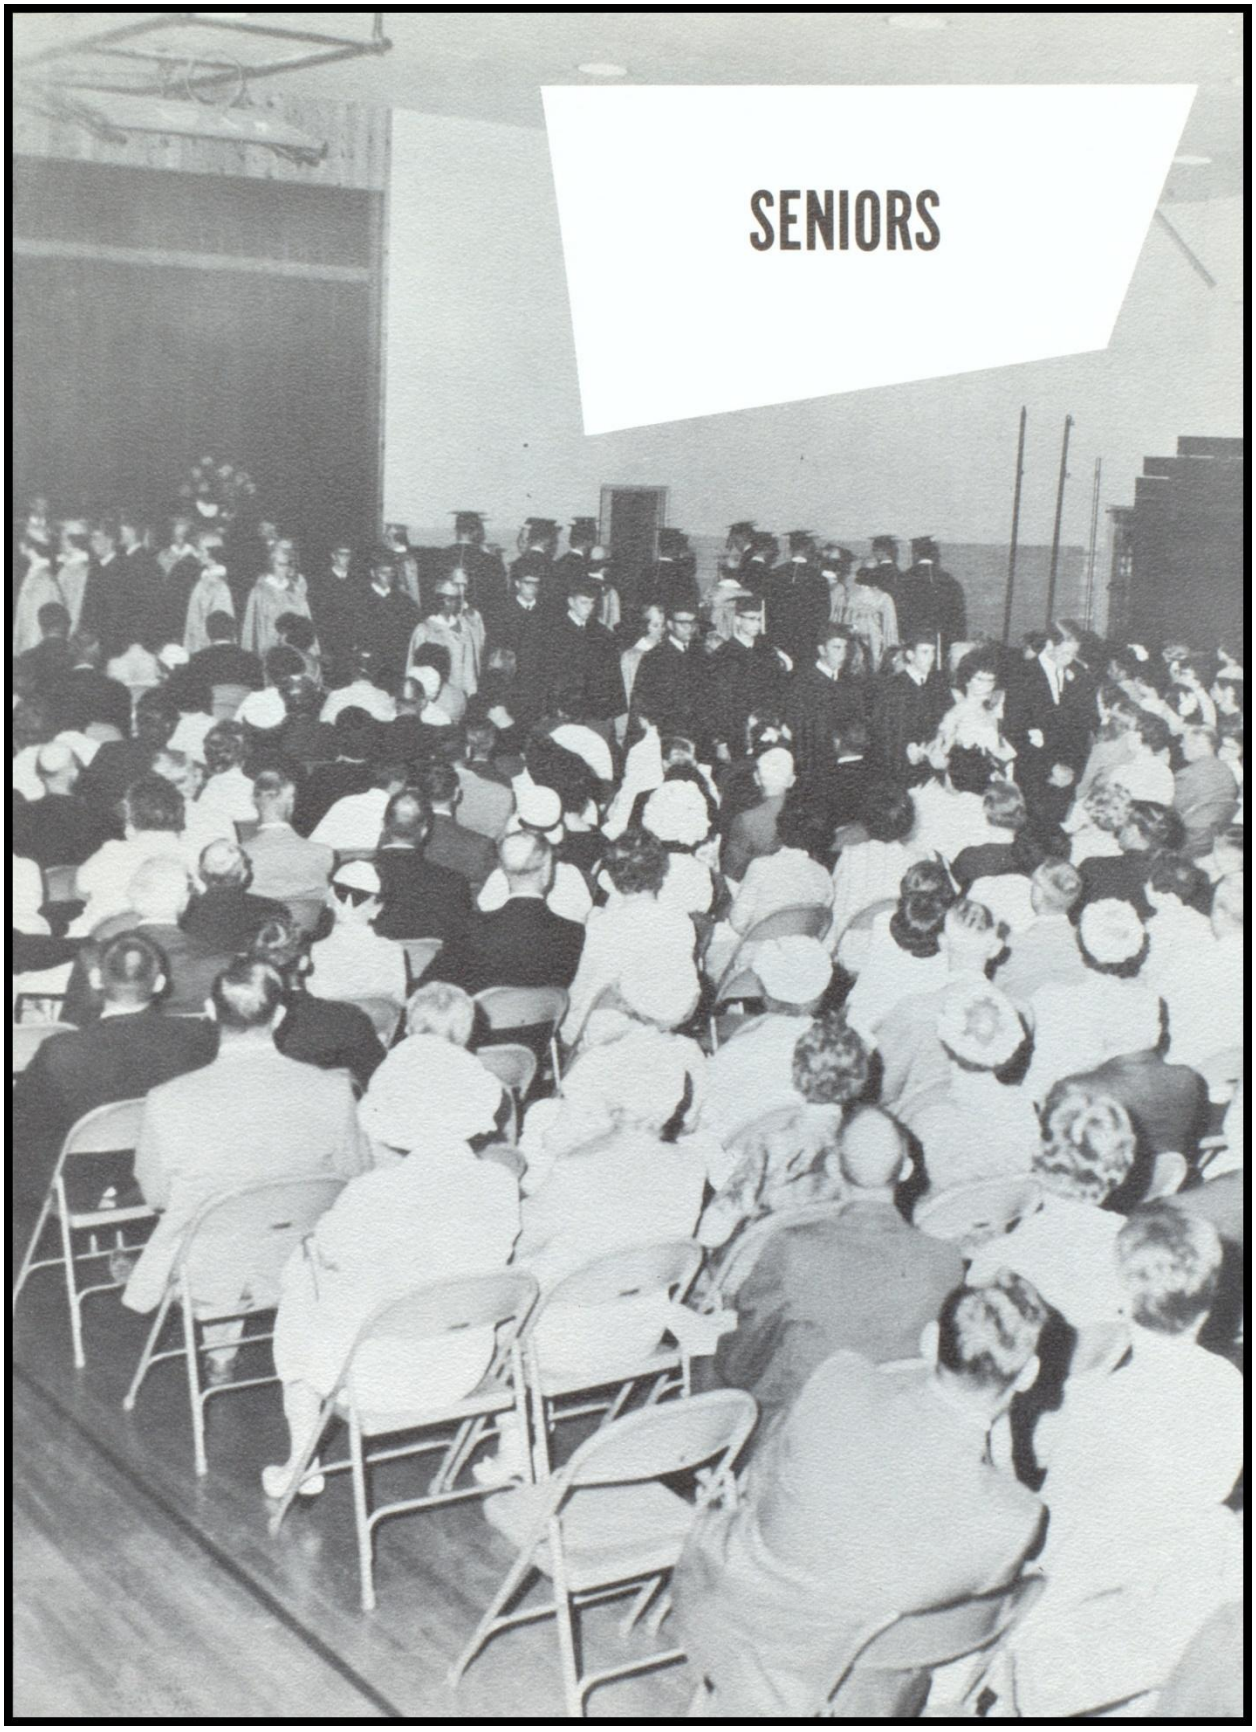

Students attending B.H.S. are required to take one year of P.E. during their four years at high school.

Harold Sharp hauls down a rebound in P.E. class.

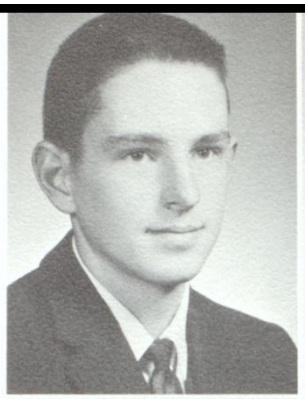

Janice Sullivan finds out that tumbling doesn't mean staying on your feet.

After electing officers at their first meeting, the 82 juniors commenced work on the year's projects. To earn money for the annual prom, they sold candy, operated the football concession stand, and hosted after-game dances.

For the second successive year, the class won first place with their homecoming float. Their theme was "Autumn Air 'em Out."

Twenty members of the class took part in the Junior Class Play, "All in the Family." It concerned a family containing a genius.

Juniors also received their traditional class rings.

The sophomore class of '66 held its first meeting September 20. At that time officers were elected and homecoming was discussed.

Don Osborn was elected president. Also elected were Art Rieser, vice president; Mike Morgan, secretary; and Tom Harbert, treasurer.

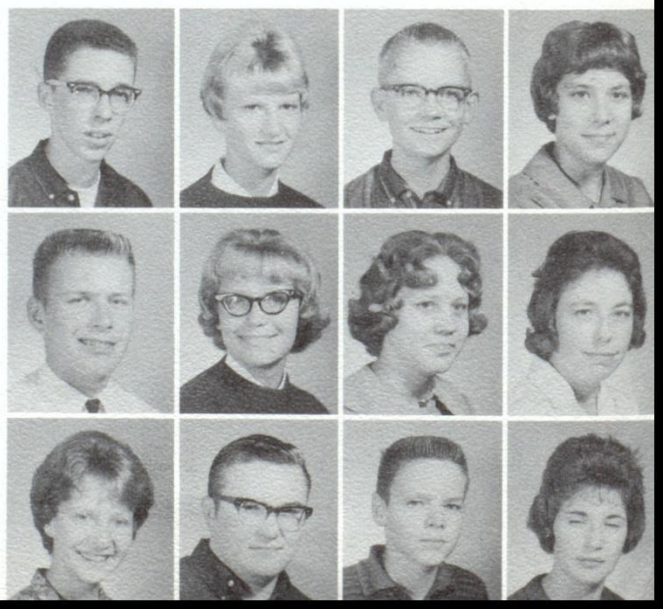

The homecoming committee chose "Easy As Pie" for the theme of the float. It took second place in the competition.

With 24% of the enrollment of Brush High School, the class of '66 claims 27% of the club membership. This includes B-Club, 30%; Pep Club, 26%; F.H.A., 22%; F.F.A. and I.R. Club, 28%; Radio Club, 36%; and Student Council, 29%.

30% of the boys lettering in football were sophomores as were 45% of the boys going out for basketball.

The class of '66 has the honor of being the first group of sophomores admitted to F.T.A. Prior to this year only juniors and seniors were admitted to this club.

With Mr. Kahle and Mr. Wendt as sponsors, the class had a successful year.

The class of '67, under the sponsorship of Miss Walters and Mr. Woolley, elected George Sears as their president on September 9, 1963. The other officers included Marilyn Tomlinson, who was chosen as vice-president, and Karen Opp, who was elected as secretary-treasurer.

The main duty of the freshman class, numbering 105, was to assemble firewood and make a dummy for the Homecoming bonfire. Also, the freshman entered a float, which took third place in the Homecoming parade.

Class dues were set at $1.50, and a concession and a dance were planned as money-making class projects.

BRUSH TAKES SECOND IN LEAGUE

Brush High School's basketball team finished out a good season with 18 wins and 4 losses. Brush came in second in the Tri-Valley League while Eaton placed first. Eaton took the Class A trophy away from Yuma. Brush was able to receive the Class A consolation trophy by defeating Castle Rock by a score of 74 to 47. Mike Swinson was placed on the Class A All-State team.

The Diggers were able to score 1431 points during the season. Larry Skinner was the high rebounder with 158, while Mike Swinson was the high scorer with 394 points, making an average of 17.9 points per game. The best field goal shooter was Larry Skinner who had 96 with an average of 57 per cent. The leading free throw shooter was Art Rieser, scoring 73 with a 68 per cent average.

The most points scored by one player in a single game was Larry Skinner with 31 points against Windsor. The most points scored by Brush in one game was 93 against Bear Creek. The Diggers were able to defeat every team in the Tri-Valley league in the first round, but lost to College High, Eaton, and Windsor in the second round.

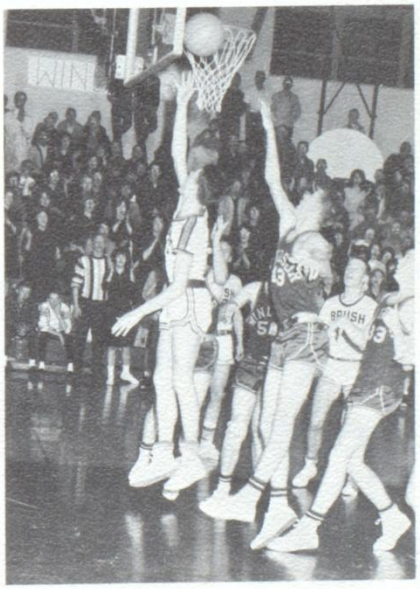

Art Rieser shows fine form as he scores two points against the Yuma Indians.

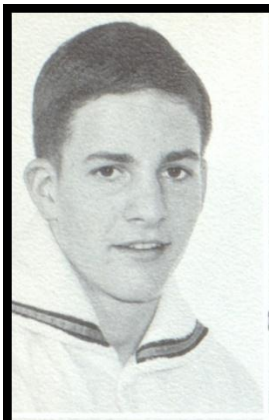

The "B" squad was able to come up with 13 wins and 5 losses during the season. Curtis Clark led the "B" squad in points with 193 and in rebounds with 164. The total points scored during the season were 1011.

This has been one of Brush's best seasons for wrestling in many years.

The wrestlers took second at district competition against eight towns. District tourney took place at Yuma on February 8, 1964. Wray placed first with Brush following and Yuma third. Margrito Ybarra took first place which qualified him for the state tournaments. Next, Dale Hall wrestled and took third place and was permitted to challenge for second and won. John Olson took fourth place. Following was Vic Fiscus placing third who challenged and lost.

Mike Tomasini retained his heavyweight crown in the State Wrestling Tournament which was held on February 13th through the 15th. Mike wrestled Bryan Manhum and pinned him 1 minute and 53 seconds. In Mike's second match he decisioned Jim Carver 9 to 2, and in the semi-finals Mike decisioned Jack Monks of Limon in the finals by a referee's decisions.

Margrito Ybarra wrestled and won his first match. Margrito lost his second match, however. Dale Hall was pinned his first match. Larry Hall also lost his first match. Fred Mercer won his first match but was defeated in the quarter-finals. Stan Grippin was decisioned as was Dennis Bostron in their first match. All but Tomasini failed to place.

Brush's track team placed third at the district track meet which was held at Eaton.

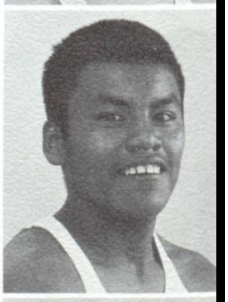

Mike Tomasini, Tom Sachs, Mike Morgan, and Fred Mercer were the trackmen that qualified to go to the state track meet.

Mike Tomasini threw the shot and discus at state; he placed first and set new records in both events. Tom Sachs qualified for the state track meet in the broadjump and low hurdles but failed to place.

Mike Morgan qualified in the 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash. He placed fifth in the 220 yard dash at state. Fred Mercer went to state in the shot put but failed to place.

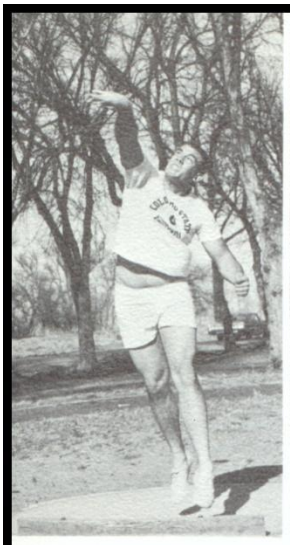

Although College High was first at the district track meet and Lafayette second, Brush's team members that went to state accumulated more points than the College High and Lafayette track teams managed to do.

Brush ended the 1964 baseball season with two wins and three losses of league play. The Diggers were able to defeat Eaton in the first league game, but were unable to win the next three games with Fort Lupton, College High, and Valley High. In the last game of the season with the Weld Central Rebels, Brush won with a score of 6-2.

John Krien, at the end of the season, led in hits with a total of six. He was followed by Amsberry with five hits, Chandler and Boyles with four each.

Don Alexander pitched five games and won two, while Ed Loose pitched one and lost one. Gladwin Beyer hurled one and won another.

ACTIVITIES

HOMECOMING HIGH-

Snake dance, parade, and the assembly downtown were first on the Homecoming list of activities. Diane Olson and Jamie Drahota were chairmen of making the dummy for the bonfire.

The parade consisted of floats from clubs, classes and teachers, both high school and grade school bands, and the marching Pep Club.

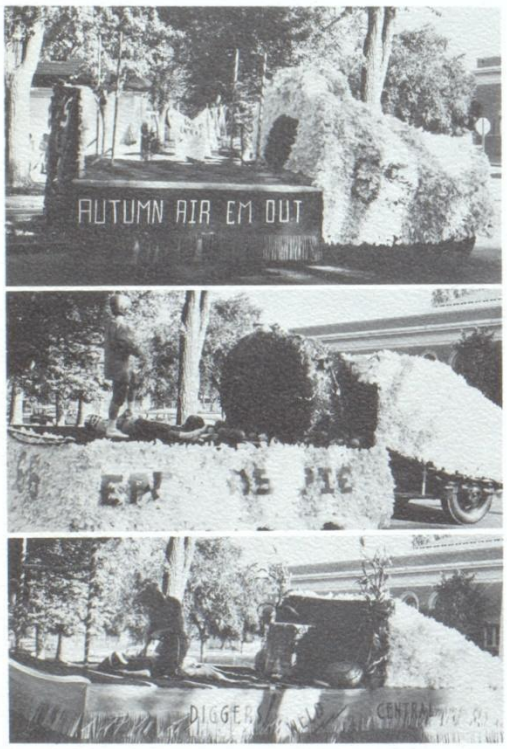

Beetdiggers played host to the Weld Central Rebels that evening and continued their undefeated winning streak on the home field with the ending score 23-19.

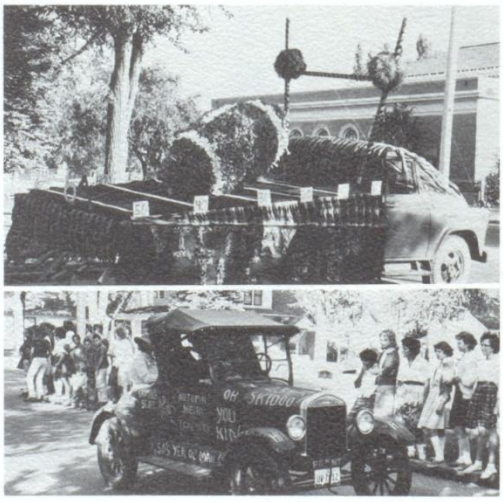

Robin Wankelman shows her school spirit by yelling for the Beetdiggers at the bonfire on the night of the snake dance.

John Staby portrays the Homecoming Queen in the pep skit given by the Thespian group.

Cheerleaders: Ruthie Bostrom and Harriett Morgan. Officers: Coleen Gade, Bonnie Herrmann, and Jeanie Watrous lead the Pep Club downtown for the afternoon assembly.

At the right students of B.H.S. enjoy the music by the Checkmates at the Homecoming dance after the game.

During half time, Captain Vic Fiscus crowned cheerleader Lynn Reynolds Homecoming Queen on the playing field. At the dance the theme "Autumn Airs" was carried out with leaves and autumn colors. Student body President Mike Swinson crowned Lynn with the traditional kiss during the dance intermission.

Cheryl Grose and Adam Blum are among those having fun at the Prom.

Stairway to the Stars was the theme chosen by the Junior Class for the 1964 Prom. Jean Watrous, chairman of the decoration committee, turned the rec-room into a fairyland of ice-blue and silver. Decorations were done with blue and silver streamers fastened from the ceiling and cage-like spheres with suspending stars. The throne was emphasized by a large painted stairway. Others on her committee were Merrie Wankelman and Marianne Palmer.

Chairman of other committees included Donna Pabst, Band; Shari Ulenhopp, Queen; Phyllis Vodenhal, Punch Table; and Vic Garber, Theme.

Marianne Palmer works earnestly to finish the decorations on time in the upper picture while sponsors Miss Young and Mr. Schantz (lower) look on. Decorations included blue and white streamers.

A good time was had by all parties concerned.

Mothers Council served punch at the prom. On the table was a bouquet of blue and white carnations with a globe in the middle and a stairway leading up to it.

Bonnie Bassett, Mike Meier, Carolyn Brown, and John Staby socialize in between numbers.

I.R. CLUB HOLDS PARTY

Among all the activities throughout the year in I.R. Club, there is usually a banquet at the end of the school year. This year the club decided to hold a party instead.

An informal installation of the officers was held after everyone was present. The new officers include Jean Murrow, President; Julianne Neilson, Vice-President; Billie Jo Shawcross, Secretary; and Linda McDaniel, Treasurer. The program for the evening was a scavenger hunt.

Music was provided by record collections of various members of the club. Club members socialize in the above pictures.

Food for the party included sandwiches, pop, potato chips with dips, and candy. A cake was made for the occasion. It was decorated in blue and white with a globe resting in the center of the cake.

As the party continues, Bonnie Bassett and John Staby exchange jokes.

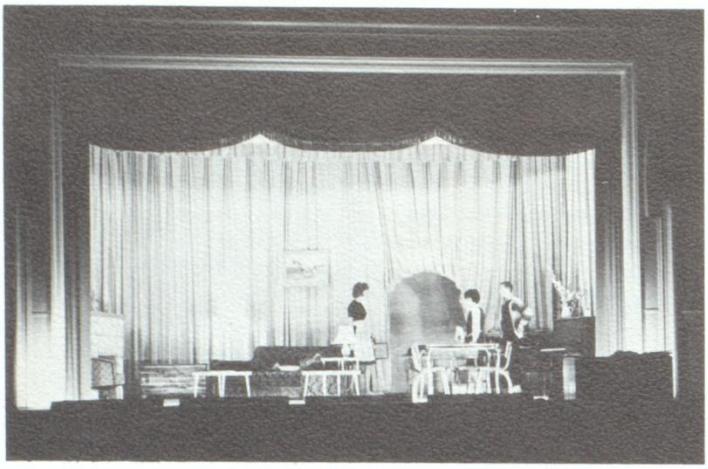

Mr. Kahle samples each chip dip.

JUNIORS

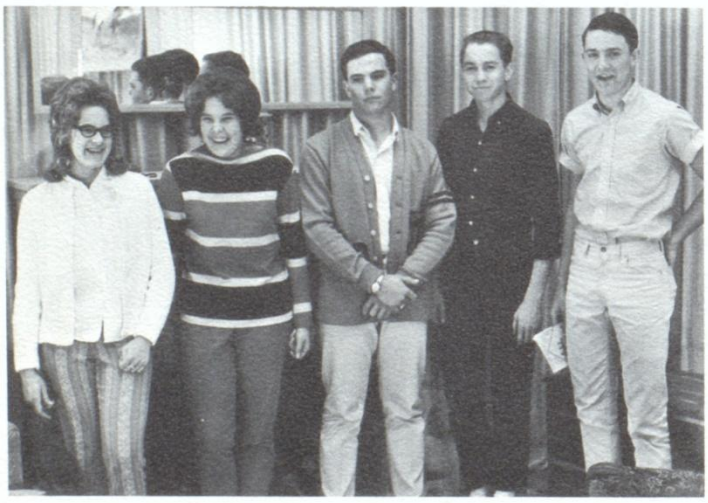

Thirteen juniors made up the cast.

"All In The Family," presented November 8, by the Class of '65, was a family comedy in which George, the teenaged son of the Miller family, decided efforts needed to be taken to draw the family together again after they had been separated by involvement in modern American social life.

All social events for the following evening were cancelled and the Millers held an old-fashioned night at home. Failure seemed imminent when this evening of togetherness brought only anger and hurt feelings, but things unexpectedly turned to the better and soon the family seemed well on the way to unity.

Assisting production were Lynn Bailey, prompter; Merrie Wankelman, properties; Dennis Bostron and John Krien, stage crew; and Tim Chandler, Sound Effects.

Members of the Miller family were George, played by Gene Swopes, Fred, played by Barney Livengood, Martha, played by Ellen Anderson, and Doris, played by Shari Uhlenhopp. Also shown is Doris's boy friend, Biff Sweitzer, played by Terry Drahota.

THESPIANS

The students visit with each other during the dance, each trying to be as ridiculous as possible.

The Stuck Pot, presented by the Brush High School Thespian Troupe, was held in the Central School Auditorium April 9 and 10.

Mrs. Eleise Bloom directed the play; Mary Ann Callen was business manager; Rosemary Schomerus was publicity manager; and Merrie Wankleman and Ellen Anderson were property managers.

Holding leads were Julianne Nielsen, Lynn Bailey, Terry Drahota, Karen Opp, Kathy von Riesen, Shari Uhlenhopp, Lynn Reynolds, Joel Sears, Bonnie Herrmann, Jean Watrous, Barney Livengood, and Curtis Clark.

Dancers were Bonnie Whitney, Sharilyn Kittleman, Patricia Lebsock, Carolyn Brown, Ellen Andersen, Diana Nickum, Merrie Wankleman, Donna Pabst, Marilyn Tomlinson, Cynthia von Riesen, Gene Swopes, Tom Harbert, Kenny Wagers, Mike Mitchell, Lyle Baade, Jerry Graves, Dean Giauque, Dale Osborn, and John Bloom.

The play was a comedy set in Worthington Women's Academy where a dance was held to which boys from a neighboring academy were invited. The resultant problems made up the situations from which the play's action derived.

SENIORS PRESENT NATIVITY PROGRAM

Twenty-six seniors under the direction of Mrs. Eleise Bloom and Miss Lorraine Young composed the cast and drew for the Nativity which was held on December 17. The last production of this particular Nativity was held in 1958. Try outs for the narrators were held on November 18 and 19, and Mrs. Bloom chose the cast from the remainder of the Senior Class. All seniors willing to participate signed a list and were given parts of jobs by the directors. Three narrators did the voices of Mary, Joseph, and Gabriel, while there was one master narrator to read the introductions. All of the voices were taped and the parts were pantomimed by the actors. The narrators were Lynn Reynolds, Lilas Opp, John Staby, and Lyle Baade. Members of the stage crew were: Emmett Miller, Lawrence Gentry, Harley Sullivan, Terry Bane, Mike Meier, Chuck Gale, Judy Scott, Rosie Schomerus, Diana Nickum and Mary Ann Callen.

CINERAMA TRIP

In observance of National Future Farmers of America Week, the Brush Chapter of FFA traveled to Denver to attend the Cooper Theatre.

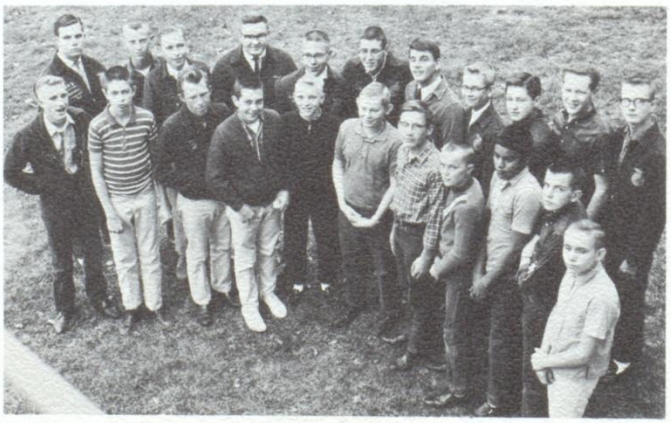

Sponsor;
Mr. Mark Richards

During May, the FFA members attended three livestock shows. Six members traveled to Kersey for the Platte Valley FFA Show. These members returned with eleven ribbons. Two reserve championships and two grand championships as well as sixteen ribbons were won at the Illif Show. Six ribbons and three trophies came from Fort Morgan.

Members for the year were: D. Bostron, S. Grooms, D. Tuttle, L. Wade, L. Vickers, D. Strauch, S. Grippin, J. Steyaert, S. Defenbaugh, D. Osborn, L. Johnson, B. Bass, D. Fuller, D. Axtell, J. Carlson, K. Crosthwait, J. Hunt, J. Pabst, S. Cook, P. Guzman, J. Woolridge, and F. Hunt.

Above are pictured the awards won at the livestock shows attended during the year.

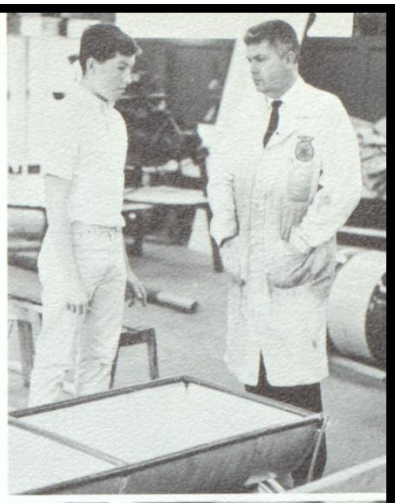

HIGHLIGHTS YEAR

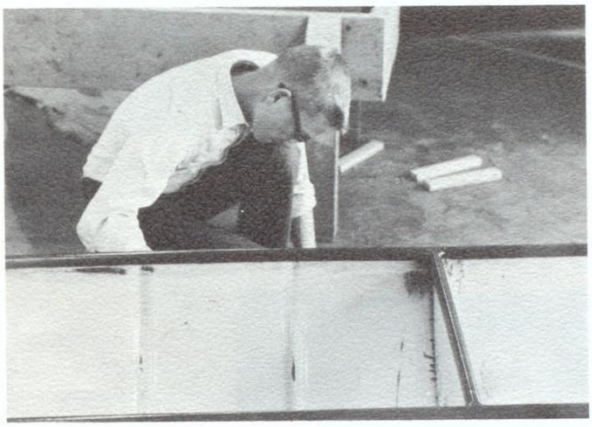

They saw the Cinerama film "How the West Was Won," and had a dinner in Denver.

Officers for the year were elected in May of 1963, and took office immediately after election. President elect was Stan Grippin; Vice-President, Larry Vickers; Secretary, Jim Steyaert; and Treasurer, Denny Bostron.

The slate of officers was rounded off with Larry Wade, Darwin Tuttle, and Bruce Bass as Sentinel, Reporter, and Photographer, respectively.

Jim Steyaert, Sonny Defenbaugh, and Jim Cook work on various shop projects which are required for the FFA members. Mr. Richards offers advice concerning the proposed plans.

FUTURE TEACHERS

Officers of FTA include: Cheryl Grose, Historian; Lyle Baade, President; Carolyn Brown, Treasurer; Nancy Leach, Secretary; and Diana Nickum, Vice-President.

Officers of the Future Teachers' Association at BHS for 1963-'64 are: President, Lyle Baade; Vice-President, Diana Nickum; Secretary, Nancy Leach; Treasurer, Carolyn Brown; and Historian, Cheryl Grose.

Sponsoring the FTA is Mr. Edward Neill. Students meet in room 27 every other Thursday for a business meeting.

Future Teachers of America members vary their meetings to contain programs such as speakers or film-strips on the teaching profession.

Qualities of and reasons for teaching are learned in this valuable club. Each senior in FTA teaches Mr. Neill's regular class for a half-hour.

Members of FTA include: Lyle Baade, Bonnie Bassett, Cheryl Grose, Cheryl Bostron, Carol Bramblett, Carolyn Brown, Cheryl Cade, Mary Ann Callen, Peggy County, Cathy Christensen, Chuck Gale, Shirley Gibson, Jerry Graves, Victor Garber, Bonnie Herman, Nancy Leach, Patricia Lebsock, Mike Morgan, Jean Murrow, Diana Nickum, Mary Ann Palmer, Judi Scott, Rosie Schomerus, Linda Schilling, Linda Stolte, Cynthia Von Riesen, Paula Waitman, Pat Brown.

THESPIANS PRODUCE ALL-SCHOOL PLAY

Thespians presented The Stuck Pot as the annual All School Play. The play was presented two nights which has never been done before. The Thespian Troupe 968 also attended the Drama Workshop at Greeley. Under the direction of and with help from Mrs. Bloom and the troupe, the seniors presented the Nativity and the Junior Class presented All in the Family. At the Thespian banquet, which was held on May 11, 1964, Lynn Reynolds, Carolyn Brown, Kathy Von Riesen, Mike Mitchell, and Diana Nickum were recognized as Honor Thespians.

Mike Mitchell and Kathy Von Riesen were voted Best Thespians by the Thespian Troupe at their annual banquet.

MODELERS LIVEN NOON HOUR

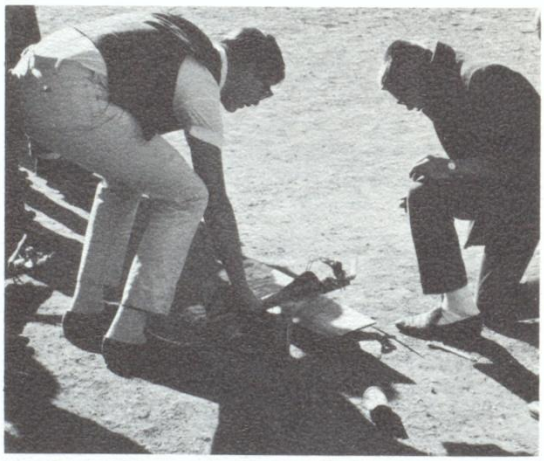

The 63-64 Airplane Club consisted mostly of freshmen and only a few upperclassmen.

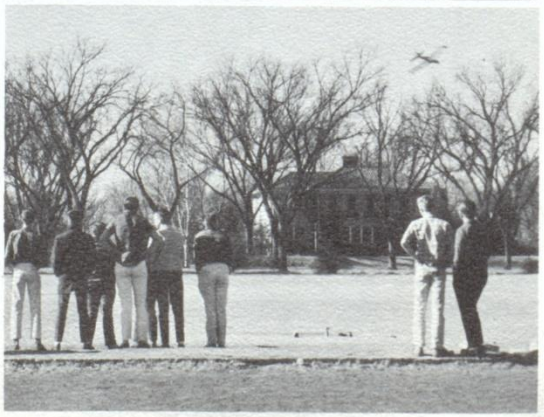

The club's usual meeting day is Tuesday, but is spent out doors or in the gym as are most of the days during the year.

The main purpose of the club is to create interest in aviation. This is done by each person constructing and flying the scale model planes. Mr. Frank Mercer is the sponsor.

F.H.A. PROVIDES TRAINING FOR FUTURE YEARS

Above: Mrs. Staby offers advice to Eileen Clark. Mrs. Staby was the club's sponsor.

Candy sales, numerous charitable activities, and the F.H.A. Stage Convention highlighted the year for the 16 members of the Future Homemakers of America.

During the noon hour for several weeks of the year, members of the club sold home baked candy as a money-making project.

The girls honored their mothers at a Mother-Daughter Banquet and completed several state and national projects. These included drop-out problems, marriage preparation, and helping the aged. They also made a donation to Care.

Four girls were chosen to attend the State F.H.A. Convention at Gunnison.

This year's members were Shari Newlin, Judy Walker, Casandra Deel, Jo Ann Hagen, Donna Conover, Hazel Vickers, Clarice Herbst, Eunice Duckworth, Eileen Clark, Betty Crouch, Dian Delong, and Ellen Ritchie. During the year they participated in numerous charitable activities.

MR. MERCER HEADS SAFETY CLUB

Members of Safety Club include: Top to bottom: C. Bollig, A. Amsberry, J. Staby, M. Mitchell, D. Wagers, P. Hulkovich, T. Sachs, M. Swinson, J. Boyles, A. Palmer, J. Sears, G. Florian, M. Meier, C. Gale, T. Wolfe, E. Loose, L. Baade, and E. Miller.

This year, the members of Mr. Mercer's physics class made up the Safety Club. The main purpose of Safety Club is to evacuate the school in time of emergency.

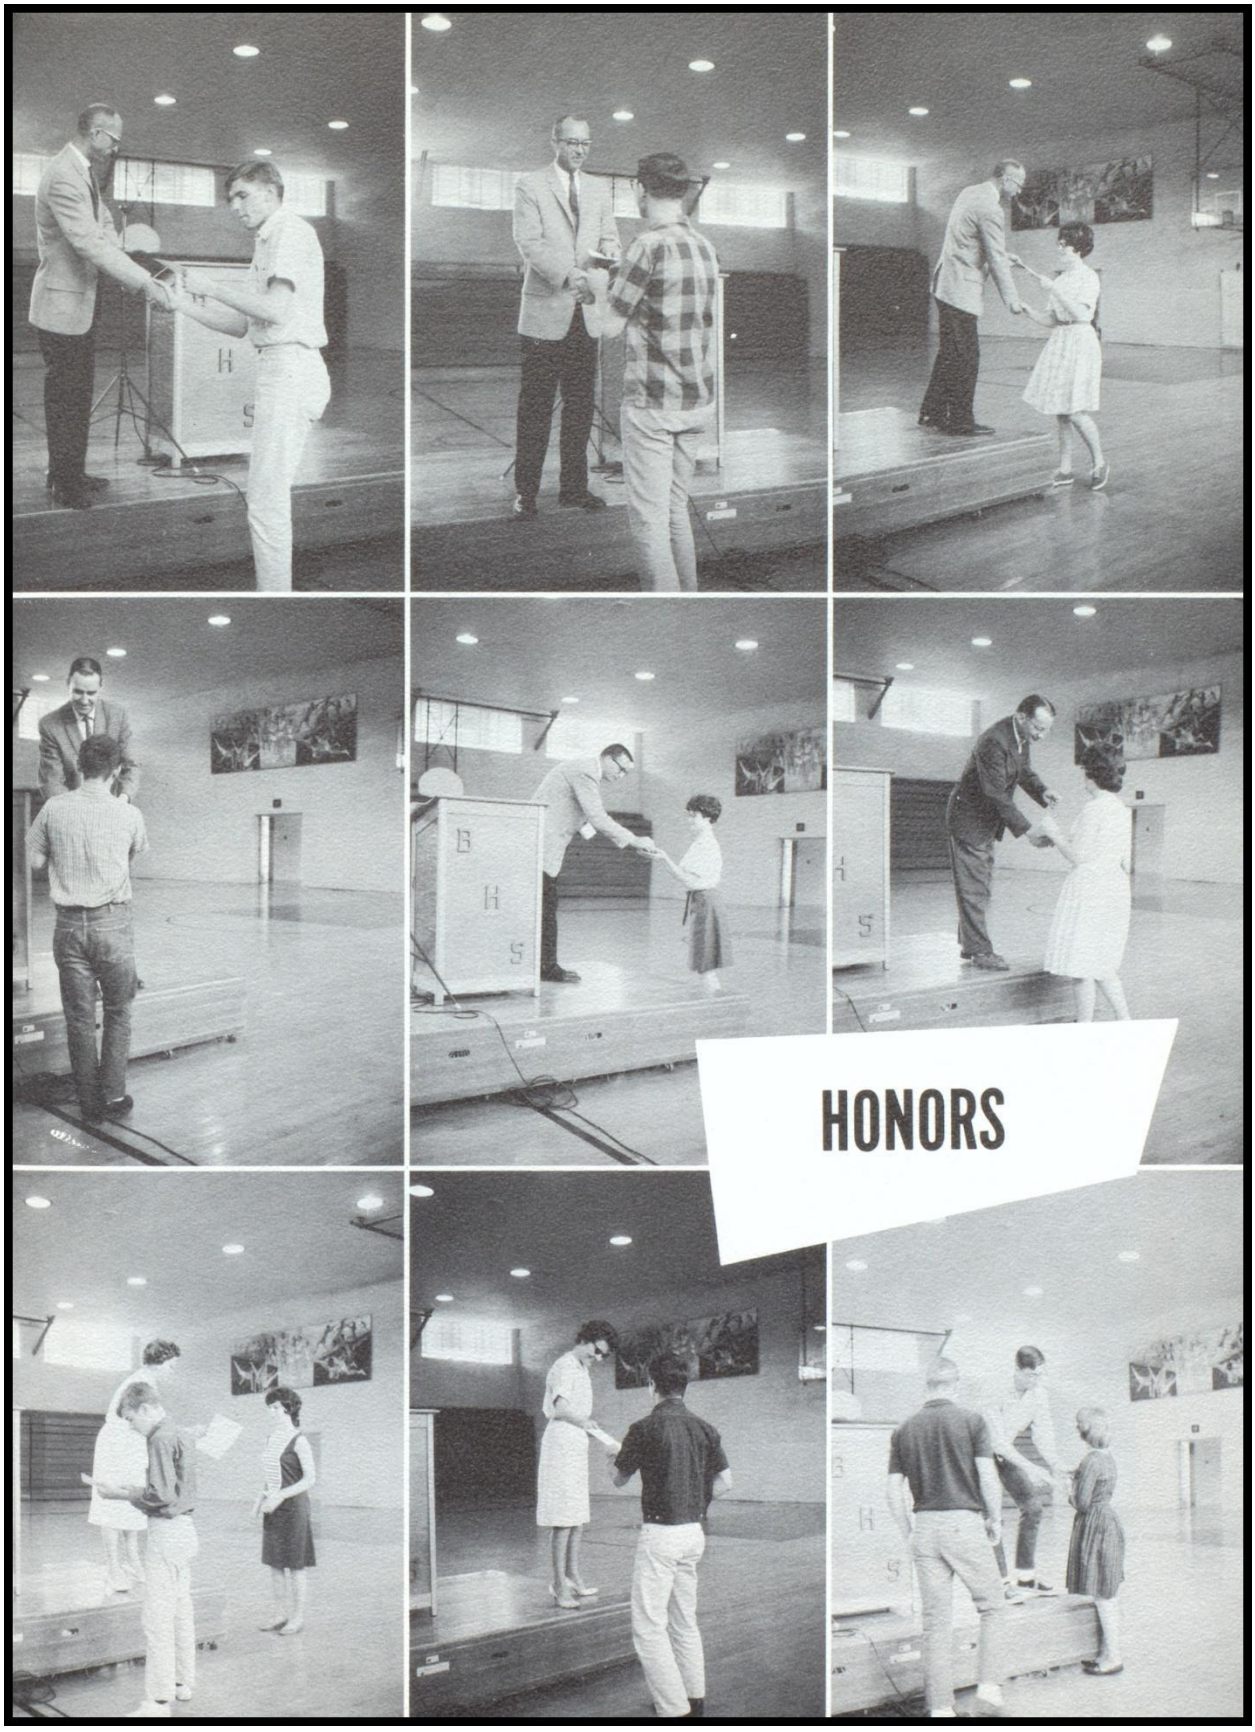

For practice, the Safety Club took part in three fire drills which turned out well. Each time there was a fire drill the members of the club rushed to their stations and managed to better their evacuation time each fire drill.

Although there are many fire precautions today, there is still a need for a well trained drill team.

COUNCIL NUMEROUS

Members of the Student Council were Terry Waitman, Kathy Von Riesen, Steve Cook, Tim White, and Don Osborn.

The Student Council, headed by Student Body President Mike Swinson, carried out numerous projects during the year. Included among these were the traditional projects of Homecoming, Students of the Month, the Christmas, and the honoring of the teachers during American Education Week.

Student Council officers were Mike Swinson, president, Larry Skinner, vice president, Patricia Lebsock, secretary, and Joel Sears, business manager.

PROMOTES PROJECTS

School photos, national assemblies, activity tickets, noon hour recreation, and the scheduling of dances and concessions were also handled by the Student Council.

As a special project this year, the Student Council made a statistics board for wrestling standings.

Delegates from the Brush Student Council attended three Tri-Valley League Student Council meetings, two Eastern District Council meetings, and one State Student Council meeting. Joel Sears, business manager of the local council, served as president of the Tri-Valley League Student Council.

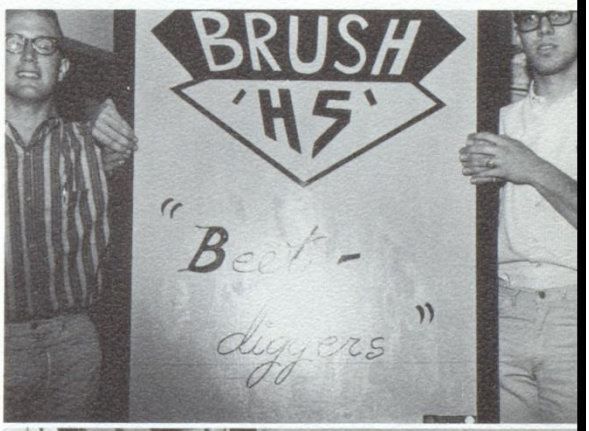

Pictured above are the members of the committee in charge of the wrestling statistics board.

ROYALTY REIGNS OVER

During the year, certain individuals are chosen to be honored as royalty by the student body or by representative groups of students.

Selection to one of these honors is among the highest respects which may be paid to a student by his classmates. It is indicative of the high esteem in which the person is held by his peers.

First to be so honored is the queen of the annual homecoming festivity. This event usually takes place in October and the queen is chosen by members of the Football team.

The high school boy so honored is known as Mr. Beetdigger and is tapped at the annual Sweetheart Dance by members of the Pep Club.

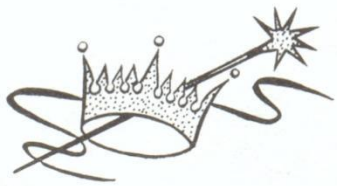

Final royalty for the year is chosen at the Junior-Senior Prom. This Queen is selected by members of the Junior class.

Herewith the Sagebrush '64 presents the three most highly honored members of the class of 1964.

As climax to this year's prom, Kathy Von Riesen was crowned as Prom Queen. She was elected by the Class of '65 to reign over the annual affair on May 2. Competition for the title is limited to seniors only. Kathy was previously Homecoming attendant to Lynn Reynolds. Her attendants as Prom Queen were Lilas Opp, senior attendant, and Ruthie Bostrom, junior attendant.

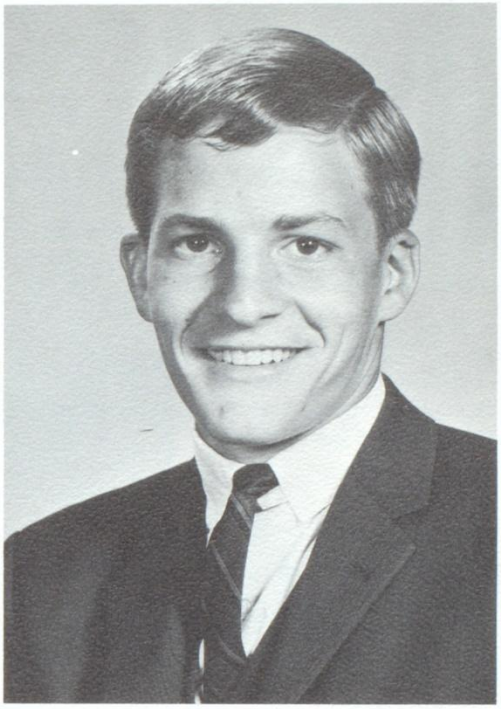

FESTIVE HIGHLIGHTS

After being voted upon by the members of the Pep Club, Mike Swinson was crowned Mr. Beetdigger at the annual Sweetheart Dance, February 22.

Eligibility for Mr. Beetdigger is limited to only those boys who have participated in some field of athletics. The person who is chosen must have characteristics of leadership, sportsmanship, and personality.

For the second year, attendants were elected. Mike's attendants were Mike Tomasini and Vic Fiscus.

MIKE SWINSON

LYNN REYNOLDS

Lynn Reynolds was elected Homecoming Queen this year by the members of the football team. She was first announced as Queen during half-time at the Homecoming game by the team's captain Vic Fiscus.

She was formally crowned by the student body president Mike Swinson. Kathy Von Riesen and Lilas Opp, as attendants, composed the remainder of Lynn's court.

"FINISHED, YET BEGINNING" IS SENIOR CLASS MOTTO.

Ninety-nine freshmen entered Brush High School in the fall of 1960. At their first class meeting, sponsored by Mr. David Autry and Miss Hildred Walters, the class elected Leslie Loose as president, Diana Richards as vice-president, and Mike Swinson as secretary-treasurer. The freshmen performed the regular duty of gathering wood for the Homecoming bon-fire and they also made the dummy for the fire. The "Diggers" won the Homecoming Game by a score of 14-7.

At the beginning of their sophomore year the class of "64" boasted seventy-two members. They were sponsored by Mr. Thomas Woolley and Mr. Eric Wendt. The elected officers were Mike Swinson, president, Leslie Loose, vice-president, Lyle Baade, secretary, and Joel Sears, treasurer.

Junior Class officers were Mike Tomasini, Charles Gale, Nancy Stephen, and Lynn Reynolds. Four sponsors, Miss Lorraine Young, Mr. Leland Schantz, Mr. Don Price, and Mr. Mark Richards, led the class in their decisions. The highlights of the year were the receiving of the class rings and the sponsoring of the Junior-Senior Prom. The prom, which was held on May 12, was decorated to the theme of "Camelot."

When the class finally reached the status of "SENIORS" they chose two girls and two boys as their officers. These officers were: Charles Gale, president, Lyle Baade, vice-president, Kathy Von Riesen, secretary, and Lynn Reynolds, treasurer. Mrs. Jane Van Dyke and Mr. Paul Stimson, the sponsors, helped the class to plan for commencement. The class selected gold bronze and ivy green as their colors and a gold bronze mum as their class flower. The girls were robed in the gold, the boys in the green, while the tassels were the two colors combined.

ANNUAL SADIE HAWKINS WEEK

Student body president Mike Swinson introduces Auctioneer Mitchell at the slave auction.

Students of BHS amuse themselves.

Mr. Mitchell annually tries to get a higher price for the worthless senior boys.

Students leave the auditorium after a successful bargaining session.

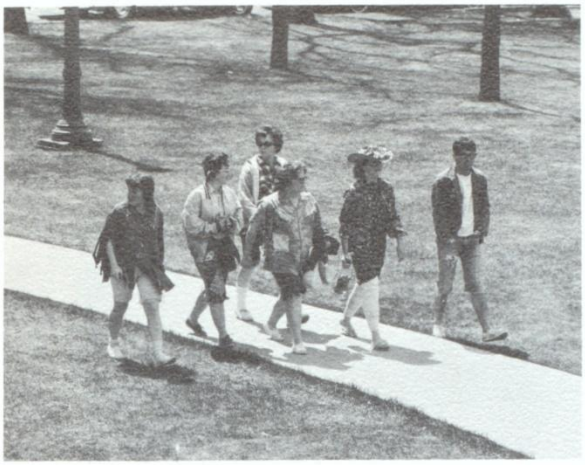

Slaves and their owners leave for their afternoon's duties.

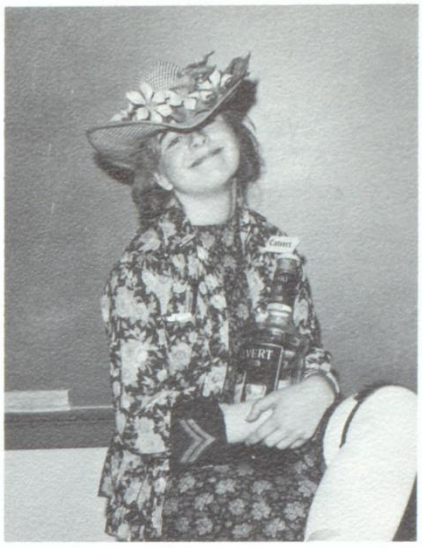

Student Council clerks for the auction, Diana Nickum and Sharon Hook, collected money from the anxious purchasers.

CELEBRATED AT BRUSH HIGH

Girls and boys alike managed to look their patchiest for the annual affair.

Wise Paula Waitman came well prepared for the grueling school day.

Bleached hair, wagons, and weird hats were the mode for all.

Water guns kept the noon hour lively in the hands of excellent marksmen.

Sadie Hawkins Week, a traditional event at BHS, was carried out to a great extent this year. The week began with the slave auction in which the senior boys were sold for a fifty cent limit. Rag Day and the customary Sadie Hawkins dance completed the successful week.

Elaine Baade was crowned Daisy Mae and Tom Wolfe was crowned Li'l Abner at the Friday night dance.

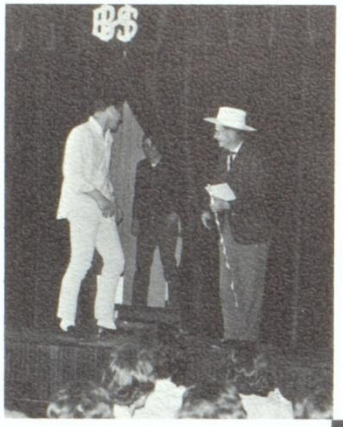

Sid Davis and Art Rieser didn't look ragged, but managed more than their share of mischief.

STUDENTS ENJOY RAG

Rag Day, held on Friday, May 18, brought many new outfits to Brush High School. New types of transportation also appeared.

Classes were held as usual, but with a little extra commotion.

Jerry Graves gives a reassuring look to Don Strauch.

Betty Hoxworth dashes to her next class.

Jamie Drahota and Diane Olson found a new type of transportation for school.

Tracking it out in first?

Rag Day showed many students' inner selves.

DAY FESTIVITIES

The Sadie Hawkins Dance was carried out in traditional style. Students danced and were served refreshments by the mothers council.

Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae were crowned during intermission.

Students amused themselves between dances.

Dancing occupied most of the students' time at the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Typical Rag Day attire was in evidence at the dance.

Students enjoy themselves in various ways at the dance.

Elaine Baade and Tom Wolfe were crowned Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner by Mr. Tomlinson.

ELECTION HELD

Tim Chandler prays for victory as Paula Waitman gives a campaign speech.

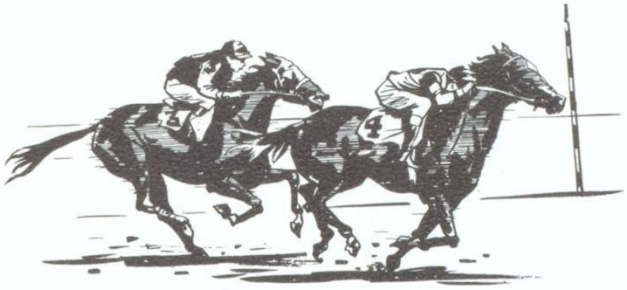

Curtis gives Barney a helping hand with his poster.

RACE
APRIL 23

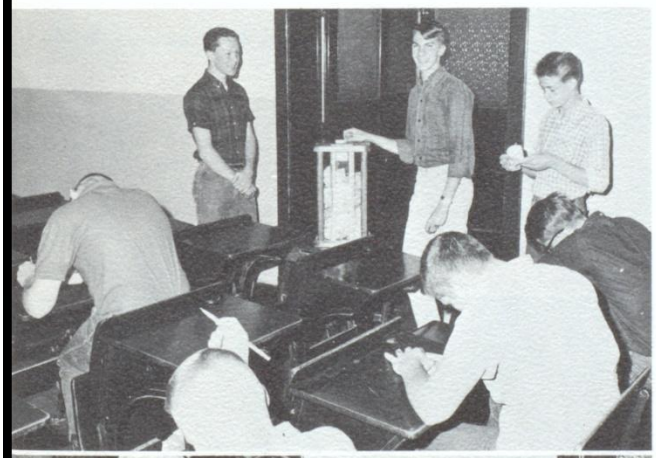

Terry Drahota was elected president of student council for the 1964-1965 school year. There was a tie and a re-vote between Jean Watrous and Curtis Clark for vice-president, with Curtis victorious. Barney Livengood won the race for business manager and Karen Opp came in first for secretary.

New Student Council Officers

For the first time at Brush High, the speech class gave the campaign speeches. Sixteen members of the class were assigned candidates to speak for.

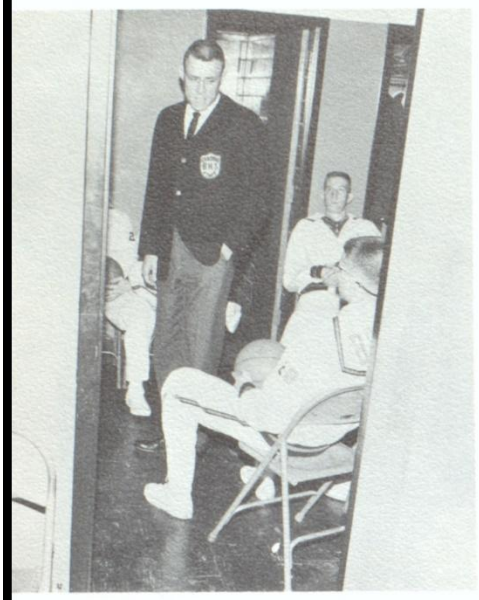

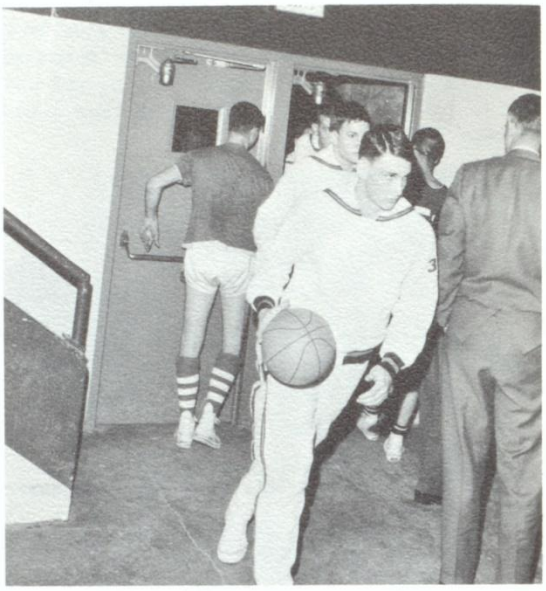

Other candidates for student council president were Tim Chandler, Larry Skinner, and Dean Giauque. Jean Watrous, Robert Guzman, and Ellen Andersen competed for the vice-presidential position. Running for business manager were Bonnie Herrmann, Pat Lebsock, and Kenny Wagers, Angelica Hansch, Elaine Baade, and Carolyn Herrmann ran for secretary.

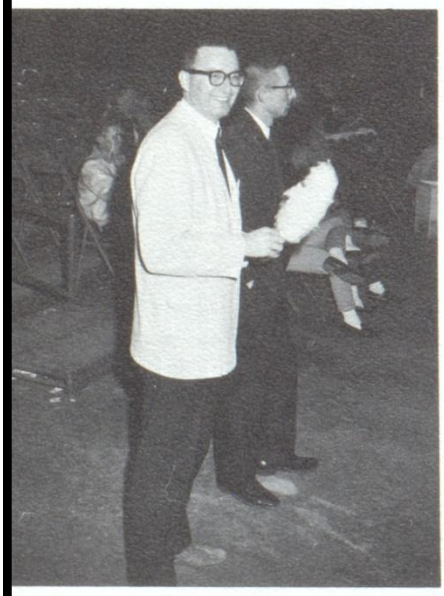

BRUSH TAKES

Coach Joe Edson briefs the team before the first game with Highland.

Larry Skinner leads the Diggers on to the court for the first game.

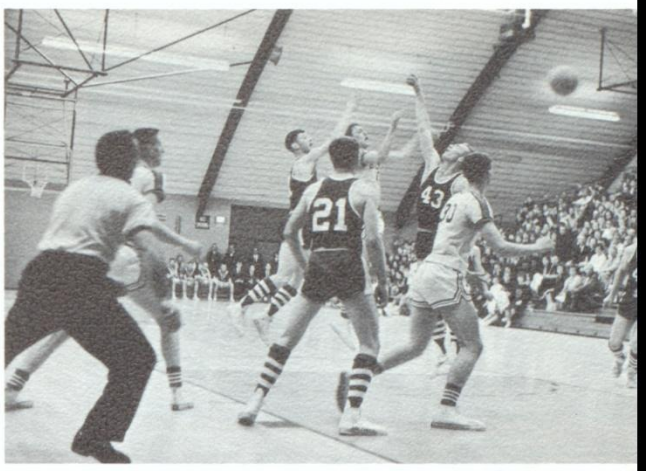

Mr. Hinton enjoying his favorite, "cotton candy."

Pep club and Band members cheer the Diggers on.

THIRD AT STATE

Action is fast as both teams scramble for possession of the ball.

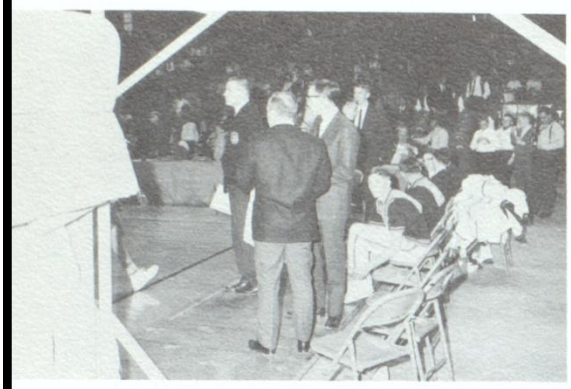

Mr. Price directs the band before the start of the game between Brush and Fruita.

The starting five look on as the rest of the team scores a victory over Fruita.

Coach Edson calls the Diggers in for a time out to re-arrange their strategy.

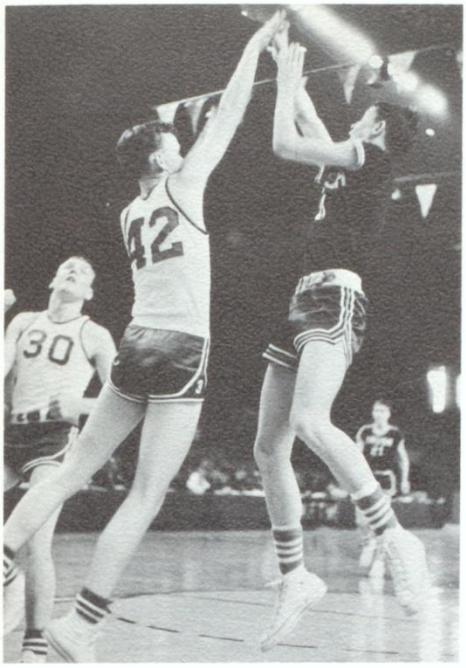

Tom Wolfe and the rest of the team pay close attention to Coach's remarks.

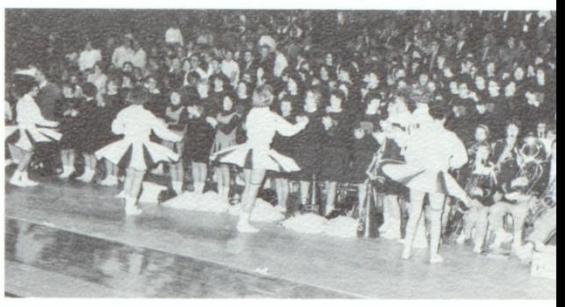

The pep club and cheerleaders cheer wildly as ...

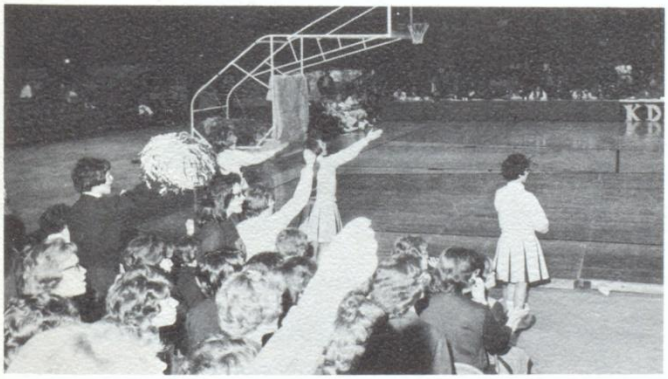

... Mike Swinson makes the lay-up.

Tim Chandler sinks a jump-shot as Mike Swinson follows up for the rebound.

Pep club, band and the spectators show their support for the Diggers.

Ruthie Bostrom remains calm as a decision is given by the referees.

The only bad injury of the game was on Tom Wolfe, who is shown getting stitches from Dr. Price.
